

MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to be an outstanding teaching and research university, educating for life and addressing the challenges facing our society.

Educating for life means that our educational process must provide:

- * a foundation of skills, knowledge and versatility that will last a lifetime, despite a changing environment;
- * research-based teaching and learning;
- * critical inquiry in the form of the search for new knowledge and better understanding; and
- * an active developmental role in our cultural, economic, political, scientific and social environment.

Addressing the challenges facing our society means that we must come to terms with our past, be cognisant of the present, and plan for the future. In this, it is central to our mission that we:

- * recognise our location in Africa and our historical context;
- * claim our place in the international community of scholars;
- * strive to transcend the legacy of apartheid in South Africa and to overcome all forms of gender and other oppressive discrimination;
- * be flexible on access, active in redress, and rigorous on success;
- * promote equal opportunity and the full development of human potential;
- * strive for inter-disciplinary and inter-institutional collaboration and synergy; and
- * value and promote the contribution that all our members make to realising our mission.

To equip people with lifelong skills we must and will:

- * promote the love of learning, the skill of solving problems, and the spirit of critical inquiry and research; and
- * take excellence as the benchmark for all we do.

We are committed to academic freedom, critical scholarship, rational and creative thought, and free inquiry. It is part of our mission to ensure that these ideals live; this necessarily requires a dynamic process of finding the balance in a range of choices: choices between freedom and responsibility, rights and obligations, autonomy and accountability, transparency and efficiency, and permanence and transience; and of doing this through consultation and debate.

UCT Values

The University is a community of scholars, students and staff. A community implies the shared acceptance by its members of common values. The concept of values implies not only rights but also obligations, for the community itself and for its individual members.

This Statement of Values provides a framework that informs and governs what is considered by the University community to be appropriate and acceptable behaviour. The Statement also serves as the foundation for a range of University policies and guides the management of particular aspects of University life.

As a value-based community, we aspire to an encompassing ethos which:

- Promotes academic excellence and the attainment of the institutional goal of becoming a world-class African University.
- Preserves what is valuable in the history of the institution and of this country, and responds to the challenges posed by past injustices and unfair discrimination.
- Achieves social transformation, empowerment and participative governance.
- Affirms and protects the fundamental human rights enshrined in the Constitution.
- Encourages the institution and all its members to accept responsibility for the welfare of the community and for behaving in accordance with these community values.

Values:

We commit ourselves to:

- Truth, fairness, consistency, and integrity in both academic and other work, and in all personal and institutional relationships.
- Compassion, generosity and concern for the needs and aspirations of others, and in particular for the challenges faced by the less privileged in our society.
- Respect and tolerance for cultural, religious, political, and other differences and acknowledge of the value of diversity in society.
- Respect for individual privacy, dignity, and the right to personal choice.
- Intellectual honesty, vigour in debate, openness to alternative ideas and respect for other views, beliefs and opinions.
- Commitment to high standards, personal fulfillment and the pursuit of excellence.
- The protection and responsible use of the University's assets and resources.

Actions:

In the context of our recent history, we recognize the importance of affirming this ethos and promoting these shared values. Accordingly, we undertake collectively and individually:

- To promote and protect academic freedom.
- To oppose and take steps to prevent racial, gender or other forms of unfair discrimination, harassment, violence or abuse.
- To actively promote social justice and equity.
- To nurture a culture of learning which is supportive of students, scholars and teachers.
- To refrain from speech or conduct that demeans or humiliates others.
- To encourage our members to enjoy life, to laugh to love, to appreciate and take full advantage of the wealth of opportunities available to us in academic endeavour, in making friends, and in social, cultural and sporting activity.
- To advance the principle of open governance and to be fully accountable for our actions, decisions, and the stewardship of the University's resources and mission.
- To nurture and empower our members.

The University has made every effort to ensure the accuracy of the information in our handbooks. However, we reserve the right at any time, if circumstances dictate, to

- (i) make alterations or changes to any of the published details of the opportunities on offer; or
- (ii) add to or withdraw any of the opportunities on offer.

Our students are given every assurance that changes to opportunities will only be made under compelling circumstances and students will be fully informed as soon as possible.

RULES FOR DEGREES, DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES

General rules on Application, Admission and Readmission, Registration and Examinations

These rules must be read together with Faculty rules.

University rules

- G1.1 No error or statement in the registration or application form or other document or communication, written or oral, will entitle a student to claim exemption from University statutes, regulations or rules, except where exemption is provided for in the rules and is granted by Senate or Council or both.
- G1.2 University rules may be amended or reviewed at any time, and, unless otherwise stated, take effect from the date of approval.

Rules relating to application and internal transfers

- G2.1 The closing dates for the receipt by the Admissions Office of applications will be set annually by Senate. Applications must be submitted by the applicable date. closing dates for application
- G2.2 An undergraduate student who wishes to transfer:
- (a) to another faculty must submit a completed application form to the Admissions Office; transfers to another faculty
 - (b) within a department, or within a faculty, may be required to submit a completed application form to the Admissions Office, and should find out what he or she is required to do by asking his or her faculty officer. transfers within a faculty
- G2.3 The closing date for the receipt by the Admissions Office of an application from an undergraduate student who wishes to transfer:
- (a) to the Bachelor of Architectural Studies degree programme is 30 November of the previous year; closing dates for internal transfers
 - (b) to another faculty, is 31 January;
 - (c) to the same faculty, but a different programme, if this is required, is 31 January.

Rules relating to admission

- G3.1 (a) A candidate for the degree of bachelor must have obtained a matriculation certificate or have obtained a Senior Certificate endorsed to state that he or she has met the matriculation requirements or must have satisfied the conditions for exemption from the matriculation requirements and obtained a certificate to that effect. first bachelors degree: minimum requirement
- (b) Council and Senate may, in addition, prescribe, as a prerequisite for admission to any programme or course, the attaining of a specified standard in specified subjects at the matriculation or equivalent examination. (Where these have been prescribed, they are set out in the Admissions Policy.) admission to specific programmes/courses
- G3.2 A candidate for an undergraduate diploma or certificate must hold at least a Senior Certificate or some other qualification acceptable to the Senate. diploma or certificate

2 RULES FOR DEGREES

Restrictions on admission and readmission

- G4.1 Council:
- (a) may, in consultation with Senate, determine minimum requirements for readmission to study at the University; minimum requirements for re-registration
 - (b) may refuse readmission to a student who fails to satisfy such minimum requirements for readmission;
 - (c) has given authority to Senate to determine in particular cases that the period of registration for a student placed on academic probation by the Senate shall be one semester only; academic probation
 - (d) has authorised Senate to prescribe the minimum requirements for a student placed on academic probation.
- G4.2 Senate may refuse to admit a person as a candidate for a postgraduate degree if his or her academic attainments are, in its opinion, not adequate. admission to postgraduate study
- G4.3 Council may, in consultation with Senate, limit the number of students who may be permitted to register for specified programmes or courses and the manner of their selection; in which case Senate must select from the applicants those who shall be permitted to register for the programme or course. (Lists of programmes and courses for which limits have been set may be obtained from faculty offices.) specific programmes/courses

Rules relating to registration

- G5.1 Before starting his or her studies, a person must present himself or herself for registration by the faculty concerned. obligation to register
- In cases where a postgraduate student is required to revise and re-submit a dissertation or thesis, then such a student would again be under supervision, and must therefore once again register and pay fees. If minor corrections to the thesis are required, then re-registration is not required.

NOTES:

- (1) To be considered for graduation in December, an unregistered UCT finalist who is completing a course through another university is required to register before the relevant examiners' meeting in November. Failing this the student will be required to register at the start of the next academic year and submit the necessary official evidence of his or her course result with a view to graduating in June. graduation in December
- (2) Re-registration is not required of an honours, masters or doctoral student who completes his or her obligations early enough for his or her results to be available before the start of that academic year. If the student has not completed his or her obligations he or she is required to register for the ensuing academic year. re-registration of postgraduate students
- G5.2 Every student must register for one year of study or for such shorter period as the Council may in general or in a particular case determine. Except where a student needs only second semester courses, a student must register at the start of the academic year for all courses he or she plans to take in the academic year other than Winter and Summer Term courses. A student remains registered until he or she graduates or until the start of the next academic year, period of registration

- whichever occurs first.
- G5.3 A student may not, in the same academic year, register for more than one degree, diploma or certificate of the University, except in cases where the student has completed all the requirements for the award of one and wishes to register as a candidate for another, or where specific provision is made for this in the rules. registration for more than one qualification
- G5.4 Except by permission of Senate a student may not, in the same academic year, be registered as a student of another university. concurrent registration
- G6.1 A date will be set for registration for each undergraduate and honours programme, and a date may be set for registration for postgraduate candidates following a set programme. If this is done, a student must register on the set date. registration dates
- G6.2 A candidate for a postgraduate study programme must register not later than the Friday before the first term starts, but a person who is registering for the first time may be allowed to register later. If he or she registers after 1 May, he or she may not count the remainder of the year as part of the minimum prescribed period of study for the programme. postgraduate registration
- G6.3 Where a candidate has completed the work for a degree but the result is outstanding at the start of the next academic year, no subsequent re-registration is needed until the results are received, and then only if the result requires the student to revise and resubmit will re-registration be required (this is because the candidate is required to resume work under supervision). No re-registration is required to make minor corrections to the thesis or dissertation.
- G7 If the result of a supplementary or deferred examination is not available at the time a student is required to renew his or her registration, he or she must renew the registration on the assumption that he or she will pass the examination. If the student fails the examination and is required, or wishes to repeat the course concerned, he or she must submit a change of curriculum form to the faculty office within one week of the publication of the result. timing of supp or deferred exam results
- G8 A dean or a faculty manager, acting for the dean may, for good academic, medical or compassionate reasons, permit a person to register up to 7 days late. Only under exceptional circumstances will a person be permitted to register more than 7 days after the set date, and Deans may act on behalf of Senate in approving late registration in these cases. A person who fails to register on the set date and who is permitted by the academic administration or the dean to register late, must pay the prescribed late registration fee unless the fee is waived by the dean on the basis of a written application which proves good cause. A person may appeal against the decision of the dean not to waive the late registration fee, by written motivation to the officer appointed for this purpose.
late registration
- NOTE: Any application for a waiver of a late registration fee must be directed in the first instance to the Faculty Manager: Academic Administration in the faculty in which the student is or was registered, or to which he or she has applied. Where a student fails to register for the course before the end of the course retrospective registration is at the discretion of senate, which will require the payment of fees and a late registration penalty.*
- G9 A student is responsible for ensuring that all personal information on the student administration system is correct and current. changes to details

4 RULES FOR DEGREES

(Any change to this information must be made at once using the online self-service, or by informing the Faculty Manager: Academic Administration.)

Registration Cards

- G10 The registration card issued to each registered student: student cards
- (a) serves as a permit to attend lectures and practical classes and to use the University Library;
 - (b) must be produced for the purpose of identification at all University examinations;
(No other form of identification will be accepted)
 - (c) must be retained for the duration of the student's career at the University and shall be presented to the dean at Registration each year;
 - (d) must be produced to obtain official certificates of registration, e.g. for income tax purposes and travel concessions;
 - (e) if lost, may be replaced on payment of a prescribed fee where a student provides satisfactory evidence of the loss of the original;
 - (f) remains the property of the University;
 - (g) carries the student's photograph. (This image is stored electronically by the University, and may be made available to faculties and departments, and to residences, for class lists and similar purposes.)

Registration for a course in audit mode

- G11.1 Senate may allow a postgraduate student registered for a degree or diploma to audit a course where a clear case has been made by the programme convenor and supported by the dean, that the course is additional to the curriculum but a pre-requisite for the student to complete the programme successfully.
- G11.2 The fee for an audited course will be 50% of the regular course fee.
- G11.3 A student enrolled in audit mode will participate fully in the course, but will not be examined. A student who audits a course will have this reflected as ATT on his or her academic record.

Registration for non-degree purposes

- G12.1 Senate may permit a graduate, or a person who has appropriate qualifications or experience, or an undergraduate from another university wishing to spend one or more semesters at this university, to register as an occasional student. occasional students
- G12.2 Each occasional student must register for at least one course in every semester in which he or she is registered.
- G12.3 Each occasional student who is not a graduate shall obtain a matriculation certificate or exemption from matriculation requirements before registration. This requirement will be waived for any non SADC international student who does not wish to obtain credit and exemption for such course or courses he or she completes towards a degree at this or another South African university. *matriculation certificates/
international students*

Cancellation of registration

- G13.1 A student may cancel his or her registration by giving notice of this notice of

- in writing to the Registrar. Fee reductions are granted only if the cancellation occurs by the Friday of the third week of the course. cancellation
- G13.2 The Registrar may cancel the registration of a student at the end of the first term if the student has failed to make the initial payment of fees, or provide evidence acceptable to the university that a sponsor or bursary organisation will pay the fees for the year, by 15 May, fees to include student housing fees if the student in residence. Where a student who qualifies for financial aid but who has not been offered a package for the current year has not yet paid the initial amount (or if in residence, the initial amounts) due, by the end of the first quarter
- (i) the student will be sent a letter, copied to the fee-payer, warning him or her that his or her registration will be cancelled at the end of the term unless his or her initial amount (s) are paid, or he or she provides evidence acceptable to the university that a sponsor or bursary organisation will pay the fees for the year, by 15 May; and
 - (ii) the letter will include a statement that if he or she cancels his or her registration at the start of the second quarter (and, where applicable leaves residence before the start of the second quarter) his or her fees raised for the year, less R401, will be cancelled. (This cancellation applies only in these cases).

NOTE

- (1) A student may drop a course up to the end of the first week without charge.
- (2) A student who drops a course before the Friday of the third week of the course will be allowed a 50% reduction in the fee for that course.
- (3) No reduction in fees will be considered if a student withdraws from a course later than the third week of the course.(See Fee Rules in Handbook 12: Student Fees.)
A semester course dropped after the Friday of the third week but by the Friday of the sixth week will be removed from the student's academic record.
- (4) If a student fails to cancel his or her registration by the due date and does not take examinations in the courses for which he or she is registered, the academic record for these courses will be Absent (AB) or, in the case of courses for which a duly performed (DP) certificate for the course has been refused, DP Refused (DPR).

Rules relating to fees

- G14.1 A student may not renew his or her registration unless his or her fees for the preceding year or years have been paid in full. re-registration
- G14.2 A student whose fees are not paid by the due dates, and who has not produced evidence of receipt of a bursary/scholarship/loan may be excluded from attendance at classes or from a residence or student housing unit unless satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Fee Manager for the payment of all fees. exclusion from classes or residence
- G14.3 Students must check their fee accounts on a regular basis. (This is especially important before the year's end. Various charges, including library and traffic fines, student health charges and residence damage costs, may be debited to fee accounts towards the end of the year.) checking fee accounts

- G14.4 No course result will be released until all fees have been paid. A student or past student will not be issued with a transcript of his or her results until all fees have been paid. A student will not be entitled to graduate or to receive a diploma or certificate until all fees have been paid. release of results
- G14.5 Non-South African students who do not have permanent residence, must pay the minimum academic and residence fees-before they may register. registration
- G14.6 Where prescribed initial payments by South African and non- South African students who have permanent residence are not paid by the due date, a penalty will be imposed. (See Handbook 12: Student Fees.)

Rules relating to changes of curriculum

- G15.1 A student may add a course, or substitute one or more courses until the Friday of the first week of the semester. The dean of the faculty in which the student is registered may permit the addition of a course: addition of courses
- (a) at any time before the final examination in the course, if the student shows to the satisfaction of the dean that he or she has attended the course from the start, if the head of the department concerned recommends this, and if the dean is satisfied that there are sound academic reasons for this; provided that any such addition shall be subject to the payment by the student of the prescribed penalty and the course fee; or
 - (b) to rectify an administrative error.
- See Note (1) to G13.2 for fee implications.*
- G15.2 A student may withdraw from a course: Course withdrawals
- (a) in the case of a semester course, up to the Friday of the sixth week of the course; or
 - (b) in the case of a year course, up to the Friday of the second week of the second semester, or
 - (c) For courses other than year-long or semester courses, up to the Monday of the week after which two thirds of the course material will have been presented for all other courses.
- G15.3 Every change of curriculum must be made through the appropriate faculty office. Informing departments of proposed changes is not sufficient.
- G15.4 If a student writes an examination in a course for which he or she is not registered and
- (a) fails, he or she shall be deemed to have registered for the course and the result (fail) shall be entered on his or her record; or writing examinations when not registered
 - (b) passes, the dean may permit the late addition of the course and allow the result to stand if the student shows to the satisfaction of the dean that he or she has attended the course from the start; provided that any such addition shall be subject to the payment by the student of the prescribed penalty and course fee. The decision of the dean to permit or refuse the addition of a course in terms of this rule shall be final.

Rules relating to attendance and leave of absence

- G16.1 A student must attend all classes.
- G16.2 Senate may grant leave of absence to a student for a specified period grounds for leave of absence usually to the end of the semester or end of year. (Reasons for granting leave of absence include illness and compassion.)
- G16.3 Where leave of absence is granted, all courses for the period for which results have not yet been entered, will be withdrawn from the student's record. The student's record remains active, and he or she has the right to return at the end of the period without reapplying.
- G16.4 Save in exceptional circumstances, Senate will not grant leave of absence retrospectively (see notes 1 and 2 below).
- G16.5 Leave of absence will not prejudice the progression status of a student.
- G16.6 Students who are granted leave of absence do not have access to classes, supervision, the library, ICTS services, laboratories or other UCT facilities for the duration of the period of leave of absence.
- G16.7 Senate may allow a student who is repeating a course to take the examinations in the course without re-attendance at classes; in such cases, Senate will specify which of the course requirements the student will be required to complete, in addition to the examinations, and how he or she will be assessed.
- G16.8 A student who requires leave of absence must apply to the dean of the faculty concerned.

NOTES:

- (1) Leave of absence will not be granted after the course has been completed.
- (2) Ordinarily, leave of absence will not be granted in the last quarter of the course.
- (3) Ordinarily, leave of absence has no impact on fee liability.

Appeals

Appeals other than on readmission of students who fail to meet minimum readmission requirements

- G17.1 Where these rules allow a discretion, the decision to exercise the discretion rests with Senate. In these cases, and in cases not provided for in the rules, Senate's authority may be exercised under delegated authority, by deans or other officers, or by faculty boards or other committees. delegated authority
- A student may appeal against a decision affecting him or her made on behalf of Senate by a dean or other officer, or by a faculty board or other committee.
- NOTE: There is no appeal against the decision of a dean to refuse a late addition of a course or a late substitution of a course.*
- G17.2 The appeal in such cases lies to the Vice-Chancellor, or to a person nominated by him or her, who shall decide the case. If the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, upholds an appeal, he or she shall report this fact and the reasons for the decision to the Senate Executive Committee for information. appeal to Vice-Chancellor/nominee
- NOTE: Any appeal in terms of this rule must be directed in the first instance to the Faculty Manager in the faculty in which the student is or was registered, or to which he or she has applied.*

8 RULES FOR DEGREES

- G17.3 There is no appeal from any decision by the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee in terms of this rule.
- G17.4 In cases where the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, decides, academic probation having considered an appeal, to place a student on academic probation, or confirms a decision to place a student on academic probation, he or she may determine that the period of registration for that student shall be one semester only. In such cases, the Vice-Chancellor, or his or her nominee, may prescribe minimum requirements which the student must meet in order to renew his or her registration for a further semester.

Appeals on readmission of students who fail to meet minimum readmission requirements

- G18.1 An undergraduate student may appeal against a decision to refuse appeals procedure him or her readmission made on behalf of Council by a faculty board, a faculty examinations committee or a dean, and must do so by lodging his or her appeal in writing with the Registrar
- (a) in respect of decisions based on October/November examination results, by the Wednesday of the sixth week preceding the start of registration week in the next year; or deadlines
- (b) in cases where readmission depends on January/February supplementary or deferred examinations, by the final day of the January/February examinations period.
- G18.2 The appeal in such cases lies to the faculty's Readmission Appeal Readmission Appeal Committee Committee, which must decide the case.
- G18.3 No appeal shall lie from any decision by the Readmission Appeal Committee in terms of this rule.
(Note: A person who believes that there has been a procedural error may ask the Vice-Chancellor or nominee to review the decision of an RAC, by making written submissions via the Registrar's office. A person who wishes to submit further evidence in support of an appeal may ask an RAC to re-consider his or her case in the light of information that was not before it when it made its decision. Students are expected to submit all evidence in their initial appeals, and the submission of new evidence is at the discretion of the chair where good grounds can be shown for not including such evidence previously.)
- G18.4 Where the Readmission Appeal Committee allows a concession it may conditional readmission
- (a) determine that the period of registration shall be one semester only; and
- (b) prescribe such minimum requirements as it considers appropriate, and which the student concerned shall be required to meet before he or she is permitted to renew his or her registration after one semester or one academic year, as the case may be.

Rules relating to examinations

Examination sessions and class tests

- G19.1 The University examination sessions are held towards the end of the first and second semesters in each year. Supplementary and deferred exam dates examinations are normally held in January but may, in certain cases, be held at another time agreed to by the departments concerned.

(Note: Students who have religious objections to writing class tests on particular days during the year should notify the lecturers concerned of the days in question as soon as possible after the beginning of the academic year. In the case of this occurring in relation to formal examinations see G27.2. Senate does not undertake to reschedule tests to accommodate religious observances. See also "Rules on Conduct for Students" in this handbook.)

| G19.2 | All tests and all other forms of assessment, whether written or oral, where the result of the test or assessment contributes to the final result, are examinations for the purposes of these rules. | definition of examination |
| G19.3 | For every examination or other qualifying test for a degree, diploma or a certificate, Senate must appoint such examiner or examiners as it deems necessary. | appointment of examiners |
| G19.4 | Senate may deny a student permission to write an examination where he or she has not paid all fees and other monies due and payable to the University. | payment of fees |
| G19.5 | Senate must determine the form of each examination (whether written or oral or both, and whether it will include practical work or clinical work, or both). | form of exam |
| G19.6 | A candidate for examination in any course may be required to present himself or herself for an oral test and the examiners may take the result of such a test into consideration in determining the result. | oral test |
| G19.7 | In deciding the result of an examination Senate may, in addition to the report of the examiners, take into consideration the reports of teachers on the student's classwork in such course. | classwork/ teachers' reports |
| G19.8 | Where a provisional examination timetable is published, every student must consult it and report to the Examinations Office by the set date any clash of examination for courses for which he or she is registered. | exam clashes |
| G19.9 | Misreading of the examination timetable will not be condoned or accepted. | misreading timetable |
| G19.10 | All examinations must be written at such places as may be decided by Senate. The Vice-Chancellor may, in exceptional circumstances, permit a student to write in a place other than that decided by Senate. | exam venues |
| G19.11 | A student found guilty by a University disciplinary court of dishonest conduct in relation to examinations may be disqualified. | dishonest conduct |
| G19.12 | Dishonesty, including plagiarism or the submission by a student of other people's work as his or her own, in an examination or any other form of assessment will be dealt with in terms of the disciplinary rules. | plagiarism |
| G19.13 | Students must produce their registration cards to be admitted to examination venues and to be allowed to take the examinations. Where a student does not do so, the examination invigilator may not allow the student to take the examination, or may use his or her discretion to allow the student to take the examination if he or she can produce another acceptable form of photo identification. If the latter occurs, the student must present his or her registration card to the Examining Department within five working days of the examination. If he or she does not do so, his or her result for that examination must be cancelled. | student cards failure to produce proof of identity | above may apply to the Registrar in writing by not later than 28 February next (for summer examinations) or 31 July next (for winter examinations) for reinstatement of his or her result. Such application must be accompanied by the prescribed fee, which is non-refundable. The result will be reinstated if the student can prove to the satisfaction of the Registrar that he or she is the person who wrote the examination in question.

NOTE: A student whose result is cancelled in terms of Rule G19.13

10 RULES FOR DEGREES

- G19.14 No late comers may be admitted to the hall after an hour has elapsed. extra time
No extra time is to be given to late comers.
- G19.15 A student may not leave an examination venue during the first sixty or the last twenty minutes of the examination.
- G20 The form of the examination for a course shall be as decided by Senate in each case, but may include one or more of the following form of exam
(a) written, practical, clinical, and oral class tests;
(b) written assignments, including essays and projects;
(c) written, practical, clinical, and oral tests taken under invigilation conditions (commonly referred to as formal examinations); and
(d) any further test, as may be considered appropriate in the case of each candidate, or course, to determine borderline cases.
- G21.1 If a student fails to obtain a duly performed certificate, the result is DPR.
- G21.2 If a student who has a duly performed certificate, does not write the examination in a course for which he or she is registered, he or she will be recorded as having been absent from the examination absence from examination

Supplementary examinations

- G22.1 Where supplementary examinations are allowed in the rules for a degree, diploma or certificate:
(a) a supplementary examination shall be the re-assessment of a candidate who has failed the course, but who is allowed to present himself or herself for re-examination without having to repeat the course; definition
(b) the form of supplementary examination shall be as decided by Senate in each case, or in respect of a given course; and form of exam
(c) Senate may take into account the results of the candidate's original examination in the subject, as well as classwork which did not form part of the examination, in deciding the result of a candidate who has taken a supplementary examination. determining the result
(d) A supplementary examination may not be deferred for any reason.
(e) A student who is writing a deferred examination is not eligible for a supplementary exam.
- NOTE: Each student is responsible for establishing whether he or she has been awarded a supplementary examination for any courses failed; and, if so, for confirming the dates, time and venue of the examination.*
- G22.2 A student who has been granted a supplementary examination in a first semester course and who registers for the same course in the second semester prior to writing the supplementary examination, forfeits the supplementary examination. If the student fails the second semester course, the decision to grant a supplementary re-registration for the same course examination would be made on the basis of the second semester result.

- G22.3 The result for a course where a supplementary examination was granted will be recorded as:
 UP SP (unclassified pass, supplementary exam) in the case where a student wrote and passed the supplementary exam;
 nnA SF ('nn' is the percentage in the original exam, 'A' denotes absent from supplementary examination) in the case where a student was granted a supplementary examination but did not write it; nn SF ('nn' is the percentage in the final result, and F denotes a failure in the supplementary examination) in the case where a student wrote the supplementary examination and nonetheless failed the course.

Access to examined material, examination scripts and checking of examination results

- G23.1 Where work is examined under invigilation conditions, the script will be retained by the department concerned until 31 March of the following year and will not be returned to the student. A student may, by 30 September for first semester examinations whose results have been formally confirmed by the Faculty Examination Committee (FEC), or by 31 March of the following year for second semester examinations or first semester examinations whose results were only confirmed by the FEC in December:

- (a) apply to the department for a copy of the script(s) which must be made available on payment of the prescribed fee; and /or
- (b) apply to the department to be allowed to see his or her script(s).

G23.2 A department:

- (a) must provide a copy of a student's script(s) to him or her on receipt of the prescribed fee if application is made by the due date; and
- (b) may choose how to give supervised access by a student to his or her script(s).

G23.3 In general all other examined work is returned to the student after it has been marked; where it is retained (for example, to be made available to an external examiner) a student has the same rights of access to it as set out in G23.1 above.

G23.4 A student who believes that an error has occurred in his or her script, either before or after seeking access to the script(s) under G23.1, may apply to have his or her script(s) checked. Checking is limited to the adding up of the marks and to making sure that marks have been allotted to every section of every question attempted. To have his or her script checked, a student must apply in writing to the Student Record Office before 5 January in respect of all examinations taken during the second semester of the previous academic year, before 1 March in respect of all deferred or supplementary examinations written in January or February; and before the Friday of the first week in the second semester in respect of all examinations taken at the end of the first semester. The prescribed fee must accompany the application. The fee will be rescinded if a correction is made in the class of pass as a result of the checking. (See G25 for a list of the classes of pass.)

Learning and physical disabilities and extra time in examinations

- G24.1 Senate recognises that a student with a learning or physical disability may require extra time in examinations. Senate will consider applications from students for extra time in examinations and may in its absolute discretion grant extra time to a student who has a learning disability or a physical disability. extra time
(An examination includes class tests that contribute to the final result in a course.)
- G24.2 A learning disability, for the purpose of this rule, is a disability that affects one or more of the basic processes involved in the use of written or spoken language in a manner that constitutes a significant impairment of that process/function. definition of learning disability
(A psychological disorder which may manifest itself in the form of anxiety and/or depression will not form grounds for an application for extra time in examinations.)
- G24.3 A physical disability, for the purpose of this rule, is as a disability, whether long-term or short-term, that seriously impedes a student's ability to write. definition of physical disability
- G24.4 A student who applies for extra time on the grounds of a learning disability must: extra time for learning disabilities
- (a) Apply on a prescribed form obtainable from the Registrar not later than 30 April; (late applications will only be accepted if the student provides reasons satisfactory to the Senate);
 - (b) Provide with the application all papers, assessments and reports he or she has relevant to his or her disability;
 - (c) Present himself or herself for professional assessment or examination, at such time and by a person as may be prescribed;
 - (d) If required to do so by the Student Wellness Service, refer herself or himself for assessment by an appropriately qualified professional, at his or her own cost; and
 - (e) Register with the Disability Service.
- G24.5 A student who applies for extra time on the grounds of a physical disability must apply on the prescribed form obtainable from the Registrar and must: extra time for physical disabilities
- (a) If the physical disability is long-term,
 - (i) register with the Disability Services; and
 - (ii) apply not later than 30 April; (a late application will be accepted if the student provides reasons satisfactory to the Senate); or
 - (b) Present himself or herself for a physical examination at such time and by a person as may be prescribed; and
 - (c) Provide with the application all papers, assessments and reports he or she has relevant to his or her disability; and
 - (d) If required to do so by the Student Wellness Service, refer herself or himself for assessment by an appropriately qualified professional, at his or her own cost.
(In the case of a short-term disability: it is not necessary to register with the Disability Service; and a late application may be accepted on good cause shown)

- G24.6 Each application together with reports from the Student Wellness Service and any professional referred to in terms of G 24.4 (d) or G 24.5 (d) above must be submitted to the Senate which may: Senate to consider
- (a) grant such extra time, not exceeding a third of the time set for the examination, or refuse the application;
 - (b) specify a different venue, or venues at which the student must sit any examination for which he or she has been granted extra time extra time venues
- Note: where the Senate grants extra time on the grounds of learning disability or a long-term physical disability this will apply for all examinations taken by the student while registered for a specific degree, diploma or certificate. provided that Senate may withdraw any grant of extra time following a review of the concession, and provided also that if the dean of the faculty concerned, on the basis of the performance of the student, requests this the case must be reviewed.*
- G24.7 A student who changes faculty before completing a degree or diploma must, at the time of registration, notify the dean of his or her new faculty of any concession he or she has been granted allowing extra time in examinations on the grounds of a learning disability or a physical disability. change of faculty

Classification of results in courses

- G25 Results are classified and published as follows in all courses for bachelors and honours degrees and for diplomas and certificates:
- | | |
|-------------|-----------------------------|
| 75% to 100% | First Class |
| 70-74% | Second Class (Division One) |
| 60-69% | Second Class (Division Two) |
| 50-59% | Third Class |
| Under 50% | Fail |
- Where a percentage result is not given, a student's status or result may be reflected as:
- | | |
|-----|--|
| DPR | Duly performed certificate refused (not permitted to write the exam) |
| AB | Absent from the exam |
| DE | Permission to write a deferred exam in this course |
| OS | Result not yet available |
| GIP | Course still in progress, result expected in a subsequent year |
| ATT | Course attended |
| PA | Pass |
| UP | Unclassified Pass |

Deferred final examinations

- G26.1 Senate may allow a student to write a deferred examination where he or she is unable to write an examination for medical reasons, or has religious objections, or political objections, or other good cause for not writing on the scheduled day or days. The granting of this permission is entirely at the discretion of Senate, irrespective of the grounds (including medical) on which the application is made. No deferred examination may be granted for a supplementary Senate discretion examination. If a student is unable to sit the supplementary examination for any reason, the supplementary examination is forfeited and the original result stands.

14 RULES FOR DEGREES

G26.2 Senate

- (a) will accept that, where a student has obtained a duly performed certificate for a course, he or she has met the test of having performed adequately for his or her application to be considered on the grounds advanced, without further consideration of his or her academic performance. academic performance
- (b) will not grant permission to a student to write a deferred examination in a course in which he or she has been refused a duly performed certificate. If permission is granted and a duly performed certificate is subsequently refused, the permission will lapse. DP certificate
- (c) may refuse permission to a student who has shown unsatisfactory progress in a course for which no duly performed requirement is set. dates/times

G26.3 A student who has not heard the decision on his or her application by the date of the examination:

awaiting decision on application for deferment

- (a) should take the examination;
- (b) shall, if he or she takes the examination, retain the result if the deferment is refused; and shall lose the result if the deferment is granted.

G26.4 A student who is granted a deferred examination and has been informed of this before the examination may nonetheless elect to take the examination. If he or she takes the examination he or she must lose the grant of the deferred examination.

loss of grant of deferred exam

Deferred examinations for reasons of illness or other good cause

G27.1 The following rules apply:

- (a) A student who by reason of illness before, at the time of, or during an examination, or a recurring medical complaint, or a history of illness, or a physical disability, or other good cause has been, or will be, unable to take an examination, may apply for permission to take a deferred examination. application procedure medical certificate
- (b) Any such application must be submitted on the prescribed form (obtainable from the Student Records Office), not later than seven days after the day scheduled for the examination concerned, supported by a medical certificate or other documentary evidence. deadline
- (c) The production of a medical certificate will not necessarily be sufficient to secure the granting of a deferred examination. medical certificate
- (d) Illness during an examination will only be considered if the student shows: that he or she went directly from the examination venue to the Student Wellness Service to report the illness; or that he or she was unable to do so. illness during an exam
- (e) A recurring medical complaint or a history of illness, or a physical disability will only be considered if the student has reported the complaint, the history, or the disability to the Student Wellness Service at least three weeks before the day scheduled for the examination concerned and has satisfied the Student Wellness Service that every effort is being made recurrent illness/disability to avert a recurrence of the complaint or illness, or overcome the disability.

- (f) Illness, or unfitness to take an examination, caused by taking drugs of any kind except on the advice of a medical practitioner, may be rejected as grounds for the granting of a deferred examination. drugs
- (g) A serious illness, or the death, of a near relative at the time of an examination may be accepted as good cause. illness/death of a relative
- (h) A period of suspension, resulting from an order by the Vice-Chancellor or nominee in terms of rule DJP3, may be accepted as good cause in cases of suspension grounds accepted as good cause in cases of suspension
 - (i) Senate finds that the student's preparation for, or the writing of, the examination has been materially hindered by the suspension; and
 - (ii) the student is not charged with any offence, or
 - (iii) the student is charged and is acquitted, or found guilty of a lesser offence than charged for which, in the view of Senate, a suspension order would not have been justified. (In deciding whether the suspension order would have been justified Senate may consult the presiding officer of any court which dealt with the matter.)

Deferred examinations on grounds of religious objections

G27.2 The following rules exist:

- (a) A student who objects on religious grounds to taking an examination on the day specified in the examination timetable, may apply for permission to take a deferred examination. application procedure
- (b) Any such application must be submitted on the prescribed form (obtainable from the Student Records Office), not later than seven days after the final examination timetable is published. certificate from minister of religion
- (c) Any such application must be supported by: a certificate from the student's minister of religion confirming that he or she is an observing member of the minister's congregation and that his or her religious convictions prevent him or her from taking an examination on the day, or days, in question; and a certificate from the head of department that the head has been consulted and informed of the application. certificate from head of department

Deferred examinations on grounds of political objections

G27.3 The following rules exist:

- (a) A student who, in exceptional circumstances objects on grounds of political conviction or conscience to taking an examination on the day specified in the examination timetable may apply for permission to take a deferred examination.
- (b) Any such application must be submitted on the prescribed form (obtainable from the Student Records Office) not later than ten days before the examination. application procedure
- (c) Any such application must be supported by a statement showing why he or she believes there are exceptional circumstance, and why he or she objects to taking the examination on the day, or days, in question.

Requirements for award of degrees

- G28 The law allows UCT to award honorary degrees of doctor. Except in these cases, no degree may be conferred by the University on any person who has not: minimum requirements for awarding degrees
- (a) registered for such period as is prescribed, and under such conditions, as a student of the University;
 - (b) completed the courses and passed in the examinations prescribed by the Senate.
- (See the UCT statute.)

Secrecy restrictions

- G29 A thesis or dissertation accepted by the University in candidacy for a higher degree may not be subject to a secrecy restriction of any kind. Any thesis or dissertation approved for a higher degree is placed on the open shelves of the library. on a thesis or dissertation
- NOTE: A thesis or dissertation may be lodged with the University while still subject to a secrecy restriction. It will not, however, be accepted, and amongst other things this means that the process of examining the dissertation or thesis will not start, until the secrecy restriction has been lifted.*

Deviation from rules in specific circumstances

- G30.1 Senate may, on the recommendation of the dean of the faculty after consultation with the head of the department concerned, permit a deviation from the rules governing the curriculum of a student. curriculum concessions
- G30.2 Senate may at any time revise any rule, and any amendment of or addition to a rule, whether general or particular, shall, if Senate so decides, become binding on all candidates affected by it from the date of publication or such other date as may be specified. Where a student is prejudiced as a result of a change in a rule, an application for a concession will be considered sympathetically. revision /addition to rules
- G30.3 Where a candidate resumes his or her registration after a lapse of time, Senate shall determine which, if any, credits he or she has previously obtained, will be recognised as credits towards the degree, or diploma, or certificate for which he or she is registered. Senate may rule that any such credits shall not be recognised towards the degree, or diploma, or certificate for which he or she is registered. lapsing of credits towards the degree

General rules for Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral degrees

Bachelors degree

- GB1.1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for a bachelors degree unless he or she holds: minimum requirement
- (a) a matriculation certificate issued by the Joint Matriculation Board; or
 - (b) a senior or school leaving certificate with a matriculation exemption issued by the Joint Matriculation Board; or
 - (c) a senior certificate with a matriculation or university

- admission endorsement issued by the South African Certification Council or by the General and Further Education Quality Assurance Council (Umalusi); or
- (d) NSC endorsed for degree admission;
- (e) a certificate of full or conditional exemption from the matriculation examination issued by the Joint Matriculation Board; or
- (f) a certificate of exemption or a certificate of conditional exemption issued by the Matriculation Board.

GB1.2 A candidate for a bachelors degree shall attend approved courses for such period as the rules for the degree concerned provide. period of attendance

Attendance and/or work at other recognised institutions

GB2.1 Subject to the provisions of the statute, the Senate may: accept a period, or periods, of attendance at an institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose as part of the prescribed period of attendance for a degree of bachelor, other than an honours degree of bachelor; and/or grant credit for, and/or grant exemption from, a course or courses prescribed or recognised for a degree of bachelor, where a candidate has completed a course, or courses, accepted by the Senate as equivalent at an institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose;

Provided that a student may not graduate unless he or she has:

- (a) for a three-year degree: registered for at least two years and while so registered, completed at least one half of the courses prescribed for the degree including the final course/s in his or her major subject; minimum requirements
- (b) for a four-year degree: registered for at least the final two years;
- (c) for a five- or six-year degree: registered for at least the final three years; and credit for a major course

Provided that Senate shall not grant credit for a major course, or the major courses, prescribed for a degree of bachelor on the grounds of work completed at another institution.

GB2.2 A student shall not graduate with a degree of bachelor unless the sum of any period, or periods, of attendance at another institution accepted by the Senate and his or her periods of attendance at the University is not less than the minimum period provided for in the rules for the degree, or the statute. minimum period/s of attendance

Attendance and/or work completed at the University (for one degree toward another degree)

GB3.1 Subject to the statute, where a student has attended for a period, and completed a course or courses while so registered, for a degree, or degrees of bachelor, but has not taken a degree, the Senate may accept all or part of this period as part of the prescribed period of attendance for any other degree of bachelor, and/or recognise any course or courses completed by the candidate as a qualifying course or courses prescribed or recognised for such other degree. attendance and transfer of credits towards completion of a bachelors degree

GB3.2 Subject to the statute, where a student has attended for a period, completed courses and has graduated, the Senate may accept part of this period as part of the prescribed period of attendance for any other degree of bachelor, other than an honours degree of bachelor; transfer of credits towards completion of another bachelors degree and/or grant credit for, and/or exemption from, a course or courses prescribed or recognised for such other degree where he or she has completed this course or these courses, or where he or she has completed an equivalent course, or equivalent courses;

Provided that a student shall:

- (a) for a three-year degree, register for at least two full years for that degree and while so registered, complete at least one half of the courses prescribed for the degree including the final course/s in his or her major subject;
- (b) for a four-year degree; register for at least the final two years for that degree; and
- (c) for a five- or six-year degree; register for at least the final three years for that degree; and

requirements*

Provided that the Senate may, in a case it considers to be exceptional, and on the recommendation of the board of the faculty concerned, permit a student to graduate who has only partly complied with the requirements of clause (a), (b), or (c) as the case may be.

Admission to courses and completing a course

- GB4 Except with the permission of the lecturer concerned a person shall not attend any class in a course until he or she has registered for that course and has had his or her curriculum approved by Senate. (Note: a lecturer may allow a person to sit in at specified lectures and must notify his or her head of department when doing so. A lecturer may not allow a person who is not registered for the course in regular or audit mode to take part in the course or be examined on its work.) registration
- GB5 An approved curriculum may only be modified with the approval of Senate. change of curriculum
- GB6 A student obtains credit for a course when he or she has completed it. A student completes a course by passing the examinations in the course. credit
- GB7 Except as otherwise provided for in the rules for a course, or specifically allowed by Senate a student shall not be registered for the second or more advanced course in a subject unless he or she has:
- (a) obtained credit for, or been given exemption by Senate from, the immediately preceding course; and registration for second
 - (b) attained such standard of proficiency in the immediately preceding course as has been prescribed by the Senate advanced course
- GB8 Except by permission of the Senate, a student shall not register for a course unless he or she:
- (a) has obtained credit for, or has been given exemption from, such course or courses that Senate has set as a prerequisite course or courses for that course; and prerequisites
 - (b) registers concurrently for such course or courses that Senate has set as an auxiliary course or courses for that course. auxiliary courses

Duly performed (DP) certificates

- GB9.1 Senate may prescribe minimum requirements of attendance and performance in the work of a class which a student must meet in order to be allowed to take the examination in the course. minimum attendance/performance
- GB9.2 Where Senate prescribes such minimum requirements, and where a student meets these requirements, the head of department shall issue DP certificate

- a duly performed certificate.
- GB9.3 Where Senate prescribes such minimum requirements the head of department must publish the list of those awarded and those refused duly performed certificates on or before the last teaching day of term.
- GB9.4 Where Senate prescribes such minimum requirements, and where a student does not meet these requirements: failure to meet minimum requirements
- (a) the student may not take the examination in the course;
 - (b) the student shall be given the result Duly Performed Certificate Refused (DPR) for that course; and
 - (c) Senate may require the student to repeat the course or any part of it before presenting himself or herself for examination in it.

Re-examination

- GB10 A student who fails a course must re-attend the course before he or she is again admitted to the examination: provided that Senate may permit a student to take the examination without re-attendance, under special circumstances and on the recommendation of the head of department concerned, on condition that there is no clash on the examination timetables. (See also Rule G16) re-examination without re-attendance
- GB11 The rules for a degree may allow Senate to permit a student who fails in one or more courses to present himself or herself for a supplementary examination in one or more than one course. supplementary examination

Distinction

- GB12 The rules for a degree may provide that the degree be awarded: with distinction; or with distinction in one or more individual subjects; or both; or if a degree of at least four years in duration, with honours or first class honours; or, in the case of the degree of Bachelor of Laws, distinction/honours/cum laude cum laude or magna cum laude.

General provisions

- GB13 Senate as a matter of policy does not permit a person who has a first bachelors degree to register again for that degree, or to be admitted a second time to the same first bachelors degree. registration for the same degree
Where a graduate wishes to take further courses he or she should seek registration as an occasional student. (For example a BA graduate, who wishes to take further BA qualifying courses should seek admission as an occasional student.) further courses after graduation
- GB14 The general rules for bachelors degrees apply mutatis mutandis to candidates for diplomas and certificates. diplomas/certificates

Honours Bachelor

- GH1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for an honours bachelors degree unless he or she has minimum admission requirements
- (a) satisfied the requirements for a degree of this University or any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
 - (b) passed at any university or institution such examinations as in Senate's opinion are equivalent to or higher than examinations prescribed for a bachelors degree of the University that is a prerequisite for admission as a candidate

- for the degree; or
- (c) in any other manner attained a level of competence which, in the opinion of Senate, is adequate for the purpose of admission as a candidate for the degree.
- GH2 A candidate shall attend and complete an honours programme in a field of study specified in the rules for the degree concerned. fields of study
- GH3 Except as may be otherwise provided by statute or joint statute, an honours degree candidate shall not graduate in any faculty until at least one year after he or she has been graduated bachelor. Senate may exempt a candidate from this requirement if he or she has attended approved courses as a student of the University for a period of at least three years and has satisfied the requirements for the honours programme concerned. duration of course
- GH4 When presenting any form of written work for examination, a candidate shall by so doing grant a free license to the University to publish it in whole or in part in any format that the University deems fit. publication

Masters degrees

- GM1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for a degree of master unless he or she: minimum admission requirements
- (a) is a graduate of the University or any other university recognised by Senate for the purpose; or
- (b) has passed at any university or at any institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose, such examinations as are, in the opinion of the Senate, equivalent to the examinations prescribed for a degree at the University; or
- (c) has in any other manner attained a level of competence which in the opinion of the Senate, is adequate for the purpose of admission as a candidate for the degree.
- GM2.1 A candidate shall not graduate in any faculty unless he or she has been registered for the degree for at least one year. period of registration
A candidate must maintain unbroken registration between admission and graduation unless granted leave of absence by the Senate.
- GM3 A candidate shall undertake advanced study, or an approved research project, or both, under the guidance of a supervisor appointed by Senate. study/ research project
- GM4 The examination shall consist of a dissertation showing acquaintance with the methods of research, or of written papers, or both, as Senate may prescribe; or such other forms of examination as faculty rules may provide. form of examination
NOTE: Supplementary examinations are not awarded to candidates for the degree of master.
- GM5 The examiners may in addition require a candidate to present himself or herself for an oral examination. oral examination
- GM6 Senate may refuse to permit a candidate whose progress is unsatisfactory to renew his or her registration. re-registration
- GM7 The rules of a particular faculty may provide that the degree may be awarded with distinction. distinction
- GM8 When presenting any written work for examination, a candidate shall by so doing grant a free licence to the University to publish it in whole or in part in any format that the University deems fit. publication

Master of Philosophy (MPhil)

(To be read together with the rules for Masters degrees)

- GM11 Faculty rules may provide for the award of a degree of Master of Philosophy. The degree will normally be awarded for work on inter-faculty topics or in inter-faculty units where the usual masters degree is not appropriate. applicability
- GM12 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the degree unless minimum admission requirements he or she:
 - (a) is the holder of a four-year bachelors degree or honours degree of the University or of any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
 - (b) is a graduate of the University or of any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose who has shown by examination or publication or a record of appropriate training that he or she has reached the current level in the subject or cognate subject equivalent to an honours degree; or
 - (c) has in any other manner attained a level of competence which in the opinion of the Senate is adequate for the purpose of admission to the degree.

(See G29 for "Secrecy restrictions" on theses and dissertations)

Doctoral degrees (other than PhD)

- GD1 Senate may admit as a candidate for a doctor's degree any person who has given satisfactory evidence of his or her candidature. Only in exceptional circumstances can a person be admitted as a candidate for a doctor's degree if he or she has not had significant involvement with UCT. admission requirements
- GD2 A doctoral candidate shall not graduate in:
 - (a) the Sciences, Engineering, or Law until at least four years after he or she has been admitted to a degree of bachelor at this or another university recognised for the purpose by the Senate, and
 - (b) the Faculty of Health Science until at least two years after he or she has been admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Medicine in the faculty or a faculty of Medicine of any other university recognised for the purpose by the Senate, or until at least four years after he or she has been admitted to a degree of bachelor in this or another university recognised for the purpose by the Senate.
- GD3 A degree of doctor shall not be conferred unless the candidate submits for examination original work which in the opinion of Senate constitutes a noteworthy contribution to knowledge. original work
- GD4 A candidate may be required to present himself or herself for a written or oral examination. examination
- GD5 When presenting any work for examination, a candidate shall by so doing grant a free licence to the University to publish it in whole or in part in any format that the University deems fit. publication

Doctor of Philosophy

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is a research degree undertaken under the guidance of a supervisor for the minimum period of two years. A candidate may proceed through any of the faculties of the University in accordance with guidelines for admission

22 RULES FOR DEGREES

these rules and those of the faculty concerned. It is not essential for a candidate to proceed through the faculty in which he or she obtained his or her bachelors or masters degree. When considering an application for registration for the degree for PhD, Senate will be guided by the following as being appropriate admission requirements:

- (a) a recognised masters degree; or
- (b) a recognised honours bachelors degree, or a recognised four-year bachelors degree, plus at least one year's registration for an approved masters degree; or
- (c) a recognised three-year bachelors degree plus at least two years registration for an approved masters degree; or
- (d) a recognised MBChB, LLB, BProc or BArch degree or any qualification recognised by Senate as being equivalent; or
- (e) in special circumstances an approved bachelors degree or qualification recognised by the Senate as equivalent.

A masters candidate may apply to upgrade his or her candidature to PhD candidature at any time before submitting his or her dissertation for examination for the masters degree for which he or she has registered; once a submitted dissertation has been sent by the University to examiners, it may not be withdrawn, nor may the candidate apply to upgrade his or her candidature to PhD candidature. A PhD candidate may apply to downgrade his or her candidature to candidature for a masters degree at any time before submitting his or her thesis; once a submitted thesis has been sent by the University to examiners, it may not be withdrawn, nor may the candidate apply to downgrade his or her candidature to candidature for a masters degree. A PhD candidate who fails the PhD examination may not submit the work for any other degree at this University.

- GP1.1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the degree unless he or she: admission to PhD candidature
- (a) is a graduate of the University or of any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
 - (b) has passed at any university or at any institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose, such examinations as are, in the opinion of Senate, equivalent to the examinations prescribed for a degree at the University; or
 - (c) has in any other manner attained a level of competence which in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the faculty concerned, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.
- GP1.2 Senate may admit to the degree any candidate who has been admitted at least three years previously to a degree of bachelor, or any candidate who has been admitted at least two years previously to a bachelors degree where the minimum period of study prescribed for such bachelors degrees was not less than four years. holders of bachelors degrees

Registration and residence

- GP2.1 During his or her period of registration a candidate will normally be required to attend at the University for a period of at least one year. By "attend at the University" Senate understands that the candidate shall, within reason, be readily available for discussion at the University. "attendance"
- GP3.1 A candidate must be registered for at least two years. Senate may permit a candidate registered for a masters degree, by virtue of the minimum period

- quality and development of his or her work, to change his or her candidature to that for a PhD degree but retrospective registration for the PhD degree will not be allowed, except by special permission of Senate.
- GP3.2 Senate may accept, as part of the period of registration required, a period of registration not exceeding one year at another university or institution. registration at another university
- GP3.3 A candidate must maintain unbroken registration between admission and graduation unless granted leave of absence by the Senate. absence
- GP3.4 Senate may refuse to permit a candidate whose progress is unsatisfactory to renew his or her registration. renewal of registration

Application for admission

- GP4 Before a person may be registered for the degree his or her candidature must be approved by the Senate on the recommendation of the board of the faculty and the head of the department concerned. An application must give such evidence of his or her qualifications and attainments and complete such preliminary work as Senate may require, and must satisfy Senate as to the suitability of his or her subject and programme of research and as to the conditions under which the work will be carried out. admission requirements

Obtaining the degree

- GP5.1 A candidate shall undertake research, and such advanced study as may be required, under the guidance of a supervisor or supervisors appointed by Senate for the minimum period of two years. supervisor
- GP5.2 At the conclusion of his or her supervised research a candidate shall submit a thesis for examination. Before doing so he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board Office in writing to this effect and submit a signed statement from his or her supervisor indicating whether or not he or she supports the submission of a thesis for examination. A candidate will not, however, be debarred from submitting his or her thesis for examination if his or her supervisor does not support the submission of the thesis. submission of thesis
- GP5.3 Where a candidate intends to submit his or her thesis for examination in the hope of the award of the degree at either the June or December graduation ceremonies, he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board Office in writing of his or her intention to do so by not later than 10 January or 20 June respectively; the final dates for receipt of theses by the Doctoral Degrees Board Office are 15 February or 15 August. The University does not however undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date. deadlines for graduation

The Thesis

- GP6.1 A thesis must be submitted:
- (a) in English; or
 - (b) in a language and literature department, in English or in the language of the department concerned; or
 - (c) if the approval of Senate has been obtained by the candidate at the time of his or her original admission as a candidate, in another language.
- language of submission*
- GP6.2 A candidate must submit:
- (a) three copies of the thesis in temporary binding for copies: bound and

24 RULES FOR DEGREES

- submission to examiners; unbound
- (b) two unbound copies and a CD in the specified format of the final corrected version of the thesis for the Library; and
- (c) one copy in temporary binding for each of the candidate's supervisors, unless the candidate indicates that the supervisors have copies of the thesis.
- GP6.3 The thesis must constitute a substantial contribution to knowledge in the chosen subject and may embody only the original work of the candidate with such acknowledged extracts from the work of others as may be pertinent. The thesis may incorporate creative work integral to the overall argument. It must on presentation be accompanied by a declaration on the part of the candidate regarding the extent to which it represents his or her own work, both in concept and execution. original work
- Note: Any thesis, and in particular a thesis which incorporates the candidate's original creative work, must be such that it lends itself, in principle, to examination by international examiners, and to revision and re-submission. Where the thesis incorporates a creative component, this must be integral to the thesis and the thesis must be coherent. The creative component (exhibition, or theatrical production for example) must be reviewable, and may have to be submitted in recorded or filmed or photographed form. A candidate who wishes to include his or her own creative work as part of a thesis must indicate his or her plans for executing this work in his or her application for admission as a candidate as the DDB is required to scrutinise this rigorously to ensure that the thesis would be examinable. The DDB may require local assessors to assess the work as a first step in the examination process, to evaluate the work and to submit a report, which would be sent to the examiners, (for example in order to resolve any potential confusion or difficulties in examining the different elements of a drama or dance piece). The decision as to whether to do this will ordinarily be taken by the DDB at the time it accepts the candidate's thesis proposal.*
- GP6.4 The text of the thesis must be prefaced by an abstract of it prepared in accordance with the guidelines approved by Senate and indicating in what way the thesis constitutes a contribution to knowledge. abstract
- GP6.5 The literary presentation of the contents and the statistical presentation, if statistical argument or material is included, must be satisfactory. presentation
- GP6.6 A candidate shall not be given credit for any work that has been accepted for a degree. credit for other degree work
- GP6.7 Inclusion of previously published material
- A PhD thesis may include published papers provided that:
- (i) where published papers are included, the thesis must nonetheless show acceptable academic style, scholarly content and coherence as a connected account with a satisfactory introduction, statement of thesis and conclusion;
 - (ii) where multi-authored papers are included, the contribution of the candidate can be distinguished and is clearly stated, and
 - (iii) the candidate's plan (to include published papers) has had the written support of the Faculty's Higher Degrees Committee

- (or equivalent) and the written approval of the Doctoral Degrees Board prior to submission and
- (iv) papers published prior to registration for the PhD may only be included over and above the material which constitutes the thesis, and with the prior permission of the DDB.

PhD candidates are required, when renewing registration each year, to submit a proposed plan should they contemplate including published papers for consideration by the Faculty's Higher Degrees Committee, or equivalent.

- GP6.8 A PhD thesis may not be less than 40,000 words (in the case of a thesis incorporating creative work) or more than 80,000 words in length, unless the dean (acting after consultation with the supervisor) approves a request by the candidate to exceed this limit. Where a dean allows a longer thesis, he or she may stipulate a maximum number of words for the thesis. Where a dean allows a longer thesis, he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board of the fact and of the stipulation made. length of thesis
- GP6.9 After the examination of the thesis, a student requiring to make corrections to the thesis before being allowed to graduate, or revisions to the thesis for re-submission and re-examination, must, except with permission from Senate, submit these changes within one year from the date of notification from the Doctoral Degrees Board. A student who fails to do so will not be permitted to renew his or her registration for the degree. time limit for corrections/ revisions to thesis

Publication

- GP7 A candidate may, subject to the prior written approval of his or her supervisor and subject to the provisions of rule GP9, publish a part or the whole of the work done by him or her under supervision for the degree before presenting his or her thesis for examination. supervisor's permission
- GP8 When presenting a thesis a candidate shall be deemed by so doing to grant free licence to the University to publish it in whole or in part in any format that the University deems fit. free licence to University
- GP9 No publication may, without the prior permission of Senate, contain a statement that the published material was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the degree. Senate permission

(A copy of the procedures of the Doctoral Degrees Board is available on request from the Doctoral Degrees Office, Kramer Building.)

Graduation

Degrees are conferred and diplomas and certificates are awarded at meetings of the University called congregations. Congregations are held at dates and times set by Council. The Chancellor, if present, presides. In his or her absence the Vice-Chancellor, or the Vice-Chancellor's nominee, in that order, presides. No graduand is entitled to any of the privileges conferred by a degree until he or she has been admitted to the degree at a graduation ceremony; admission to degrees takes place in person, or in absentia.

A student may not present himself or herself for graduation or diploma unless in the prescribed academic dress. Graduation and diploma award ceremonies are held in June and in December.

Academic Dress

Officers of the University

- CHANCELLOR The Chancellor wears a gown made from dark blue silk and having facings, down each side in front, of dark blue velvet embroidered with a gold floral design. The gown and sleeves are lined with pale blue silk and the sleeves are looped up in front with a gold cord and button. The yoke of the gown is edged with gold cord. With this gown is worn a square blue velvet hat with a soft crown and gold tassel.

DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

These rules are institutional rules.

Definitions

Authorised member is an employee of the University who is empowered to issue instructions to students in respect of a particular function of the University, and includes:

- (a) The Vice-Chancellor, Deputy Vice-Chancellors and the Registrar in respect of any function of the University;
- (b) Any person authorised by the Vice-Chancellor, a Deputy Vice-Chancellor or the Registrar;
- (c) Deans, heads of departments, and staff of academic departments in respect of the work of academic departments and faculties;
- (d) Heads of professional, administrative support and service departments, or their nominees, in respect of the work of their departments.

Complainant is for the purposes of Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures, a person alleging rape, sexual assault or sexual harassment by a student.

Day is a calendar day.

Expulsion is the immediate termination of registration and the prohibition of further registration imposed upon a student.

No-contact order is a protective measure issued in terms of these rules prohibiting the person against whom the order is issued from contact with one or more named person(s) either directly or indirectly.

Proctor is the person who presides over a matter in the University Tribunal and is appointed by the University Council for such period as the Council may decide.

Residences Committee is the Residences Committee of Council.

Right to be assisted means an entitlement to engage a person of his or her choice to advise and assist him or her during a hearing before a Tribunal. Such a person is not permitted to represent a student so assisted.

Right to be represented means an entitlement to engage a person of his or her choice to act on his or her behalf in any matter before a Tribunal.

Rustication is the temporary dismissal of a student from the University or the temporary removal of a student from a student housing unit.

Rusticated student means a student rusticated in terms of these rules, who remains subject to these rules and to such conditions as may be attached to the rustication for the period of rustication.

Senior Proctor is a person with legal training or experience, appointed by the Vice-Chancellor for such periods as the Vice-Chancellor may decide.

Student is a person who has been admitted to the University for the purposes of academic study or research. A person remains a student until such time as he or she has graduated, is refused readmission, is expelled or cancels his or her registration or fails to renew his or her registration; save that a student who has graduated and intends to re-register for a further course of study in the following year or has de-registered from a particular course of study with the view to registering for another course of study, is deemed to remain a student for the duration of the period between such graduation or de-registration and subsequent readmission. A person remains a student when subject to a suspension order imposed in terms of these rules. A post doctoral fellow is a student for the purpose of these rules.

Student Code means the Rules on Conduct for Students, and all University rules.

Student housing means any housing or residence provided by the University for students, including catering student housing units, self-catering student housing units, houses and flats.

Student housing unit means a residence, provided by the University for housing students.

Unit Committee is a committee comprising elected student representatives and the warden of a particular student housing unit generally known as a House Committee.

University is the University of Cape Town.

University community means all registered students, all other members of the University, all staff and all persons rendering services at the University.

University rules include: Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures; Rules on Conduct for Students; Rules on Computer Software Copyright and Licensing; Rules relating to Meetings held on Campus or under the Aegis of the University; Rules on the Use of University Venues; Traffic Rules; The Code of Ethics for Student Publications; Library Rules; and Residences Rules, and such other rules as the Council may make from time to time.

Warden is a person in whom the authority of Council and the Residences Committee rests for the administration of a student housing unit.

Year is a calendar year.

Breach of Student Code

- DJP1.1 An allegation of a breach of the Student Code other than such allegations as contemplated in DJP 1.2 must be reported direct to the Vice-Chancellor or nominee. report to V-C's nominee
- DJP1.2 An allegation of a breach of the Student Code by a student in a student housing unit must be reported to the warden. report to warden
- (a) Where the allegation is of serious assault, behaviour of a potentially injurious nature, or serious harassment or where, in the opinion of the warden this referral is warranted, the warden must report the matter to the Vice-Chancellor.
- (b) In all other circumstances, the warden must refer the matter to the applicable student housing tribunal.
- DJP1.3 The Vice-Chancellor may delegate any function assigned to him or her in terms of these rules to any member of the University staff. delegation of function
- DJP1.4 The Vice-Chancellor may refer any alleged breach of the Student Code to an appropriate tribunal;
- DJP1.5 The Vice-Chancellor may refer a matter for a further investigation to an appropriate tribunal and must determine the membership, powers and terms of reference of the tribunal referral to an appropriate tribunal
- DJP1.6 The Vice-Chancellor may at any time, withdraw any matter from any tribunal and may at his or her discretion: withdrawal of matter by V-C
- (a) refer the matter to another tribunal; or
- (b) elect not to continue with the matter; or
- (c) refer the matter to the South African Police Services.
- DJP1.7 The authority instituting a charge before any tribunal may attach a certificate allowing the student so charged to admit guilt, to pay a fine if provided for, and/or to render community service. admission of guilt

The Tribunal in general

- DJP2.1 Any tribunal to which a matter has been referred, or a competent appeal made, must proceed to decide the matter, or the appeal, in terms of these rules.
- DJP2.2 A tribunal hearing a matter must determine rules of procedure, except where the Tribunal of Appeal has laid down generally applicable rules of procedure, which will be binding upon all tribunals constituted in terms of these rules. rules of procedure
- DJP2.3 The burden of proof in all tribunals is upon the University. burden of proof
- DJP2.4 The standard of proof in all tribunals is on a balance of probabilities. standard of proof

Powers of suspension and no-contact orders

- DJP3.1 If a member of the University staff or a student has reason to believe that:, Report to V-C

30 DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

- (a) the continued presence or participation in the activities of the University by a student against whom there is an allegation of a breach of the Student Code is likely to pose a threat to the maintenance of good order within the University; or
 - (b) There are grounds for a no-contact order against a student in order to protect a complainant in a sexual harassment or sexual offences case;
- he or she must report the matter to the Vice-Chancellor.

DJP3.2 If the Vice-Chancellor has reason to believe that the matter justifies terms of provisional the execution of a suspension order he or she may make a suspension order provisional order prohibiting the student from:

- (a) attending lectures and classes; and/or
- (b) participating in specified activities of the University; and/or
- (c) entering the precincts of the University or any such part thereof as may be indicated by him or her; and/or
- (d) residing in a student housing unit; and/or
- (e) making contact, directly or indirectly, with one or more than Maximum period of provisional suspension order one specified person/s while on campus; as may be appropriate for the elimination of a particular threat to good order and for a period not exceeding 72 hours.

DJP3.3 The Vice-Chancellor may impose any further conditions at the time of issuing the preliminary order or at any time thereafter.

DJP3.4 A suspension in terms of DJP 3.2 is provisional. The student so suspended is entitled to a hearing before the Vice-Chancellor within 72 hours of such provisional order being made. After hearing the representations of such student, or at the expiry of the 72-hour period, the Vice-Chancellor may:

- (a) make the provisional order final; or
- (b) make an amended final order;
- (c) withdraw the provisional order in its entirety.

DJP3.5 The Vice-Chancellor may, at any time during the operation of the suspension order, vary or revoke the suspension order in part or in whole. powers of Vice-Chancellor

DJP3.6 Where the Vice-Chancellor acts in terms of DJP 3.4 or 3.5 in making appeal to University Tribunal an order, he or she must inform the student that the student is entitled to appeal to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors for a reconsideration of the order.

DJP3.7 The maximum period of operation of any order is 100 days provided that:

- (a) any such order will be discharged upon the acquittal of the student or the implementation of any sentence imposed upon the student by any Tribunal in respect of charges arising out of the allegations upon which the suspension order is based; and
- (b) the noting of an appeal will not suspend an order pending the outcome of the appeal. maximum period of order

DJP3.8 Notwithstanding the above 100-day limitation, the period of operation may be extended by the Vice-Chancellor if the student against whom the order has been made is an accused in a criminal trial in a State court and if the criminal trial has not been concluded at the expiry of the 100-day period, until a finding and sentence has been delivered in the court or until any appeal process related to such extension of maximum period

- finding and/or sentence in the court has been concluded.
- DJP3.9 In the case of an appeal to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors, the Vice-Chancellor must submit to that tribunal his or her reasons for believing that the continued presence of or participation in activities by that student is likely to pose a threat to the maintenance of good order, and the Tribunal has the power to confirm, amend or set aside the order or an extension of such an order. right of appeal
- DJP3.10 If the Vice-Chancellor has reason to believe that there are grounds for a no-contact order against a student to protect a complainant under the sexual harassment and sexual offences policies whether or not there is an allegation of a breach of the rules for conduct for students he or she:
- (a) may issue a provisional no-contact order prohibiting a student from making contact with one or more named person(s) for a period not exceeding 72 hours;
 - (b) must allow this student a hearing within 72 hours of such provisional no-contact order being made after which, or at the expiry of the 72 hour period the Vice-Chancellor may make the provisional order final, make an amended final order, or withdraw the provisional order in its entirety.
- DJP3.11 Unless the Vice-Chancellor determines otherwise when issuing a no-contact order, the order shall constitute an absolute prohibition from making contact, directly or indirectly, with the named person(s) in any way including but not limited to contact in person, by mail, by telephone, through electronic media or by or through any other medium or person.
- DJP3.12 The provisions of DJP 3.5 to 3.9 apply mutatis mutandis to no-contact orders, save that the maximum period of a no-contact order is six months.

The Student Housing Tribunals

- DJP4.1 A student housing tribunal is: constitution of housing tribunal
- (a) the tribunal constituted in terms of the approved constitution of the applicable student housing unit and has jurisdiction in that unit; or
 - (b) the tribunal constituted by a student housing proctor being a person appointed by the Vice-Chancellor, and has jurisdiction in all student housing units.
- DJP4.2 A student housing tribunal must hear all matters referred to it by the warden of such student housing unit or by the Vice-Chancellor.
- DJP4.3 Upon conviction, this tribunal may refer the matter to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting without assessors for sentencing, or may impose any of the following sentences in respect of any one conviction: sentences of housing tribunals
- (a) a reprimand;
 - (b) a fine of up to R1000.00;
 - (c) community service of up to 80 hours;
 - (d) a prohibition against holding office in that student housing unit for a period not exceeding one year;
 - (e) the payment of a sum of money as to permit compensation for damage caused by the student;

32 DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

- (f) rustication from the student housing unit in respect of which the tribunal has jurisdiction;
- (g) expulsion from the student housing unit in respect of which the tribunal has jurisdiction.
- DJP4.4 Any sentence imposed in terms of DJP4.3 may:
- (a) be suspended for any period of time up to a maximum of one year; suspension of sentence
- (b) may be a combination of any of the sentences listed in DJP4.3; and/or combined sentences
- (c) at the request of the Vice-Chancellor or a warden, be reviewed by the Senior Proctor, who may, if he or she is of the view that the sentence is inappropriately harsh or lenient, refer the charges for re-trial by the University Tribunal sitting without assessors in accordance with DJP5.3. review of sentence
- DJP4.5 A student aggrieved by a conviction or sentence imposed by a student housing tribunal is entitled to have the matter re-tried by the University Tribunal as constituted in terms of DJP5.3. re-trial
- DJP4.6 Where a conviction has been imposed by a student housing tribunal and the matter has been referred to the University Tribunal as constituted in terms of DJP5.3 for sentencing, a right of appeal exists to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors.
- DJP4.7 The presiding officer of this tribunal may at any time, on his or her own initiative or at the request of the accused, summon any witness. witnesses
- DJP4.8 The proceedings of any such tribunal must be in private, save that the tribunal may agree to admit observers upon application. The tribunal may order that the final conviction and sentence and the name of the student found guilty of an offence and, if appropriate, the reasons for judgement, be promulgated on the student housing unit's notice boards or be communicated to any interested person or body. privacy of proceedings
- DJP4.9 No right to representation is permitted to any student summoned to appear before this tribunal. However, the accused student has the right to be assisted by any member of the University of his or her choice. right to representation
- DJP4.10 The presiding officer must keep a suitable record of the proceedings. record of proceedings

The University Student Discipline Tribunal

- DJP5.1 The University Student Discipline Tribunal (the University Tribunal) must be presided over by a proctor.
- DJP5.2 A proctor: proctor
- (a) hears the matter with two assessors where the Senior Proctor, or in his or her absence the Vice-Chancellor's nominee, considers that the breach of conduct is serious enough to warrant a sentence allowed by DJP5.12; and
- (b) hears all other matters without assessors.
- DJP5.3 The University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting without assessors has: jurisdiction
- (a) a jurisdiction of first instance;
- (b) a jurisdiction to rehear a student housing matter referred to it in terms of DJP4.5; and
- (c) a jurisdiction to impose a sentence in a student housing

- matter referred to it in terms of DJP4.3.
- DJP5.4 The University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors has -
- (a) a jurisdiction of first instance;
 - (b) a jurisdiction to hear appeals against decisions of the University Tribunal in terms of DJP 5.3 (a) or DJP 5.3(c); and
 - (c) a jurisdiction to hear appeals against suspension orders imposed by the Vice-Chancellor or by his or her nominee.
- DJP5.5 Where a proctor is to sit with assessors, the Senior Proctor, or his or her nominee, must select one assessor drawn from a list of not less than six names provided by the Vice-Chancellor and the other from a list of not less than six names provided by the SRC. Selection of assessors
- DJP5.6 When a proctor sits with assessors, a verdict may be reached by a majority. If, for any reason, an assessor is unable to continue with his or her duties as an assessor, a proctor has an ordinary and a deciding vote on matters of verdict. If both assessors are unable to continue with their duties as assessors, the matter must be heard afresh. majority vote
- DJP5.7 A proctor must pass sentence on his or her own but must consult the assessors.
- DJP5.8 Where a proctor is unable to continue with his or her duties as proctor, the case in progress must be heard afresh. absence of proctor
- DJP5.9 A student whose conduct is the subject of a charge before the University Tribunal is entitled to be represented. representation of student
- DJP5.10 A record of proceedings must be kept to the satisfaction of the Senior Proctor. record of proceedings
- DJP5.11 A proctor may impose any one or any combination of the following sentences in respect of any one conviction: tribunal sitting without assessors
- (a) a reprimand;
 - (b) a fine of up to R1000.00;
 - (c) community service of up to 100 hours;
 - (d) a prohibition against holding office in any University Committee or recognised University student body for a period not exceeding one year;
 - (e) the payment of a sum of money as compensation for damage caused by the student;
 - (f) rustication from the student housing unit or the student housing system;
 - (g) expulsion from the student housing unit or the student housing system;
 - (h) rustication from the University for up to twelve months;
 - (i) a prohibition against parking on campus for up to one year;
 - (j) a prohibition against making use of specified University facilities for up to twelve months;
 - (k) a no-contact order for a period of no more than twelve months.
- DJP5.12 A proctor sitting with assessors may impose any one or any combination of the following sentences in respect of any one conviction: sentences of Tribunal sitting with assessors
- (a) expulsion;
 - (b) rustication;
 - (c) a fine of up to R5000.00;

34 DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

- (d) community service of up to 300 hours;
- (e) the withdrawal of any degree, diploma, certificate or examination or other result;
- (f) the payment of a sum of money as compensation for any damage caused by the student;
- (g) any other sentence which may be imposed by a tribunal in terms of DJP5.11 or which the proctor may competently impose by reason of any other rules framed by the University Council.

DJP5.13 Any sentence imposed in terms of DJP5.11 or 5.12 may be suspended for any period of time and on any condition.

right of appeal*

DJP5.14 A convicted student may appeal:

- (a) to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors against any verdict and/or any sentence imposed by a Tribunal constituted by a proctor, other than where the proctor has reheard a student housing matter in terms of DJP5.3(b); and
- (b) to the University Tribunal of Appeal against any verdict and/or any sentence imposed by a Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors, other than a decision in respect of a suspension order.

DJP5.15 Where the Vice-Chancellor is of the view that a penalty is inappropriate, he or she may, within two weeks of the imposition of the penalty, apply to the Senior Proctor for permission to appeal against a penalty. This must be done by way of a written submission to the Senior Proctor.

DJP5.16 When the Senior Proctor receives a written submission from the Vice-Chancellor seeking leave to appeal against a penalty, the Senior Proctor must give the student, or students concerned, the opportunity to make written representation to the Senior Proctor about the Vice-Chancellor's submission. The Senior Proctor must do this by personal notice to the last residential term address notified by the student, or students concerned, to the Registrar. The Senior Proctor must give the student, or students concerned, ten working days in which to file representations in response.

DJP5.17 The Senior Proctor, having considered the record, the submission by the Vice-Chancellor, and any submission by the student or students concerned, must decide whether there is a reasonable prospect that the Vice-Chancellor's appeal will succeed. If so, he or she may grant leave to appeal; if not, he or she must refuse leave to appeal.

DJP5.18 Where the Senior Proctor grants leave to appeal, the appeal must be heard by:

- (a) the Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors where it is an appeal against a sentence imposed by a Tribunal constituted by a proctor; and
- (b) the Tribunal of Appeal where it is an appeal against a sentence imposed by a Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors.

Suspension of graduation

DJP5.19 Where a qualifying student (that is, a student who qualifies for the award of a degree, diploma or certificate) has been summoned to face a charge before the University Tribunal, the graduation of that student, or the award of a diploma or certificate to that student, as the case may be, is suspended until the case has been disposed of by the University Tribunal, unless the Vice-Chancellor, on written application by the student, decides otherwise.

Endorsement of record

DJP5.20 While a disciplinary case against a student is pending before a University Tribunal, the student's academic record must be endorsed to show this fact.

Publication of sentence and sanction

DJP5.21 The Registrar must publish in summary form the finding and sanction imposed by a tribunal (including the tribunal of appeal) on campus notice boards.

DJP5.22 A tribunal may order that the Registrar also publish the name of any student against whom a finding has been made.

DJP5.23 The Registrar must not publish under 5.21 or 5.22 until any appeal has been disposed of, or until the time for noting of an appeal has lapsed.

DJP5.24 The Registrar must not publish the name of a minor before notifying the parents or guardian(s) of the minor student.

Application for readmission by an expelled student

DJP6.1 A person expelled in terms of these rules who believes that he or she can show that he or she has rehabilitated himself or herself and that the circumstances generally warrant a suspension of his or her expulsion, may after a period of not less than five years from the date of his or her expulsion, make application to the University Tribunal of Appeal for readmission as a student.

application

DJP6.2 Any such application must be considered as an application for the suspension of the operation of the sentence; and not as an application for the setting aside of any finding, or the setting aside of any sentence.

DJP6.3 This application must establish to the satisfaction of the Tribunal of Appeal:

- (a) remorse
- (b) evidence of rehabilitation; and
- (c) that there is no significant risk of the recurrence of the conduct in question

DJP6.4 Any such application must be in writing to the Registrar, and must set out in full the grounds on which the applicant bases his or her case. The Registrar must invite the Vice-Chancellor, or nominee, to file a reply to the application; and must similarly notify any affected third party of the application and invite such third party or parties to file replying submissions. The applicant is/will be entitled to receive any such replying submissions, and to respond to them in writing. Time limits for submissions, replies and responses must be determined by the Senior Proctor.

DJP6.5 The University Tribunal of Appeal may decide the matter on the basis of the papers, and where it considers this necessary, may hold an oral enquiry.

decision of the University Tribunal of Appeal

DJP6.6 The University Tribunal of Appeal may:

- (a) dismiss the application; or
- (b) grant the application with or without conditions, and
- (c) impose such conditions on the person's readmission to the

36 DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

University as it may consider appropriate, including debarring such a person from readmission into a University residence or requiring compulsory involvement in community service.

- DJP6.7 If the University Tribunal of Appeal grants an application, the effect of its order will be to suspend the operation of the expulsion, allowing the person to seek readmission, on academic grounds, to one or more courses of study. suspension of the expulsion
- DJP6.8 If the University Tribunal of Appeal dismisses the application, the person may after a further period of two years apply in writing to the Senior Proctor for leave to submit a further application, providing the reasons on which he or she believes the application should be considered. The Senior Proctor's decision on whether to allow a further application to be heard will be final, and must be communicated in writing, with reasons.

The University Tribunal of Appeal

- DJP7.1 The University Tribunal of Appeal is composed as follows composition of Tribunal
- (a) a president, who has legal qualifications, appointed by Council;
 - (b) a person appointed by the SRC;
 - (c) one member appointed by Senate;
 - (d) a person chosen by the president from a list of not less than 6 names submitted at the beginning of each year, by the SRC.
- DJP7.2 The persons appointed in terms of DJP7.1 (a), (b) and (c) must be appointed together with at least three alternates by the appointing body. Alternates
- DJP7.3 Three of the members form a quorum. quorum
- DJP7.4 In the event of a tie in the voting, the president has a casting as well as a deliberative vote. vote of presiding officer
- DJP7.5 If an appeal is made to the University Tribunal of Appeal it may in its discretion: powers of Tribunal of Appeal
- (a) uphold the appeal in whole or in part;
 - (b) dismiss the appeal in whole or in part;
 - (c) alter the penalty imposed by the Tribunal, and in so doing, it has the same powers to impose sentences as the University Tribunal in terms of DJP 5.12.
- DJP7.6 The right of representation before the University Tribunal of Appeal is as for the University Tribunal.
- DJP7.7 The University Tribunal of Appeal may prescribe procedures in terms of DJP2.2. prescription of procedures
- DJP7.8 The University Tribunal of Appeal may set guidelines for sentences and for the equivalence between an amount of a fine and an alternate sentence (for example, hours of community service). recommended penalties

Rules of procedure in respect of University tribunals

- DJP8.1 The presiding officer of any tribunal may at any time, on his or her own initiative or at the request of the defendant or the University, summon any witness(es) he or she may think appropriate for the just and speedy conclusion of the matter. witnesses
- DJP8.2 If an accused student or an appellant is absent at the commencement or at any stage of the hearing of any matter against him or her and absence of accused /representative

- has not shown good cause for his or her absence the tribunal may proceed in the absence of the accused or of his or her representative.
- DJP8.3 If an accused student hinders or obstructs any tribunal proceedings or fails to obey an instruction by a presiding officer, then the tribunal may order his or her withdrawal from the tribunal and proceed to the conclusion of the matter in his or her absence. obstructive behaviour
- DJP8.4 All matters before the University Tribunal or the University Tribunal of Appeal are open to any member of Council or to any staff member or student upon presentation of his or her student card: Provided that the presiding officer may, upon application from any party to the matter, order the matter, or part thereof
- (a) to be heard in camera; or
- (b) to be heard in the presence of specified individuals only.
- DJP8.5 The presiding officer of the University Tribunal or the University Tribunal of Appeal may upon application by a parent or guardian of a student appearing before the tribunal, permit the student's parents or guardians access to the hearing: Provided that, in the case of a student who has obtained the status of majority, the presiding officer must have regard to the student's opinion. presence of parents/guardian
- DJP8.6 The presiding officer is charged with the responsibility of ensuring the rules contained in RCS 16 are observed. In this regard, the following powers are granted to such officers: powers of presiding officer
- (a) The presiding officer of any tribunal is entitled to warn any witness to be truthful.
- (b) The presiding officer of any tribunal has summary jurisdiction to fine any student, including the accused, whom he or she finds to be in breach of any rule contained in RCS 16 subject to the right of such student to appeal to the University Tribunal constituted by a proctor sitting with assessors for a formal re-hearing of the matter within 14 days of such fine being imposed. Any fine imposed in terms of this rule shall not be in excess of R1000 per offence. maximum fine
- (c) The presiding officer of any tribunal constituted in terms of these rules has the power to have any person removed from any tribunal should he or she have reason to believe that such person is in breach of any rule contained in RCS 16.
- DJP8.7 Any student who wishes to appeal in terms of these rules must file with the Registrar his or her notice of appeal within seven days of his or her conviction and sentence, setting out his or her grounds of appeal. notice of appeal
- DJP8.8 The noting of an appeal under these procedures will suspend the execution of any sentence imposed by any disciplinary authority, unless such authority is satisfied that compelling reasons exist for the immediate execution of sentence. suspension of sentence

- DJP9.1 In the event that the president of the SRC or the SRC does not act in terms of the powers or rights vested in him or her/it in terms of these rules, the chairperson of Council is, after granting the SRC an opportunity to explain its case, empowered to direct such departures from these rules as may be necessary to enable the tribunals to discharge their disciplinary functions, provided that such departures are well advertised on the campus. in failure of SRC to act

38 DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURES

- DJP9.2 In any case of proven breach of discipline or misconduct, the student concerned forfeits all claims to repayment or rebate of fees paid to the University, save that the presiding officer, in his or her discretion, may instruct otherwise. forfeiture of fees/rebate
- DJP9.3 Advice on these rules and the procedures contained in them is available to any student on request from the Registrar or his or her nominee(s). advice on rules
- DJP9.4 Procedural Rules approved by the University Tribunal of Appeal must be provided by the University's representative to any accused student.

Admission of guilt

- DJP10.1 The University Tribunal of Appeal may determine which offences may be dealt with by way of an admission of guilt fine and the upper and lower limits of fine in respect of each such offence. University Tribunal of Appeal
- DJP10.2 Instead of an admission of guilt fine, community service may be rendered at the equivalent of a rate per hour as decided by the Tribunal of Appeal. admission of guilt fine

Criminal convictions

- DJP11.1 Where a student is convicted in a State court of a criminal offence, and the facts at issue in a case against that student before any tribunal are the same, the Tribunal may, if the student admits the conviction and the facts to which it relates, take these facts as proven.
- DJP11.2 The Tribunal may in any event take such conviction and the facts to which it relates as proven if these have been determined by a court of final jurisdiction.
- DJP11.3 In any such case, the tribunal must proceed to hear evidence and argument, if any, on the question of sanction before imposing any sentence.

Exclusion clause

- DJP12 Save in exceptional circumstances as a court of competent jurisdiction may determine, no decision in relation to a disciplinary matter made under these rules by any tribunal, nor any suspension order made under these rules may be the subject of any review proceedings, application or action to the ordinary courts, unless all domestic remedies have been fully and finally exhausted.

- RCS12.2 A student must comply with the rules laid down for the use of any micro lab. micro labs

Conduct in respect of rules relating to meetings

- RCS13 No student body or group of students must arrange any meeting on the University campus to which non-University speakers have been invited in contravention of the "Rules relating to meetings on Campus or under the Aegis of the University" and "Rules for use of University Venues". published rules

Conduct of student bodies

- RCS14.1 Any office bearer of any University society, club or code must comply with any request by the Societies Council, the University Student Development and Services Committee, or a person or persons acting on behalf of either to give an account of the activities of the society, club or code, in regard to any alleged contravention of any rule, governing such activities, set by any competent authority within the University. accountability
- RCS14.2 The office-bearers of any recognised University student body must be personally liable for any breach of any University rule committed by members of that body in the name of that body, unless such office-bearers establish that they took all reasonable steps to prevent the breach of such rule(s). personal liability

Rules relating to safety

- RCS15.1 A student on the University campus must not connect any equipment or appliance to an electrical supply in contravention of normal and reasonable safety standards. electrical connections
- RCS15.2 A student must not use an immersion heater on the University campus. immersion heaters
- RCS15.3 A student in a student housing unit must not use any appliance which draws more than one kilowatt of electrical power. electrical power
- RCS15.4 A student must not interfere with or make unauthorised use of fire protection equipment. fire protection
- RCS15.5 A student in a student housing unit must only make use of an electric extension cord inside his or her own room. extension cords

46 STUDENT RULES

- RCS15.6 A student in a student housing unit must, when leaving a room or going to sleep, switch off any heat-producing electrical appliance such as a heater, stove or iron. switching off appliances
- RCS15.7 A student in a student housing unit must not permit a naked flame, such as a gas lamp or candle, to burn in any room in the residence without the prior permission of the warden. naked flame
- RCS15.8 A student must not interfere with the normal operation of any access control mechanism or installation in any part of the housing unit. access control mechanisms

Conduct in respect of University Tribunals and other disciplinary structures

- RCS16.1 A student attending any sitting of any disciplinary Tribunal must observe and obey any instruction of the presiding officer of the Tribunal concerned.
- RCS16.2 A student present at any tribunal hearing must not, in any circumstances, interfere with or in any manner disrupt or disturb the disciplinary process. disruption
- RCS16.3 A student summoned to appear before any Tribunal as a witness or as the accused must be present at all times specified in the summons or as specifically instructed by the presiding officer of any tribunal. specified times
- RCS16.4 A student giving evidence before any disciplinary tribunal at the University shall be required to be truthful and honest at all times and must not make perjurious statements. truthfulness
- RCS16.5 No student observer in any matter before any disciplinary tribunal must divulge the identities of any person or persons party to such matter in any manner that may constitute publication without the prior permission of the presiding officer. privacy
- RCS16.6 A student may not interfere with, threaten or intimidate any person who will be required to appear before a Student Discipline Tribunal to give evidence. interference with witnesses
- RCS16.7 A student shall comply with an order made by any Student Discipline Tribunal. compliance with Tribunal orders

Student disciplinary records and student transcripts

- RCS17 Any conviction in a disciplinary matter is recorded, and an individual student's disciplinary record is permanent. Any transcript of academic record issued to a student is a complete transcript, and includes a statement of conduct. If the student has no disciplinary record, the statement is "conduct satisfactory". If he or she has one, the Vice-Chancellor or nominee reviews it, together with any submission made by the student, and makes a decision whether or not the record, taken as a whole and in context, allows a statement of "conduct satisfactory" or requires a listing of the transgression(s). Unless a student's submissions provide compelling reasons, or the circumstances do not, in the opinion of the Vice-Chancellor or nominee, require this, academic dishonesty will be endorsed; any record of theft on the campus of UCT or of peer property will be; and any conviction for violence, especially related to sexual harassment or aggravated by drunkenness, will be. statement of conduct on academic transcript

Proper channels for student complaints

Where the Students' Representative Council, any other student organisation, or any individual student, wishes to complain or make any representations concerning:

- (a) any member or members of staff reflecting upon his, her or their morality, honesty, competence or any other matter which may expose him, her or them to contempt, ridicule or loss of esteem;
 - (b) any other University matters, including those relating to academic departments or University administration;
- It or he or she may proceed through the channels provided here.
1. Save in respect of matters concerning administration, which shall be reported to the Registrar, matters in the first instance shall be reported to the departmental or faculty student liaison officer. Should the organisation, student or student faculty council wish to proceed further it shall next report to the head of the department concerned, thereafter to the dean and finally to the Vice-Chancellor or his or her deputy charged with the administration of student affairs. route of complaint
 The Vice-Chancellor may appoint a committee of inquiry to investigate any matter referred to him or her or the Registrar and to report back to him or her with such recommendations as it wishes. committee of inquiry
 The composition of the committee in each instance shall be determined by the Vice-Chancellor after consultation with the president of the Students' Representative Council or his or her nominee.
 Once the Vice-Chancellor or his or her deputy, as the case may be, has dealt with the matter finally he or she shall advise the person and/or entity who made the complaint or representation of the action taken by him or her. The provisions of this paragraph are not intended to and do not exclude the rights of a student to consult with the Students' Representative Council in connection with any complaint/s or representation/s which he or she/it may wish to make. notice of action taken
right to consult SRC
 2. Before any matter referred to in paragraph 1 (a) above is raised publicly within or outside the University, the Vice-Chancellor or his or her deputy, as the case may be, must be afforded an opportunity to resolve the matter. Should the Vice-Chancellor or his or her deputy, as the case may be, not be able to resolve the matter within a reasonable period and the Students' Representative Council, students' organisation or student then wishes to raise the matter publicly or where the Students' Representative Council, students' organisation or student wishes to raise publicly any other matter referred to in paragraph 1 (b) above, he or she/it shall afford a reasonable opportunity for simultaneous expression of contrary views or alternatively identify the organisation or person whose views are being expressed. placing the matter before the public
 The provisions of this paragraph do not apply in the following instances:
 (a) in respect of the canvassing of facts by the Students' Representative Council or other students' organisations in order to ascertain the gravity of any complaint made and the need to pursue it through the channels stipulated in paragraph 1 above; canvassing of facts
 (b) in respect of any factual report back to students of the progress or result of any complaint or representations made in terms of paragraph 1 above.
 3. The provisions set out above shall form part of the rules to which students are subject as a condition of registration. general rules

Student Publications

Code of ethics for student publications

1. It is accepted that the freedom of the press is indivisible from that of the individual, that is, subject to the same legal and moral restraint as the individual, and that to preserve individual freedom intact it behoves all concerned with the press to observe the very highest standards in the performance of the duty of newspapers to inform the public truthfully and to comment fairly.
2. In so far as news is concerned it is specifically accepted that:
 - 2.1 In the presentation of news there should be no wilful departure from facts through either:
 - (a) distortion;
 - (b) significant omissions; or
 - (c) the process of summarisation.
 - 2.2 Publications should publish as fact only what is reasonably believed to be true, having regard to the source, and such facts should be published fairly with due regard to context and importance.
 - 2.3 Where there is any reason to doubt the accuracy of a news item and where it can be checked within the limits of practicability, this should be done before publication.
 - 2.4 News reports should be free from colouring, slanting or emphasis which lead to the result that the provisions of Clauses 2.1 and 2.2 above are violated.
 - 2.5 Headlines should reflect fairly the content of the news report or article over which they appear.
 - 2.6 Posters should not exaggerate and should reflect fairly the news report or article to which they refer.
 - 2.7 Excess in the reporting and presentation of sexual matter should be avoided whether reporting court cases or otherwise.
 - 2.8 The use of obscene, salacious and such generally undesirable material (as well as offensive language and illustrations) should be avoided.
3. In so far as comment is concerned it is accepted that:
 - 3.1 Comment should be made on facts truly stated as indicated in Clause 2 above (and not on intuition and imputed motives).
 - 3.2 Comment should be the honest expression of such opinion, free from malice and not actuated by dishonest motive.
 - 3.3 Comment should be clearly distinguishable as such.
 - 3.4 Comment should take cognisance of the complex racial problems of South Africa, the general good and the safety of the country and its people.

(Taken from South African Press Board of Reference.)

4. "Any published information which is found to be harmfully inaccurate should be spontaneously and immediately rectified. Rumour and unconfirmed news should be identified and treated as such."

("Nations Draft International Code of Ethics and recommended by SA Press Board of Reference.)

5. "While entitled to exercise its right of independent and legitimate criticism, a student newspaper should take proper cognisance of and in particular should not wilfully and maliciously aim to damage the welfare, dignity and reputation of the University."
- 5.1 "In raising matters of importance relating to the academic and administrative aspects of the University, a student newspaper should take proper cognisance of the relevant channels as determined by the authorities."
- 5.2 "All those concerned with student publications are reminded that they should observe the rules applicable to students and members of the University and the established law of the land."

RULES ON MEETINGS

Preamble

The basic academic freedoms are a constitutive part of a university. They were identified by TB Davie as the freedom of a university to determine for itself on academic grounds who may teach, what may be taught, how it shall be taught, and who may be taught.

A university has an ethical duty not only to defend academic freedom, but also to seek to defend and extend freedom of speech and freedom of assembly. Freedom of speech and freedom of assembly are necessary prerequisites for academic freedom.

An essential feature of academic freedom in its widest sense is the right not just of one view, but of those holding conflicting views, equally to be heard.

In striving to preserve and extend freedom of speech and academic freedom, the University needs scrupulously to ensure for its members and its guests the opportunity to speak freely and openly, implying exposure to free and open criticism. This must apply equally to speakers who are contentious, politically or in other ways, as it does to others. Members of the University and its guests must concede freedom of speech to others if they are to enjoy it themselves.

A university must have the right, on behalf of its members, to invite any person to speak at academic or other meetings or occasions. The University of Cape Town affirms this right. It is normally exercised by individuals, clubs, societies, or other groups.

There is a parallel right to the right to invite a speaker or convene a meeting: the right to dissent and to express this dissent. This right must never be exercised in a way that limits or denies freedom of speech or of expression to others.

The right to invite a speaker and the right to speak freely and openly must be exercised responsibly. These rights must not be abused by the encouragement of racism or violence.

Academic freedom, freedom of speech -- including the right to invite speakers -- and freedom of assembly have previously been restricted and denied under apartheid South African law. The University must defend and seek to promote freedom when any agency places constraints on it.

In order to promote freedom of speech and of assembly and academic freedom, the University Council has framed the following rules for conduct before, at or after meetings or other occasions.

NOTE: For the purpose of these rules, academic programme is any programme (including single meeting or occasion) under the aegis of a department, institute or other academic unit, or the University administration.

Meetings or occasions which do not form part of an academic programme

M1 The authority on matters relating to meetings or occasions that do the Committee not form part of an academic programme held on University premises or under the aegis of the University vests in a committee (hereinafter called the "Committee"), constituted as follows:

* The Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee as Chairperson;

* four members of the Academic Freedom Committee elected by referral to Council that Committee.

The quorum for this Committee shall be two, one of whom must be the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee.

If for any reason it is impossible to convene a meeting or consult members of the Committee, the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, if possible after consultation with the Chairman of Council and the President of the SRC, may exercise this authority.

The Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, has the right to refer any matter to Council for decision.

M2 Any person, department or other organisation wishing to arrange a meeting or other occasion at which a person who is not a member of notice of meeting staff or a student is invited to speak, shall publish details of the time of notice: in

|------|--|--|
| | meeting or occasion and the identity of the speaker(s) in a prominent position on appropriate notice-boards and to which staff and students have access. During the academic term, this publication shall be made to the relevant staff and students as soon as the topic and, if possible, the name(s) of the speaker(s) is(are) known, and as far as possible at least seven clear working days before the scheduled time of the meeting or occasion. | academic term |
| | In the case of meetings scheduled during University vacations, such publication shall be made, whenever possible, seven clear working days during the term before the vacation in which the meeting is scheduled. Where this is impossible, the meeting should be publicised at least seven clear working days before it is scheduled to be held. | in vacations |
| M3 | Should the person who is arranging the meeting or occasion have any reason to believe that the meeting, occasion, invited speaker(s) or the subject matter of any talk may cause protest by or resistance from any sector of the University community, (s)he shall forthwith report that fact to the chairperson of the Committee. | possibility of disturbance |
| M4 | Any objection to a speaker or the subject matter of any talk shall be lodged with the chairperson of the Committee and the organiser of the meeting within three days of publication. | lodging of objections |
| M5 | If a report is received in terms of M3 above, or if an objection is lodged, or if a member of the Committee so requests, the Committee shall meet as soon as possible to consider the matter. | Committee's consideration of objections |
| M6 | After consideration of the matter and of any objections to it, as well as of any other representations, the Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, shall, if it/(s)he regards the objection as having sufficient merit, endeavour by negotiation with those representing different views to achieve a solution acceptable to those persons. If it is not possible to achieve such a solution, the Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, shall determine whether the meeting may be held and, if so, what conditions (if any) shall be placed upon the holding of the meeting or occasion. The Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, may only in very exceptional circumstances prohibit the speaker from speaking or the meeting or occasion from taking place. The Committee is required to report to Senate and Council the reasons for disallowing a meeting and the implications thereof (with regard to the principle that differing views should be heard on campus), and to make recommendations in this regard. | |
| M7 | In exercising its/his or her discretion, the Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, shall be guided by the principles set out in the preamble above and may: | guidelines |
| M7.1 | negotiate for a meeting where or occasion when alternative views may be expressed; | alternative views |
| M7.2 | limit admission to the meeting or occasion to: | restrictions on admission |
| | (a) students carrying current registration cards issued in their own names; | |
| | (b) University staff who can identify themselves; and | |
| | (c) visitors showing proof of an invitation; | |
| M7.3 | prohibit or permit the carrying into the meeting of flags, banners or | flags/banners/ |

- M7.4 posters of a particular description; prohibit the carrying or use of any instrument capable of creating a volume of noise which could disrupt or hamper the start or continuation of the meeting or occasion; posters disruption
- M7.5 authorise the stationing of personnel at named places or areas to enforce compliance with these rules. Personnel so authorised shall (whilst so stationed) carry and display at all times identity cards issued for this purpose by the chairperson of the Committee. law enforcement

Meetings or occasions which form part of an academic programme

- M8 Publication of an invitation to a speaker who is to speak at an academic occasion or as part of an academic programme, and who is not a member of staff or a student, shall be as set out above. notice of meeting
- M9 Any objection to a speaker on an academic occasion or an academic programme shall be lodged, in the first instance, with the head of the department, institute or unit concerned and if (s)he is not able to resolve the matter to the satisfaction of the person(s) arranging the meeting or occasion and any objecting party(ies), (s)he shall refer it to the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee who may
(a) make a final decision in the matter, or
(b) refer the matter to the Committee referred to in M1 above for a decision. objections
- M10 In cases of urgency, or for other good reason, the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee may waive the requirements set out in M8 and M9, and grant authority for the proposed invitation to be extended to a speaker or speakers. urgent cases
- M11 The Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee or the Committee, as the case may be, may impose any of the conditions set out in paragraphs M6 and M7 above. conditions imposed
- M12 The Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee may grant to a head or dean authority to waive rule M8 in respect of any, or all, visitor(s) to a specific department or programme for a specified period. waiver of notice

Code of behaviour

- M13 No person shall:
- M13.1 fail to obey any condition imposed by the Committee or the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, as the case may be, in terms of paragraphs M6 or M7 above;
- M13.2 behave or attempt to behave or incite or encourage another to behave in a manner which goes beyond the limits of reasonable protest in that it has the effect of preventing an authorised meeting or occasion from being held or, when it has commenced, from continuing; limits on protest
- M13.3 take any weapon into a meeting or occasion, or use or throw any object in the course of the meeting or occasion, which may cause injury or damage or disruption; weapons
- M13.4 commit any act of intimidation in regard to or in connection with any such meeting or occasion; intimidation
- M13.5 engage in racially provocative conduct; racism
- M13.6 engage in sexist conduct. sexism

The special case of elections for public office

- M14 The University does not to allow its premises or facilities to be used for electioneering for public office. By electioneering the University electioneering understands a meeting or occasion organised for one candidate for public office, for the purpose of promoting his or her candidature; or a meeting or occasion organised to promote a candidate, or an election as a whole, or a group of candidates, or a party's candidates; or a meeting or occasion organised to dissuade a course of action in regard to a candidate, candidates, party, parties, or an election as a whole.

Members of the University community on campus (currently registered students and current members of staff) are, however free to debate political questions on the campus, campus, both in general and at the time of an election.

In order to allow for the proper exercise of this right to debate political questions, and at the same time prevent the use of the premises and facilities of the University for electioneering:

- (a) no meeting shall be held after the gazetting of an election at which the election is to be debated, or at which a candidate for an election is to speak, unless the meeting has been considered by the Committee in terms of M6 and M7 above;
- (b) in exercising the discretion allowed in respect of M6 and M7, the Committee shall be guided by the preamble to these rules.

*discretion of the

Chancellor*

If for any reason it is impossible to convene a meeting or consult members of the Committee, the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee, if possible after consultation with the chairman of Council and the president of the SRC, may exercise this authority. In the case of meetings concerning the issue of an election as a whole, the intention of these rules is to allow debate but to make it possible for all opinions to be heard.

Exclusions

M15 These rules do not apply to sporting events held on campus or under the aegis of the University.

Breach of the rules

M16 Any breach of the above rules shall be an offence which may be dealt with in terms of the Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures. If there has been an objection, but the meeting is allowed to proceed, it must be accepted that this has been done after careful consideration and with the approval of the University. Any speaker invited to speak on campus is a guest of the University and is entitled to the protection of the University. Any attempt to prevent a speaker from delivering his or her address, or from being heard, or from answering questions, is not acceptable and shall be deemed to be a breach of the rule.

Rules on the use of UCT venues

V1 The University's facilities (lecture theatres, halls, offices, residences, catering outlets and sports facilities) exist first for teaching, research and extension activities, and second, for the social and recreational activities of staff and of students. Teaching, research and extension activities, in particular teaching, will, therefore, always enjoy priorities over other activities in the booking of University venues; symposia, conferences and associated social and recreational

- activities come next.
- V2 That said, the University has many facilities which are not used twenty-four hours a day, or twelve months a year. The University allows these facilities to be used for other approved cultural, scientific, educational, recreational purposes for appropriate fees. other purposes
- V3 The University welcomes applications for the holding of conferences, symposia and seminars on the campus. Organisers of such events must seek permission to hold them at UCT, and should submit applications to the University's Communication and Marketing Department. This must be done before venues can be confirmed. conferences, symposia, seminars
- V4 Invitations to Ministers of State, Deputy Ministers High Commissioners and Ambassadors to speak at UCT venues may be issued only by the office of the Vice-Chancellor. Any UCT organ wishing to invite any of the above to UCT must, for protocol reasons only, send the invitation via the Vice-Chancellor's office. state invitations
- V5 The University:
- V5.1 will in general allow private functions on the campus if they involve a staff member or a student; private functions
- V5.2 does not allow any functions of a racist or sexist nature, or one that excludes any individual by reason of his or her race, gender or religious belief, to be held on the campus. race/sex/gender

RULES FOR RESIDENCES

Authorities

- R1.1 The authority of the University Council is vested in the warden of a residence and in the House Committee approved for this purpose under R1.8 below. The warden and the House Committee are responsible jointly and severally in terms of these rules for discipline of the students, for their social and academic welfare, and for the general control of the residence. wardens/ House Committees
- R1.2 The warden is responsible to the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee for the proper exercise of the responsibilities and duties delegated to him or her by Council for the proper exercise of responsibilities and duties delegated to him or her by that committee. The House Committee is responsible to the Residences Committee for the proper exercise of the responsibilities and duties delegated to it.
- R1.3 A assistant warden is expected to engage in the major activities which constitute the responsibilities of a warden. An assistant warden engages in these activities under the direction of a warden, and is as such responsible to the warden for the proper exercise of his or her responsibilities. assistant warden
- R1.4 Sub-wardens are the deputies of the warden and are responsible to him or her for the proper exercise of the responsibilities and duties delegated to them by the warden. They share with the warden a general responsibility for discipline of the students, for their social and academic welfare, and for the general control of the residence. sub-wardens
- R1.5 If a residence has more than one warden, then the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee shall designate one of these wardens to be the warden for the purposes of these rules. more than one warden
- R1.6 If a warden wishes to be absent from the residence for more than 24 hours, he or she must submit an application for leave to the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, or his or her nominee. If an assistant warden wishes to be absent from the residence for more than 24 but less than 72 hours, he or she must submit an application to the warden. If the period is 72 hours or more, the application must be submitted through the warden to the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, or his or her nominee. absence of the warden/ assistant warden
- R1.7 If the warden is to be absent from the residence and out of contact for more than 24 hours, then an acting warden must be appointed as follows: appointment of acting warden
- R1.7.1 for an absence of seven days or less, by the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life.
- R1.7.2 for an absence of more than seven days, by Executive Director: Student Affairs, on the recommendation of the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, who must consult, if possible, the warden and the head student of the residence.
- R1.8 A House Committee for the purposes of these rules is any body which has been set up in terms of a house constitution approved by the Council, and to which Council has delegated the responsibilities and powers described in R8 and R9 below. House Committee
- R1.9 If a residence for any reason does not have a House Committee, then the warden shall exercise the responsibilities and powers assigned by these rules to the House Committee.

- R1.10 If the warden is of the opinion that any resolution of the House Committee is a breach of the rules of the University or is likely to prejudice to a material extent the discipline of the students in the residence, or their social and academic welfare, or the general control of the residence, then he or she must refer that resolution to the Residences Committee for decision. The House Committee may not act upon or implement any such resolution until the Residences Committee gives its formal approval.
- breach of rules by House Committee*

- R9.1 deal with any matter delegated to it by the Council;
- R9.2 impose, subject to the approval of the Residences Committee, the University Finance Committee, and Council financial levies upon student members of the residence.

Procedures to be followed when a warden refers a House Committee resolution to the Residences Committee

- R10.1 When a warden decides to refer for final decision to the Residences Committee any resolution of his or her House Committee, then he or she must inform the Chair of the Residences Committee as soon as possible. The Chair of the Residences Committee must, if at all possible, meet the warden and the head student within 24 hours of the meeting of the House Committee at which the resolution was taken. If the warden and head student agree that it is not essential that the meeting be held within this period of 24 hours, then it may be postponed to a date and time agreed upon by the warden and the head student. time period for decision
- R10.2 The Chair of the Residences Committee must at this meeting hear the views of the warden and of the head student on the House Committee resolution which the warden has reserved for final decision by the Residences Committee. The Chair of the Residences Committee must, after hearing both views, determine whether or not the warden was correct in reserving the resolution for final decision by the Residences Committee. views of warden & head student
- R10.3 If the Chair of the Residences Committee rules that the warden should not have reserved the House Committee resolution for final decision by the Residences Committee and if the warden accepts this ruling, then the House Committee may act on that resolution. The ruling of the Chair of the Residences Committee shall be deemed to be the final decision of the Residences Committee. If the warden does not accept this ruling, then he or she may ask that the matter be considered by the Residences Committee. If the warden asks that the matter be referred to the Residences Committee, then the House Committee may not act on the resolution. negative ruling by Chair of Residences Committee

- R10.4 If the Chair of the Residences Committee rules that the warden acted correctly in reserving the House Committee resolution for final decision by the Residences Committee, then the House Committee must not act on that resolution. If the head student accepts this ruling, then this shall be deemed to be the final decision of the Residences Committee. If the head student does not accept the ruling, then he or she must ask that the matter be considered by the Residences Committee. affirmative ruling by Chair of Residences Committee
- R10.5 If either the warden or the head student asks that the matter be considered further, then the Residences Committee shall, if at all possible, meet within 72 hours of the conclusion of the meeting between the Chair of the Residences Committee, the warden and the head student. The Residences Committee shall at this meeting hear the views of the warden and of the head student. Up to two additional members of the House Committee may attend (and speak at) this meeting. request for further consideration
- R10.6 The Residences Committee shall, after hearing the views of the warden and of the members of the House Committee present, determine whether or not the House Committee may act upon the resolution under discussion. The decision of the Residences Committee shall be deemed to be final. final decision by Residences Committee
- R10.7 All decisions taken by the Chair of the Residences Committee in terms of R10.3 to R10.6 above must be reported to the Residences Committee for information. inreport to Residences Committee

Admission and readmission to residences

- R11.1 Residence places are allocated for an academic year or the balance of an academic year. Acceptance of an offer of a place in residence by a student constitutes acceptance of the place for the full academic year or the balance of the academic year. Residence places include places in self-catering accommodation. period of admission to a residence
- R11.2 Acceptance of the offer of a place renders a student liable for the fee for the full year, including meal option charges if applicable. A rebate shall not be granted to a student who leaves residence before the end of the academic year except in the circumstances set out below. fee charges
- R11.3 A student who enters a residence after the start of the academic year shall be liable for charges on a pro-rata basis determined from time to time by the Residences Committee. admission after start of academic year
- R11.4 Readmissions to a residence in a subsequent academic year shall be processed on the basis of application forms received before a published deadline. readmission
- R11.5 The warden of a residence may refuse an application for readmission to the residence on the grounds of misbehaviour, violations of rules or disciplinary findings against a student. The warden must provide the reasons for his or her refusal in writing to the student. In such cases, the student may request the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, to review the warden's decision. refusal of readmission by warden
- R11.6 The warden of a residence may impose special conditions for the readmission of a student. In such cases the student may request the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, to review the conditions imposed by the warden. special conditions
- R11.7 A student whose application for readmission to a specific residence admission to or student accommodation unit has been refused may apply to the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life for permission to apply for admission to another residence or accommodation unit. If this permission is granted, the warden of the second residence must be informed of the grounds for readmission of the student having been refused. If such permission is denied the Director must provide reasons for his or her refusal in writing to the student. In such cases the student has the right of appeal to the Executive Director, Student Affairs, whose decision shall be final. another residence

R11.8 The offer of readmission will lapse when acceptance is not confirmed by the student before the stipulated date. confirmation of acceptance

Length of residence year

R12.1 The residence year for a student in a first-tier catering residence is as follows: first-tier residences

- (a) First Semester: A student may not move into his or her assigned accommodation before Tuesday, 03 February 2009. Except with permission of the warden, a student must vacate and clear his or her room and leave the residence no later than 72 hours after his or her last scheduled examination during June 2009. All catering residences will close at 10h00 on Sunday, 14 June 2009.
- (b) Second semester: A student may not return to his or her residence before Sunday, 19 July 2009. Except with the permission of the warden, a student must vacate and clear his or her room no later than 72 hours after his or her last scheduled examination in October/November. All catering residences will close at 10h00 on Friday, 20 November 2009.
- (c) A student is not required to move out during the short vacations in April and September.

R12.2 The residence year for a student in second-tier (catering or self-catering) accommodation runs from Tuesday, 03 February 2009 until Friday, 20 November 2009. A student may not move into this accommodation before 03 February and must vacate it by 10h00 on Friday, 20 November 2009. A student is not required to move out during the July vacation or the short vacations in April and September. second-tier residences

R12.3 The residence year for a student in third-tier (self-catering) accommodation runs from Tuesday, 03 February 2009 (except in family accommodation - JP Duminy Court - which runs from Thursday, 15 January 2009) until Tuesday, 15 December 2009. A student shall not move into this accommodation before the prescribed date and must vacate it by 10h00 on Tuesday, 15 December 2009. A student is not required to move out during the university vacations. third-tier residences

R12.4 Students resident at the UCT in 2009 must sign in to their allocated residence by no later than 31 January in the case of JP Duminy Court and Saturday, 07 February 2009 for all other student accommodation. Failure to sign in by this date will result in the cancellation of the residence place. deadline for signing into residence

R12.5 A graduand may remain in a residence opened for this purpose until the day after his or her graduation ceremony. An additional pro-rata graduands charge will be levied for the extended period.

R12.6 The following policies have been adopted regarding the year-end year-end closure of residences and dining halls closure of residences and dining halls:

- (a) Any residence may be closed before Friday, 20 November 2009 if, after the completion of written examinations, 80% or more of the students have left.
- (b) Those students remaining for bona fide reasons may be transferred to another catering residence.
- (c) As a matter of principle, any students who are at the time still involved in examinations will be moved only with their agreement.

Early return of students with official positions in their residences

R13.1 House Committee members from all residences are allowed to return House Committee members from Sunday, 01 February 2009 and will be accommodated in a residence opened for this purpose. No room or meal charges will be made. House Committee members in self-catering residences will be provided with meals only for the days they are not accommodated in their own residences.

R13.2 Other students with official positions in their residences, and who are other students required for residence duty required for duty in the residence, will be allowed to return from Sunday, 01 February 2009. If a House Committee believes that a pressing reason exists for a student with an official responsibility to return earlier than the above dates, it may make a special request to the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, for an exception.

Annual residence fee

R14 For the purposes of determining the penalties and refunds referred to estimate of amount in the rules which follow, the annual residence fee is deemed to be the sum of room and catering overhead charges and meal option charges. The annual residence fee for these purposes does not include amenities fees or damage or laundry levies.

Cancellation of residence reservations

R15.1 An applicant who cancels his or her residence reservation before the applicants' cancellation before registration date on which he or she is required to register for a course of study shall forfeit the residence deposit he or she may have been required to pay.

R15.2 An applicant who does not enter a residence and who cancels his or after registration her residence reservation after the date on which he or she was due to register for a course of study shall forfeit any deposit he or she may have paid. He or she shall furthermore be liable for 30% of the annual residence fee unless the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, is satisfied that the applicant cancelled the reservation for good reasons.

R15.3 A returning student who accepts an offer of readmission to residence cancellation by returners may cancel his or her acceptance without penalty on or before 15 January 2009.

R15.4 A returning student who accepts an offer of readmission and cancels cancellation before 15 January his or her acceptance after 15 January shall be liable for a portion of the annual residence fee, as follows:
(a) for cancellation after 15 January but before 03 February after 15 January

- 2009: R500;
 - (b) for cancellation on or after 03 February 2009 but before 07 February 2009: R1 000;
 - (c) for cancellation after 07 February 2009 where the student does not take up his or her residence place: 30% of the annual residence fee.
- R15.5 The Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, may waive all or part of the fee for which a student who cancels his or her acceptance after 15 January shall be liable. waiver of penalty

Withdrawals after start of academic year

- R16.1 Any student who enters residence and withdraws during the first semester shall be liable for the full annual residence fee unless he or she satisfies the requirements in the case of R16.2 below. first semester withdrawals
- R16.2 A student who cancels his or her University registration during or at the end of the first semester shall be eligible for a fee rebate equivalent to 40% of the full annual residence fee. fee rebates
- R16.3 Any student completing his or her studies at the end of the first semester shall be eligible for a rebate equivalent to 40% of the full annual fee. completion of studies
- R16.4 A postgraduate student who is required for the purposes of his or her research to move out of Cape Town shall be eligible for a rebate on a pro-rata basis. postgraduate students
- R16.5 Any student not eligible for a fee rebate in the case of R16.1 and R16.2 above, may be granted a rebate on the full annual residence fee: exceptions made by Director
- (a) if the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, after consulting the warden is satisfied that the student has a valid reason for leaving residence, and if the University is able to let the room to a student of the University's choice who is not in residence at that time;
 - (b) if the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, after consulting the warden is satisfied that there is an emergency or other compelling reason for the student to leave residence.
- R16.6 In the case of: penalties
- (a) above, the student shall be liable for a cancellation fee of R150, and a pro-rata share of the full annual fee shall apply until the date on which the replacement student moves in.
 - (b) above, the rebate on the full annual fee shall be determined by the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, based on the circumstances of the case.
- R16.7 Any student who does not return to residence at the beginning of the second semester or who withdraws during the second semester shall be liable for the full annual residence fee. failure to return
- R16.8 Any student who enters residence for the first time during the second semester and who withdraws from residence shall be liable for the full fee for that semester. The Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, may however exercise his or her discretion in approving a rebate under the conditions described in R16.5(a) and (b) above. second semester withdrawals

Vacation Accommodation

- R17 A student who for academic purposes or for other purposes deemed accommodation in

to be acceptable by the Director, Student Housing & Residence Life, December, January has to be in Cape Town before his or her residence, house or flat and early February opens or after his or her residence, house or flat has closed may be accommodated in a residence which has been opened for the purpose, provided that he or she has complied with the application procedures laid down by the Student Housing & Residence Life management. He or she must pay for this accommodation at a daily rate to be determined from time to time by the Student Housing & Residence Life management.

Rules for Residence Pubs

- R18.1 A residence pub is defined, for the purposes of these rules, as a room or number of rooms in a residence in which liquor is served and consumed on a regular basis. definitions
- R18.2 A residence is a building or group of buildings under the control of a warden appointed by the University Council.
- R19.1 A residence may operate a pub only if it is granted permission to do so by Council on the recommendation of the Residences Committee. The conditions under which a pub shall operate shall be determined by Council.
- R19.2 No alcoholic beverages other than wine or beer may be served in a residence pub.
- R19.3 The operation of a residence pub shall at all times be subject to the constraints and requirements of the University's general rules for students, of the rules of each residence, and of the rules for residence pubs. rules

Management and control of pub

- R20.1 The control of each residence pub is vested in the House Committee. The House Committee is responsible to the Residences Committee for the proper exercise of the responsibilities and duties delegated to it. House Committee
- R20.2 Each House Committee must set up a committee of residents (a pub committee) to operate and to manage the pub. This pub committee shall be responsible to the House Committee for the day-to-day operation of the pub. pub committee
- R20.3 At least one member of the pub committee must be in the pub whenever it is open.
- R20.4 The pub committee must submit a report on the operation of the pub to the House Committee at the end of each month. The books and records of the pub committee shall be audited at the end of March and at the end of September of each year. This audit shall be conducted by the auditor of the accounts of the House Committee. pub committee's report
- R20.5 The pub committee is responsible for cleaning the pub and its immediate environs at the end of each day, and is responsible for cleaning those parts of the residence used for an approved function. cleaning of pub
- R20.6 The House Committee must determine where in the residence wine and/or beer may be consumed. venue
- R20.7 The pub committee is responsible for ensuring that the behaviour of those present in the pub during normal operating times and of those present in the residence during an approved function conform to these pub rules, to the rules of the residence and to the general rules of the University. behaviour of students

- R20.8 The pub committee shall ensure that students do not behave in a drunken manner while in the pub. The pub committee must make particularly sure that no alcohol is served to persons who are drunk or who are behaving in a drunken manner.
- R20.9 The pub committee must ensure that the level of noise inside a residence pub and its immediate environs is kept within reasonable limits. On all occasions other than during a function approved in terms of provisions in the General Residence Rules, the level of noise and especially of music played must not constitute a disturbance to other members of the residence. noise

Operation of pub

- R21.1 A residence may appoint an agent or agents who shall from time to time take orders for wine and beer from students in the residence. Those ordering wine and beer shall pay the agent in advance for their purchases. agents
- R21.2 The agent or agents must keep a record of wine and/or beer ordered by each student, and shall keep a record of all wine and/or beer consumed by that student in the residence pub. No wine and/or beer shall be served to that student after he or she has consumed an amount equivalent to the original order. records
- R21.3 No beer and/or wine may be issued to students who have not made an advance order for a specific amount and paid in advance. Guests may be served in a pub only if a student who has paid in advance for an order is prepared to give part of his or her order to that guest. advance orders
- R21.4 The amount of beer and/or wine held in the pub must at all times equal the original order less amount consumed and deducted from the student's account. No extra or spare stock shall be held in the residence pub. stocks
- R21.5 If the agent is paid for his or her services, this payment shall not be related in any way to the sale of wine/beer. The payment shall be derived from other sources of revenue available to the House Committee. payment of agent

Hours and conditions

- R22.1 Admission to a residence pub is restricted to members of that residence and their invited guests. Under no circumstances shall alcohol be served to a non-resident who has not been invited to the pub as the guest of a member of the residence. The House Committee shall have the right to deny any person access to the pub facilities. right of admission
- R22.2 Except with the permission of the House Committee, a residence pub may not open before 19h00 each night from Monday to Saturday and shall close at 24h00. No alcohol shall be served after 23h30 unless the prior approval of the House Committee has been obtained. opening and closing times
- R22.3 A residence pub shall remain closed on all days during the Orientation and Registration period, except when sanctioned by the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee. Orientation/Registration period
- R22.4 Music played during an approved function shall also be kept within a reasonable limit. The noise shall at no time constitute a disturbance to any person living in the neighbourhood of the residence. music
- R22.5 A pub and its operations shall at all times other than during approved functions be subject to the silence rules of the residence. silence rules

TRAFFIC RULES

Traffic rules for students

Definitions

- T1 In these rules, unless the context indicates otherwise:
- T1.1 Traffic Court means a court consisting of a presiding officer appointed by the University Council;
- T1.2 University Campus means all immovable property owned by or under the control of the University;
- T1.3 A vehicle includes a motor car, motor cycle, motor scooter or motorised bicycle.
- T1.4 Student means any person registered at the University for any course of study who is not a member of staff.
- T1.5 A visitor means any person who is not a registered student or a staff member of the University of Cape Town, who is visiting the University Campus.

Traffic Court

- T2.1 The Traffic Court is empowered to hear all cases involving traffic offences committed on the University campus, to hear evidence and make a finding, and impose a sentence prescribed by the rules. The Traffic Court may suspend any such sentence or part thereof or may simply give a warning to a convicted student. powers of Traffic Court
- T2.2 The Traffic Court must direct by what date a fine shall be paid. payment of fines
- T2.3 If the Traffic Court considers that the offence is of sufficient gravity, it may refer the matter to the Vice-Chancellor to be dealt with in terms of the Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures. reference by Traffic Court to Vice-Chancellor

Permission to park on campus

- T3.1 Every student, wishing to bring a vehicle on to the University campus or park it thereon, must apply for a valid parking registration disc issued by the University under Rule T4 below and if such application is successful must affix such disc to the front right hand side of the windscreen of a vehicle which is a motor car, or to some clearly visible part of any vehicle which is not a motor car. display of discs
- T3.2 Any student who, having been refused a parking registration disc, considers that valid reasons exist why such disc should be granted may appeal to the Executive Director: Properties and Services. The student must state in his or her notice of appeal what the grounds of his or her appeal are. appeal against refusal of disc

Parking registration discs

- T4.1 Application for parking registration discs must be made to the Traffic Administration or at such other venues and at such times as may be notified from time to time. No assurance is given that parking space will be available to the holder of a disc at any time. application for disc
- T4.2 Parking registration discs will be issued for a calendar year. The charges for discs will be as approved by the University Council from time to time and shall be payable before or against issue of the disc. Student discs issued for one calendar year will remain valid until 1 March of the next calendar year. validity and charges

- T4.3 Parking registration discs remain the property of the University at all times. expired discs
- T4.4 A student parking registration disc will only be issued to a student for a vehicle registered in the name of the student, or the name of a member of his or her immediate family (father, mother, brother or sister) unless the Traffic Administration, on being shown good cause in writing, agrees otherwise. types of disc
- T5.1 Each parking registration disc issued by the University will be a distinctive disc entitling the holder to park the car(s) for which it is issued in spaces marked out or otherwise indicated for holders of such discs.
- T5.2 Vehicles other than motor cars will be entitled to park only in spaces specifically marked out for such vehicles. vehicles other than cars

Parking without a disc

- T6.1 Except as may otherwise be permitted by the Traffic Administration no vehicle required under these rules to have a parking registration disc affixed to it may, in the absence of the affixation of such disc as provided for under the rules, be parked on any part of the University campus. Access of such vehicle to the University Campus may be refused if the required registration disc is not affixed thereto. affixation of disc

First-year students

- T6.2 Whilst registered for the first undergraduate year of study, a student must not bring, cause to be brought, or park on University property, any vehicle other than a motor cycle. motor cycle

Parking areas

- T7 All the parking rules made by the University authorities in regard to the reservation of red bays and staff bays apply throughout the year. Red bays are reserved at all times throughout the year; staff yellow-marked bays between the hours of 07h00 and 18h00 from Mondays to Fridays inclusive, and from 07h30 to 13h00 on Saturdays, and for such other periods as may be determined. Bays for people with disabilities are reserved for them at all times. red, disabled and staff bays

- T19.2 Any student failing to appear before the Traffic Court when summonsed to do so may, on due production of a return of service of such summons, be found guilty of contempt of court and fined in his or her absence for such contempt. The Traffic Court shall notify such student of its findings and sentence and inform him or her that should he or she not put forward an explanation in person to the Traffic Court justifying his or her absence within fourteen days of the receipt of such notice, the finding and sentence shall stand confirmed. contempt of court
- T19.3 Any student shall commit an offence who:
- (a) fails to appear before the Traffic Court when duly required to do so; failure to appear
 - (b) commits any act of disrespect to the said court; or disrespect
 - (c) fails to comply with any order of the said court. failure to comply
- T20.1 The presiding officer may, at the same time as he or she imposes a fine for contempt of court, certify that the admission of guilt fine invited on the traffic ticket supporting the summons is apparently in accordance with true and substantial justice and thereupon the Traffic Court shall notify the student accordingly and inform him or her also that should he or she not put forward a defence to the charge written in the summons, or a reason for a reduction in the fine, in person to the Traffic Court within 14 days of the receipt of such notice, the fine as certified shall stand confirmed. admission of guilt
- T20.2 The presiding officer may, when exercising his or her discretion in relation to the certification of an admission of guilt fine, reduce the discretionary powers of presiding officer amount of the fine justice.
- T20.3 Upon proof that the notices mentioned in Rule T19.1 and Rule T19.2 debit to fee account have been sent to the student at the last known address appearing on the University's records and after the said 14 days have elapsed without due appearance in person before the Traffic Court by the student, the fine, as certified, together with any fine imposed for contempt of court, may be debited to the fees account of the student.
- T20.4 When a sworn or other statement is put before the Traffic Court purporting to have been made by a third party, the presiding officer third party statement may ignore such statement should the third party fail to appear before the court if requested to do so by the presiding officer.

- T21 In respect of any decision given by the Traffic Court, a student shall have the right of appeal to the Traffic Appeal Court. Any such appeal must be lodged with the Registrar, in writing, within five days of notification to the student of the decision of the Traffic Court. The student must state, in his or her notice of appeal, what the grounds of his or her appeal are. The student shall have the right to argue his or her appeal before the Traffic Appeal Court personally or through a representative.
- appeal procedure:

Traffic Appeal Court

- T22.1 When an appeal has been lodged in terms of Rule 21 the Court shall submit to the Traffic Appeal Court:
- records to be submitted*
- (a) a copy of the Court record;
 - (b) the notice of appeal;
 - (c) the facts found to be proved; and
 - (d) the reasons for judgement.
- T22.2 The student may request the presiding officer of the Traffic Court to provide him or her with a copy of the reasons for judgement.
- T23.1 On appeal the Traffic Appeal Court may:
- powers of Traffic Appeal Court*
- (a) confirm or set aside the conviction, or may substitute any competent finding therefor;
 - (b) confirm or set aside the sentence or impose any other competent sentence.
- T23.2 The Traffic Appeal Court may sentence a student to pay an additional fine should that court be of the opinion that the appeal is frivolous or vexatious or has been made for the purpose of delay.
- T23.3 Notice of the finding of the Traffic Appeal Court shall be given to the student.
- notice to student*
- T23.4 If the Traffic Appeal Court considers that the offence is of sufficient gravity, the court may refer it to the Vice-Chancellor to be dealt with in terms of the Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures.
- referral to Vice-Chancellor*
- T24 The Traffic Appeal Court must be drawn from the following members of the University:
- members of Traffic Appeal Court*
- (a) All permanent staff members of the Law Faculty, one of whom shall be selected by the Chair of the Traffic Appeal Court for each and every sitting of such Court;
 - (b) A senior member of the Administrative Staff to be nominated by the Registrar;
 - (c) One other person nominated from time to time by Council;
 - (d) Two members of the SRC nominated annually by the Vice-Chancellor for the purpose.
- T25.1 In the event of there being a tie in the voting, the person presiding shall have a casting vote.
- T25.2 The Vice-Chancellor must appoint a chair and a deputy chair of the Court. In the absence of both from any session of the Court, the chair shall appoint a presiding officer for that session who shall be a staff member of the Law Faculty.
- appointment of chair/deputy chair*
- T25.3 A court shall comprise two members chosen from categories (a) to (d) above by the chair of the court or his or her deputy.

Suspension of rules

- T26 Nothing in the foregoing rules contained shall be deemed to deprive the Vice-Chancellor or the head of any residence of any jurisdiction or powers with which he or she is vested under the Statute or Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures.
- T27 The above rules may be suspended in whole or in part by the Vice-Chancellor for special purposes or occasions.

Notes:

Should an offender elect to appear before the Traffic Court it must be pointed out that, notwithstanding the normal court fine quoted above, any offender who contravenes or fails to comply with any provision of the Traffic Rules: Students, may on conviction be fined up to a maximum of R600.00 for each offence.

The Traffic Court sits 09h30 to 15h30 from mid March to mid November, vacations excepted.

- The work environment
- UCT Values

Other policies may be found on the Internet at <http://www.uct.ac.za> , or requested from the Registrar's Office. Any violation of these policies, or the rules they contain, by any member of the University, whether staff or student, will be grounds for disciplinary action.

Computer hacking

Unauthorised entry into any electronically held data, or network, or programme, or any other form of computer hacking, or the deliberate transport or creation of any form of computer virus, worm, trojan or keystroke logge,r are prohibited. Any staff member or student breaching this rule will be subject to University discipline and/or, where appropriate, criminal prosecution.

Copyright, and the special use of copyright in computer software

The University, as a matter of policy, recognises the rights of those who have ownership of copyright, and reminds its members that they are personally liable for breaches of copyright, and that these may lead to criminal and civil actions against them. Members of the University are explicitly prohibited from infringing copyright.

Copyright exists if an idea has been put in writing, or forms the subject of a drawing or painting, or has been given tangible form in a model. The author of a work is the holder of the copyright of that work, (unless the author was employed under a contract of service and the work was made in the course of that employment, in which case the employer holds the copyright in the absence of an agreement to the contrary). Copyright holds for the author's life and, in some cases, for fifty years after the author's death, in respect of published work. Copyright in unpublished material, remains forever. For example, copyright remains in unpublished letters of whatever age. Copyright is protected under international conventions, and South African law.

Copyright is not infringed where a literary work is:

- (a) used for research or private study, subject to the fair dealing requirements of the law;
- (b) used for criticism, again subject to the fair dealing requirements;
- (c) quoted: where the quotation is compatible with fair dealing, is not excessively long and is attributed to the author and to the work;
- (d) used by way of illustration for the purposes of teaching, again subject to the fair practice or fair dealing test.

Making a copy of computer software infringes copyright. Using unlicensed copied software is a breach of copyright. Acquiring an unauthorised copy of computer software is an infringement of copyright, and acquisition, in this sense includes loading a copy of a programme into the random access memory, or any other temporary storage device of a computer or into any form of permanent storage medium.

Some software developers recognise the position of educational institutions and offer site licensing, or bulk licensing. Under bulk licensing, the institution pays an annual fee and may make a specified number of copies, while site licences allows an unlimited number of copies. Where such arrangements exist, the software may be used only by those members of the university specified in the applicable agreement, and may not be distributed outside of it.

Where software is made accessible to multiple users through file servers, the software must be used in terms of the licence, and may not be copied to any other storage device except as allowed in the licence agreement.

The higher education institutions in the Western Cape have established a Publishing Liaison Office under the Cape Higher Education Consortium (CHEC). This office, which is housed at the CHEC offices at House Vincent, Wynberg Mews, 10 Brodie Road, Wynberg, 7700, Cape Town, operates a copyright clearance centre on behalf of the four public universities in the Western Cape. It will provide services to members of these institutions relating to copyright clearance and related matters for teaching and learning materials used by students and staff. The office handles all requests for copyright permission, which should be routed through this office. It also handles the payment of copyright fees where the copying is not covered by the University's blanket licence. If you have any doubts regarding the legality of copying or using software, contact Help Desk at telephone 021 650 4500 or send email to helpdesk@its.uct.ac.za. If you have queries about the University's blanket copying licence please contact Mr Keith Benjamin 021 650 4508 in the Registrar's office.

Disability Service

The University of Cape Town is committed to a policy of equal opportunities, and equitable redress for those who have been historically disadvantaged. This includes the group of people roughly designated as people with disabilities. The Disability Service was founded in 1988 to promote access for people with disabilities to the physical environment and to all social and cultural activities, as well as to information and communication media. The Disability Service's Offices are situated on the fourth floor of the Steve Biko Students' Union Building at the bottom of North lane, next to the library, and one floor up from the food court.

The Disability Service works closely with all sectors of university life: with faculties, student housing, traffic and transport.

PHYSICAL ACCESS

UCT is by its very location not the most accessible university you could wish for, situated as it is on the slopes of Devil's Peak. Large parts of the campus are accessible and the Disability Service is able to arrange accessible accommodation, lecture venues and transport for staff and students with disabilities. These arrangements include a dedicated bus service for students with mobility and visual impairments.

The Disability Service is able to provide the means to access the majority of university communication and information channels. It has a well-equipped section for the provision of text in alternative format for those who cannot read or write in the normal manner, as well as a computer lab with screen access software, brailing, scanning, enlarging, and Voice-to-Text facilities.

Disclosure of disability status is voluntary, but meeting a student's needs timeously if the Disability Service does not know what they are, is very difficult. Disclosure of disability will never prejudice admission into the university.

Guidelines for Campus Protection Service for dealing with people who are drunk or under the influence of drugs

The following guidelines are for the assistance of CPS staff:

1. A person in authority at a particular function may ask CPS to remove a person because he or she is a danger to himself or herself or others. A CPS officer who considers that a person is a danger to others may act without a request to do so.
2. The Campus Protection Service will attempt to reason with the person and try to persuade him or her to leave peacefully. At this stage, the assistance of friends and organizers is welcome.
3. The person will be warned that if he or she fails to leave peacefully force may be used.
4. The person will, if required, be removed from the area as rapidly as possible, with minimum force applicable to the situation at all times.
5. If necessary, the person will be handcuffed and searched for weapons.
6. The person will be removed to a place of safety where a decision can be made regarding his or her immediate future.
7. Details of what transpired must be recorded, including any injuries sustained by the person and the Campus Protection Service persons involved. It may be necessary to have the persons medically examined.
8. A pepper spray may be used only when all other means fail.

Health and safety

1. The University of Cape Town has a moral and legal obligation to safeguard and protect its students, staff and visitors against injury, occupational disease as well as risks to Health & Safety within the University. The Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) Act places the legal onus for Occupational Health and Safety upon the Vice-Chancellor. In turn this is formally delegated in terms of section 16.2 of the OHS ACT to Deans, Executive Directors, and others. Heads of Department, support staff and student bodies are charged with compliance and required to ensure that all legal duties are effectively discharged, and that they ensure safety.
2. The University aims to:
 - provide and maintain a safe work environment by implementing structures and programs to ensure that hazards to Health and Safety are identified in a systematic manner and timeously dealt with;
 - provide fire prevention and safety training to all staff and students;
 - comply with the requirements of the Occupational Health and Safety Act of 1993;
 - to take a proactive stance on environment matters; and
 - ensure that contractors undertake their duties in a safe and responsible manner.To ensure the above, the University requires management at all academic and non-academic levels to accept responsibility for this, and to ensure full legal compliance in their areas of responsibility as a condition of employment.
3. The University requires all staff and students to adhere to all safe work standards and procedures and to:
 - identify, eliminate or control all unsafe acts and conditions;
 - operate and use equipment and vehicles in such a way that their safety and that of others is ensured;
 - maintain and use safety equipment where prescribed or necessary;
 - adhere to all legal requirements and all other regulations relating to safety.

First Aid Policy:

1 PURPOSE

To ensure that a minimum of 5% of employees are trained in First Aid annually, and that an adequate number of effective and trained First Aiders are available to assist in emergency situations.

2 SCOPE

This standard applies to all University of Cape Town buildings and staff and students working in training hospitals.

3 REFERENCES

- Occupational Health and Safety Act 85/1993
- Basic Conditions of Employment Section 13.9
- COID Act

4 DEFINITIONS

A First Aider is a person in possession of a current certificate of competency in first aid issued by S.A. Red Cross Society, St Johns Ambulance, SA First Aid league or a person/organisation approved by the Chief inspector, Dept of Labour.

5 REQUIREMENTS

- 5.1 It is the responsibility of the First Aid & Fire Preventions Officer to arrange and co-ordinate First Aid and refresher training in liaison with the Health and Safety manager.
- 5.2 It is the responsibility of Department Heads to ensure that 5% of employees are trained in first aid.
- 5.3 Department Heads are responsible for providing and replenishing First Aid kits in their departments.

6 Implementation

- 6.1 In liaison with the First Aid Training co-ordinator, a training needs analysis will be done and scheduled training will be worked.
- 6.2 All security and emergency/fire team members shall be in possession of a valid First Aid certificate.
- 6.3 The First Aider Co-ordinator will conduct quarterly audits to make sure that all first aid boxes comply with legislated requirements. A copy of this audit will be forwarded to the First Aid and Fire Prevention's Officer.

7 First Aider

- 7.1 The names of the First Aiders for a specific area will be clearly indicated at the first aid box.
- 7.2 Trained First Aiders are to be available on each shift from security and traffic.

8 Demarcation

The location of First Aid boxes should be clearly indicated by symbolic signs and they should be accessible at all times.

9 Certificates

The First Aiders will receive a First Aid certificate that is valid for three years, a copy will be kept on file by the Health and Safety Department.

10 Minimum Requirements for a First Aid Kit

As per General Safety Regulations.

- Item 1: Wound cleaner/antiseptic (100ml)
- Item 2: Swabs for cleaning wounds
- Item 3: Cotton wool for padding
- Item 4: Sterile gauze (minimum quantity 10)
- Item 5: 1 Pair of forceps (for splinters)
- Item 6: 1 Pair of scissors (minimum of 100mm)
- Item 7: 1 Set of safety pins
- Item 8: 4 Triangular bandages
- Item 9: 4 Roller bandages (75mm x 5m)
- Item 10: 4 Roller bandages (100mm x 5m)
- Item 11: 1 Roll of elastic adhesive (25mmx 3m)
- Item 12: 1 Non-allergic adhesive dressing strip (25 x 3m)
- Item 13: 1 Packet of adhesive dressing strip (minimum quantities, 10 Assorted sizes)
- Item 14: 4 First aid dressings (75m x 100mm)
- Item 15: 4 First aid dressings (150mm x 200mm)
- Item 16: 2 Straight splints
- Item 17: 2 pairs large and 2 pairs medium disposable gloves
- Item 18: 2 CPR mouthpiece or similar devices.

In offices, the quantities stated under items 1, 8, 9, 10, 14, 15, 17 and 18 may be reduced by half. In larger areas the quantity will increase. Areas such as laboratories will require additional items to above list. The University's First Aid Officer should clear any additional items.

11 Universal blood precautions:

Universal blood precautions are designed to protect persons from being exposed to HIV and other infective agents, which may be present in blood.

- 11.1 Handle all persons as if they are HIV positive.
- 11.2 Take adequate precautions to avoid direct contact with blood or body fluids from any person.
- 11.3 Wear gloves in the following situations:
 - When touching blood and body fluids, mucous membranes or person with broken skin.
 - When handling items or surfaces soiled with blood or body fluids.
- 11.4 Change gloves after contact with each person.

84 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

- 11.5 Wash your hands and other skin surfaces immediately and thoroughly if they become contaminated with blood or body fluids, wash with soap and water.
- 11.6 Wash your hands immediately after using gloves.
- 11.7 Place all blood and body fluid specimens in sturdy, leak proof containers with a secure lid. Avoid contaminating the outside of the container - if contaminated clean with bleach.
- 11.8 Blood spills:
 - Wear disposable gloves.
 - Wipe the area using paper towel and remove as much blood as possible.
 - Discard the paper towel into a plastic bag. Wipe the area with bleach solution if available.

EMERGENCIES ON CAMPUS:

Types of Emergencies at UCT:

- (a) Fire
- (b) Medical
- (c) Chemical Spill
- (d) Radiation Spill
- (e) Floods
- (f) Power Failure
- (g) Unrest
- (h) Bomb threats
- (i) Persons trapped in lift

All emergencies must be directed through to Campus Protection Services (021) 650 2222/3 with the following information:

- (1) Type of emergency
- (2) Number of persons injured
- (3) Type of assistance required e.g. ambulance
- (4) Type of hazards (Threat to life or property)
- (5) Exact location of incident

Campus Protection Services (021) 650 2222/3 will:

- (1) Send officers to assist
- (2) Call emergency services
- (3) Assist in managing the emergency
- (4) Assist with First Aid requirement
- (5) Assist with Fire Fighting if required
- (6) Direct emergency services to location of emergency
- (7) Inform senior Risk Management staff
- (8) Assist in whatever capacity required by the emergency controller of the building.

Contact the Health and Safety Department - bas-healthandsafety@uct.ac.za - for a copy of the University of Cape Town's emergency plan.

HIV infection and AIDS

Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS) is a disease caused by infection with the Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV). The HIV is spread only when an adequate amount of infected body fluid enters the bloodstream of a non-infected person.

The dominant modes of transmission of the HIV are unprotected penetrative or oral sexual intercourse where the exchange of bodily fluids takes place, through the accidental or deliberate shared use of HIV-contaminated needles or skin cutting instruments (in and out of health care settings), from infected mothers to unborn infants, and through transfusion of infected blood or blood products.

Leadership and coordination:

The Vice-Chancellor is accountable for the University's coordinated HIV/AIDS policy. Responsibility for the overall co-ordination of UCT's integrated policy for HIV/AIDS is the portfolio responsibility of a designated Deputy Vice-Chancellor.

All members of the University community are responsible for their own health, for avoiding harming the health of others where at all possible, and for contributing to the eradication of HIV/AIDS.

Rights of the individual:

The University rejects all forms of unfair discrimination against those who are HIV positive, and those who have AIDS.

The University regards a person with AIDS as it does a person with any other chronic illness or disability.

Confidentiality:

The University respects the individual's right to confidentiality.

Potential staff and students are not refused employment or entry to the University on the grounds that they test positive for HIV. The University does not therefore test for HIV prior to employment, during employment, as a condition of employment, on application as a student, or on admission as a student.

The University's medical evaluation of new staff requires the medical practitioner carrying out the evaluation to report all serious illnesses, including those that are AIDS-related.

The results of voluntary testing for HIV will be confidential, and testing will be accompanied by appropriate counselling.

Awareness:

Most people are potentially susceptible to HIV infection, and prevention through education is attainable in many cases. The University therefore commits itself to education programmes that address HIV/AIDS and the issues associated with the epidemic.

Living with HIV/AIDS:

Students and staff are not barred from attending lectures, living in residences, being on campus or involved in any campus activities on account of their HIV status.

Refusal to work with, study with or be taught by a person with HIV is not accepted as a valid excuse for non-compliance with academic or work requirement.

First Aid:

The University believes that all individuals likely to be involved in administering first aid should adopt universal precautions. The University undertakes to educate all first aid officials in universal precaution techniques and to equip all first-aid kits with the appropriate equipment.

Teaching, Learning and Research: Curriculum Development

86 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

The University has a responsibility to combat HIV/AIDS through its curriculum, enhancing awareness and preparing students for careers that will be affected in a variety of ways by the epidemic. Accordingly, aspects of academic programmes that focus on the causes and consequences of the HIV/AIDS pandemic will be highlighted across the full breadth of UCT's teaching enterprise.

Research

HIV/AIDS is a major focus of research at UCT and the Department of Research Development will conduct an audit of current HIV/AIDS related research projects across all disciplines on a regular basis.

Needle stick policy

The University has a separate Needle stick policy. (This policy can be viewed at <http://www.uct.ac.za/downloads/uct.ac.za/about/policies/needlestick.pdf>). This policy is to be reviewed on an annual basis by the Health and Safety Co-ordinating Committee.

Prevention and care:

Prevention and care for students

The University will provide, via the HIV/AIDS Unit, awareness, prevention and support workshops. These will be available for all UCT students.

The University will offer HIV diagnostic services to students, with free voluntary counselling and testing available at the Student Wellness Services. CD4 cell count, VDRL tests and other necessary investigations will be offered for full time UCT students who are HIV positive, at the discretion of the Director of Student Health. These students will also be financially assisted with the non-ARV related clinical management of HIV at the discretion of the Director of Student Health.

Students who are clinically eligible for appropriate state health programmes will be referred to Groote Schuur hospital.

Support counselling for students living with HIV will be offered through the Student Development and Services Department.

Prevention and care for staff

Statutory medical assessment protocol will be applied for designated jobs as legally required. Line Managers must ensure that in the event of staff that are immune compromised being exposed to immune suppressants and/or infectious materials (e.g. agents which inhibit the immune system), normal risk management and placement procedures are followed.

Line managers are required to ensure that all visitors and outside contractors at UCT comply with the UCT Health and Safety policies and procedures, including the first aid policy.

All staff will be offered education and prevention programmes by the Human Resources Organizational Health Department, and every effort will be made to ensure that all staff are made aware of the dangers of HIV/AIDS, and appropriate preventative measures.

Staff who are HIV positive, or who have AIDS will be offered care and support by the Human Resources Organizational Health Department. This support will include access to counseling support services and referral for treatment for all staff. Permanent, T3 and T2 staff will be referred to UCT's Medical aid provider or the staff member's partner's medical aid for treatment as a prescribed minimum benefit. T1 and contract staff not on medical aid will be referred to state health services.

As it does in all cases of chronic illness where work is adversely affected and an objective medical assessment has been carried out, the University makes every reasonable effort to provide alternative, non-strenuous work, so as to maximise the earning capacity of the staff member concerned. If a staff member with AIDS is no longer able to work, and/or no suitable position can be found, the appropriate ill-health/disability income policies will be applied.

Insurance for students

The University provides no cover for personal possessions, including motor vehicles, even when a student may be involved in compulsory academic activity.

Students in residence should provide their own insurance of all personal possessions. The University does not accept liability for any personal items that may be stolen or damaged.

UCT Group and Funeral Cover Scheme

The University operates a Group and Funeral Cover Insurance Scheme, which aims to supplement students' private medical aid or insurance schemes in the event of UCT-related accidental injury. Participation is compulsory and the premium is included in the academic fee.

The maximum benefits are:

- Funeral Expenses: R10 000;
- Medical expenses: R8 000 or R25 000 where the student is involved in an official field trip for academic purposes. In both instances the first R100 of any claim is borne by the claimant;
- Physiotherapy at the UCT Sports Injuries Clinic: R700.

Cover is effective from 48 hours prior to the start of term and expires 48 hours after the close of term. Cover includes any sporting, cultural or academic activity under the auspices of the University outside this period. For example: The policy covers a student who is required to participate in a sports tour, (provided the student is a member of a specific club), attend a conference or undertake academic work during the vacation in connection with his or her academic course, such as fieldwork or an engineering workshop practice.

Winter sports, mountaineering with the use of ropes, hang-gliding and motor-cycling are included (but excluding racing) provided the student is a member of the specific UCT club.

Please note:

- This is not a medical aid scheme, but is designed as a contingency measure against unanticipated medical expenses arising out of personal injury resulting from UCT-related accidental injury.
Students are expected to have adequate private medical aid or insurance cover, and this cover should NOT be used instead of a medical savings account, nor where an individual has elected to not cover day to day medical costs.
- The cover is not adequate, on its own, in many cases. Students are expected to seek advice at the UCT Sports Injuries Clinic or the UCT Student Wellness Service in order to contain costs as much as possible.
- Students are liable for all expenses incurred even though the University administers the process whereby students are able to claim for those medical expenses which fall within the rules of the policy. They will face prosecution by medical practitioners e.g. hospitals, doctors if they fail to pay for all expenses incurred.
- Enquiries/claims: Medical Administrator, UCT Student Wellness Service, Rhodes Avenue, Mowbray, 7700. Tel.: 021 650 1020/ 1019

Exclusions from the Insurance cover:

The following exclusions apply:

Events consequent upon:

- (a) war, invasions, act of foreign enemy;
- (b) engaging in active military service;
- (c) suicide or needless exposure to danger (except in an attempt to save human life);
- (d) air travel other than as a passenger;
- (e) underground mining, tunnelling or related activities;
- (f) contributed to or caused by any pre-existing physical defect or infirmity;
- (g) as a result of the influence of alcohol, drugs or narcotics upon the insured person (unless administered by a member of the medical profession);
- (h) criminal acts;

88 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

- (i) whilst on any maritime rig, platform or similar structure unless on University business;
- (j) infection with HIV or AIDS or ARC or any related condition;
- (k) pregnancy or childbirth;
- (l) racing of any kind (other than on foot or under sail), professional sports, parachuting, sky-diving, mountaineering necessitating the use of ropes or guides and/or hang-gliding unless the insured person belongs to a specific club;
- (m) physiotherapy costs unless following an accident and prescribed by a qualified medical practitioner.

Additional rules:

1. Notification of injury and intention to claim must be submitted within seven days of the injury being sustained, i.e. a Claim Form is to be correctly completed at either the UCT Sports Injuries Clinic (UCT Sports Centre) or the UCT Student Wellness Service (Rhodes Avenue, Mowbray, 7700). Should this be impossible, the Medical Administrator must be informed by phone: 650 1020/ 1019.
2. Receipted invoices must be submitted to the Medical Administrator, Student Wellness Service, 28 Rhodes Avenue, Mowbray, 7700.
3. Claims must be lodged within one month of injury date, unless the attending doctor certifies that continuing treatment is necessary and is a result of the original accident.
4. Only sporting activities which fall under the auspices of the University are covered by the policy.
5. A student, playing for a non-University club, a provincial or national team is not covered. SATISU representative teams function under the auspices of South African universities and UCT participants are, therefore covered.

Other insurance:

The University provides no cover for personal possessions, including motor vehicles, even when a student may be involved in compulsory academic activity.

Students in residence should provide their own insurance of all personal possessions. The University does not accept liability for any personal items that may be stolen or damaged.

Internet and Email use

1. The laws on employment relationship and on electronic communications and the doctrine of vicarious liability entail risk for the University in that we allow our members (i.e. our staff and our students) access to the internet.

The policy and rules that follow are intended:

- to manage this risk; and
- to guide members of the University, and others who have access to it, as to what is acceptable.

2. We proceed from the following accepted points of departure:

- (a) this policy and these rules recognize the constitutional right to privacy;
- (b) all staff, in particular academic and research staff, may, and should, use their UCT address and UCT designation when publishing the results of their research and scholarly work in scholarly and in popular media, and when doing so neither need, nor are presumed to have, institutional endorsement for their views, arguments and results.
- (c) nobody may use a UCT facility (this includes email accounts, offices, phones, cellphones, or fax lines) for private work for which prior permission has not been obtained, and, unless payment is made for the facility. Nobody may use a UCT facility for excessive private or personal purposes. Use for personal or private work purposes is a privilege not a right and it follows that it may be withdrawn.
- (d) officers, (e.g. the Vice-Chancellor, DVCs, Registrar, Deans, and Executive Directors) of the University have to have regard to the extent to whether, and if yes, which public communications could/can be divorced from their offices; i.e. the extent to which such officers can enter the public domain in their personal, as opposed to office-related, capacities.
- (e) nobody may use:
 - any UCT letterhead;
 - or any UCT designation (including a UCT designation in an electronic signature) for private communications or for private work (even if approved private work).

3. Policy and rules: privacy and access to electronic records

UCT reserves the right to interrogate electronic records held by UCT, but this right will not be exercised without the written permission of the Vice-Chancellor following due process involving consultation by the Vice-Chancellor, or the Vice-Chancellor's nominee, with at least two of the six non-decanal non-executive senior professors (i.e. the six professors who have held professorial rank for the longest not including executive officers or deans) for good cause shown, or without a court order or summons, or in compliance with a request for a copy of a record made under the Promotion of Access to Information Act.

4. General policy and rules on internet and email use

The following policies and rules on internet and email use do not in any way derogate from the imperative that staff and students play their part in ensuring that they not do anything, or cause anything to be done that would jeopardize the integrity of the University's systems, and their use to support the University's work:

- (a) the computer equipment and resources provided by the University to its staff, students and associates remain University property at all times, including equipment acquired by the University from research funding and research contract funding;
- (b) private use of such equipment or resources is permitted to the extent that:
 - it is not excessive;
 - it is not for personal gain unless prior written permission has been obtained, and unless payment is made for the use;
 - if by a staff member it does not interfere with the performance of his or her duties as a staff member;
 - it does not expose the University to any legal liability; and
 - it does not impair the rights of other members of the University community.
- (c) the University retains the right to monitor traffic on all data lines owned or leased by the

University;

- (d) the University reserves the right to restrict or otherwise control the use of any of the internet protocols (This right to restrict may include the right to set a limit on individual usage by volume for undergraduate students, postgraduate students and staff);
 - (e) any act of publication by means of any internet protocol expressing a personal opinion must where relevant reflect this fact;
 - (f) the following practices are prohibited:
 - (i) viewing, storing, downloading or forwarding images, moving images, sound files, texts or recordings that are sexually explicit or sexually suggestive, racist, harassing, intimidating or defamatory, except where this is both legal and there is demonstrable academic need to access or distribute such content;
 - (ii) hacking in any form, including gaining or attempting to gain access to restricted resources either inside or outside of the University's computer network;
 - (iii) impersonating another user or another person;
 - (iv) damaging or deleting files of another user;
 - (v) obtaining without authorization the access codes and/or passwords of another user;
 - (vi) software piracy, or other infringement of intellectual property rights in digital content;
 - (vii) the sending, whether on the internal email system or externally, of bulk unsolicited mail, commercial advertising of other businesses, mail-flooding, or excessive cross postings on newsgroups (called spam);
 - (viii) the use of any computer resource to promote any business or enterprise, except that of the University, unless such use is explicitly permitted by an agreement between the employee and the University;
 - (ix) issuing of unsolicited email to indicate or gain support for any religious or political purposes.
 - (x) connecting a modem to the University telephone network without authorization from the Executive Director: ICTS or his or her nominee;
 - (xi) use of a PC connected to the University network without running virus detection software.
5. Staff and students alike have a duty not to load the University's internet connection with private traffic unnecessarily.
 6. Violations of this policy will be handled in accordance with procedures established for staff or student discipline.

Language

Preamble: Our language policy takes as its starting point the need to prepare students to participate fully in a multi-lingual society, where multi-lingual proficiency and awareness are essential.

An important objective pertains to the development of multi-lingual awareness on the one hand, and multi-lingual proficiency on the other. Language and literature departments at UCT that teach South African languages other than English or international languages are expected to play a key role in exploring ways of assisting the UCT community to achieve such awareness and proficiency.

English is the medium of instruction and administration. English is an international language of communication in science and business, but it is not the primary language for many of our students and staff. A major objective is, therefore, to ensure that our students acquire effective literacy in English, by which we understand the ability to communicate through the spoken and written word in a variety of contexts: academic, social, and in their future careers.

Teaching and examinations: English is both the medium of teaching and of examination except in language and literature departments where another language is taught and may be used. This applies at all levels, and to dissertations and theses for higher degrees.

To further the objective of the promotion of multi-lingual awareness and proficiency, all academic programme convenors and teachers will be required, with the aid of language and literature departments, staff in the Centre for Higher Education Development, and CALSSA (The Centre for Applied Language Studies and Services in Africa), to explore and implement ways in which these aims may be achieved through the Undergraduate and Postgraduate Programme structures.

Admissions: All applicants, whether at undergraduate or postgraduate level, must have attained a certain level of proficiency in English and must be required to submit evidence of this as part of their application to study, as outlined below.

UCT language policy in respect of South African undergraduate applicants:

- Senior Certificate undergraduate applicants must have achieved a pass at 40% or more on the Higher Grade in English (First or Second Language).
- NSC undergraduate applicants must pass in English Home Language or First Additional Language.

UCT language policy in respect of applicants whose primary language is not English.

Such applicants are required to submit one of the following:

- a recent score (obtained within 3 - 5 years before application for admission) of at least 570 (paper-based test) or 230 (computer-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
- a recent overall band score of 7.0 (with no individual element of the test scoring below 6.0) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS); or, noting that this may only be written at certain designated venues within South Africa, a score of at least 65% on the university's Placement Test in English for Educational Purposes (PTEEP).
- on arrival at the University, all EFL undergraduate students will be required to write the PTEEP for placement, if necessary, in an academic literacy course or a mainstream course with an academic literacy component.
- These minimum levels of proficiency are subject to changes in the University Language Policy.

Administration: English is the language of internal governance and of administration. All English used must be clear and concise and gender-sensitive.

All administrative heads of department will be required, with the aid of language and literature departments, and CALSSA (The Centre for Applied Language Studies and Services in Africa), to explore and implement ways in which the aims of multilingualism awareness and proficiency may be promoted.

Racism and racial harassment

1. As a University we strive to provide a safe environment in which all our members are able to reach their full academic or other work potential.
2. As a South African university, we are committed to redressing past discrimination, and we will from time to time adopt specific strategies and policies to give substance to this commitment.
3. We wish specifically to address the problems posed by racism, racial discrimination and racial harassment, all of which prevent individuals against whom they are directed from reaching their full potential.
4. We use the following notes on race and racism, racial prejudice, racial discrimination, racial slurs and racial harassment as terms of our policy:
 - 4.1 Race is primarily a social construct in which individuals are classified into groups ("races") on the grounds of perceived heritable physical differences.
 - 4.2 Racism is intolerance of, and hostility to other people on account of their "race".
 - 4.3 Racial prejudice is the belief that a particular "race" (or group of "races") is inferior to another "race" (or group of "races") in respect of one or, usually, many qualities or attributes.
 - 4.4 Racial discrimination occurs when anyone is put at a disadvantage on the grounds of his or her "race" in respect of one or more (usually a whole set of) opportunities and rights in society.
 - 4.5 Racial slurs occur when a vocabulary is used which is recognised to be demeaning or insulting to individuals on account of their "race".
 - 4.6 Racial harassment is social behaviour that is intended to coerce, manipulate, intimidate, or take advantage of persons belonging to a particular "race" typically but not always in situations where unequal power and authority relations prevail between those who harass and those who are harassed.

Policy:

5. We affirm that:
 - 5.1 we will work towards the elimination of racism and racial prejudice in our corporate conduct and in the conduct of all our staff and students, and
 - 5.2 we will not tolerate racial slurs or harassment, we proscribe racial discrimination (except in those cases where University policy is formulated specifically to redress past discrimination), and will act against any manifestation or incidence thereof through staff or student disciplinary channels.

Remedies:

6. Anyone who feels that he or she is the victim of racial harassment or racial slurs or racial discrimination has the right to seek redress without prejudice. The procedure for dealing with complaints has two stages. The first stage is informal and the second formal.

Informal procedure:

7. A complainant may try to resolve the problem using the informal procedure. This involves discussion and/or mediation.
8. A complainant (student or member of staff) may wish to resolve the problem through discussion: for example, he or she may believe that the harasser is unaware that the behaviour is offensive and unacceptable.
9. There will be cases when discussion between the parties will present particular stress and difficulties. In these cases the complainant may seek the counsel, mediation and intervention of an appointed mediator. The appointed mediator has ten working days in which to provide help and seek a satisfactory solution. If there has been no resolution to the complainant's satisfaction within ten working days, the complainant may institute formal proceedings.

Access to mediators:

10. The Registrar will annually publicise, through appropriate campus media and publications, the names of mediators who will be available to students and staff. In addition the names of mediators may be obtained in confidence from the offices of the: Registrar, Director of Human Resource Management, Deans of faculties and Faculty Managers, Student Development and Services Department, Student Wellness Service and the Students Representative Council. The complainant has the right to choose from the list of mediators.

Confidentiality:

11. Records and complaints filed, action taken to remedy the problem, the names of those involved and the outcome, will be maintained by the appointed mediators. No record of the informal statement will be maintained on the personal files of the individuals. Mediators will report annually to the officer nominated by the Vice-Chancellor for this purpose.
12. Anonymous complaints will not be entertained or acted upon. The rights of complainants will be protected, as will the rights of those complained against.

Formal procedure:

13. This procedure may be followed in the first instance, or after informal attempts have been unsuccessful.
In either case the complainant should lodge a written complaint with the Vice-Chancellor's office.

The Vice-Chancellor, or nominee, shall thereupon:

- 13.1 call for a report from the mediator, if applicable;
- 13.2 invite the person complained against, if he or she wishes, to state his or her case in writing; and
- 13.3 refer the matter, if deemed appropriate, for disciplinary enquiry.

Appointment of mediators:

14. The Vice-Chancellor, or nominee, will be responsible for appointing a panel of mediators, and will attempt to recruit people from a wide range of university constituencies.
15. The Vice-Chancellor, or a nominee, will arrange for training of mediators for this purpose.
16. Mediators will usually be appointed for three years.
17. The Vice-Chancellor will nominate a person or persons from amongst the mediators who will carry the responsibility of bringing, where necessary, the panel's collective concerns and recommendations to the Vice-Chancellor's nominee.

[Note: this policy is under review, and may change during 2009.]

Referencing conventions and declaration regarding plagiarism

Senate requires:

- Academics for each course they teach, to prescribe a referencing convention, or to allow a student to choose from a set of referencing conventions prescribed by them (and, by implication, to teach this key academic literacy skill to junior students) when setting assignments; and
- all students to make and include a declaration each time they submit written work for assessment.

The standard declaration is as follows:

Declaration:

- 1 I know that plagiarism is wrong. Plagiarism is to use another's work and pretend that it is one's own.
- 2 I have used the convention for citation and referencing. Each contribution to, and quotation in, this essay/report/project/ from the work(s) of other people has been attributed, and has been cited and referenced.
- 3 This essay/report/project/..... is my own work.
- 4 I have not allowed, and will not allow, anyone to copy my work with the intention of passing it off as his or her own work.
- 5 I acknowledge that copying someone else's assignment or essay, or part of it, is wrong, and declare that this is my own work.

i Notes:

- i Individual academics and departments may adapt this declaration to suit particular needs, and may apply the rule with discretion.
- ii The declaration must be used for any substantial work that a student does unsupervised
- iii The declaration is neither suitable for reports submitted at the end of a three-hour science laboratory session, nor required in such cases.
- iv A suitably altered version should be used for students in first-year (Foundation) courses submitting an assignment before having been taught about referencing conventions.
- v The declaration must be used regularly. It is not sufficient to require students to sign the declaration on an annual basis. Students need to be constantly reminded. The onus is on academics to ensure that before work is marked, it is accompanied by a signed declaration in the standard form, or if the lecturer has provided one, in a contextually altered form.

Serving or selling alcohol on the campus by students

1. The University Council reserves the right to control and limit the serving or selling of alcohol on the campus.
2. The serving or selling of alcohol on the campus by students is governed by Rule RCS11.2, Rules on Conduct for Students.
3. At functions at which alcoholic beverages are served or sold, equal quantities of non-alcoholic beverages must be available.
4. At functions at which alcohol is served or sold at a function on the campus, the serving or selling of alcohol must cease at midnight on Fridays, Saturdays or days before University holidays, and 23h00 on any other day, provided that, where permission is granted for the serving or selling of alcohol, an earlier time may be stipulated by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor responsible or his or her nominee; and provided that the Deputy Vice-Chancellor responsible may in special circumstances grant permission for a function to continue beyond these times and for alcoholic beverages to be served or sold beyond these times for a specific function.
5. The University Council has authorised the application for liquor licences in respect of various venues on the campus. Where a liquor licence has been granted, particular rules apply.
6. The operation of residences pubs is governed by Rules R18 to R22 of the Residence Rules.

Procedures:

7. Any student or any student organisation wishing to serve alcohol at a function on the campus must obtain permission in advance (a) to hold the function and (b) to serve or sell liquor at the function. In addition, any student or any student organisation wishing to sell alcohol at a function on the campus must obtain a valid liquor licence for the function, once such permission has been granted.
8. An application form for permission to hold a function at which alcohol is to be served or sold and to serve or sell alcohol at the function is available from the booking office in the Planning Unit, the Director of Student Housing & Residence Life or the Director of Student Development.
9. The Deputy Vice-Chancellor responsible has delegated authority to the following officers to grant permission to serve or sell alcohol at a function, or to hold a function at which alcohol is to be sold on the condition that a valid liquor licence is obtained from:
 - (a) The warden of a residence in respect of:
 - (i) the semi-formal function of the residence concerned;
 - (ii) the formal function of the residence concerned; and
 - (iii) any function to be held in the residence concerned for fewer than 100 guests.
 - (b) The Deputy Chair of the Residences Committee in respect of:
 - (i) any function to be held in a residence for more than 100 guests;
 - (ii) any function to be held entirely or in part in the grounds of or parking lots adjacent to residences;
 - (c) The Executive Director: DSA in respect of any other function proposed by a student or a student organisation which is to take place on any part of the campus.
10. An application on the prescribed form should be submitted in writing in good time [preferably at least two weeks in advance] to the relevant officer indicated in 9 above.
11. In considering applications, the relevant officer will take into account arrangements made for the following:
 - (a) the proposed times for the function to begin and end;
 - (b) safety and security of persons and property of those who will be present;
 - (c) fire exits;
 - (d) booking of the venue;
 - (e) the need for Campus Protection Service officers and or/skilled sexual harassment monitors and counsellors to be present;

- (f) determining admissions criteria;
- (g) advertising on and/or off campus;
- (h) the number of persons (students and non-students) expected to attend the function and the capacity of the venue to accommodate them;
- (i) identifying students, those under the age of 18 and invited guests at the entrances to the function and at the place from which alcohol will be served or sold;
- (j) proper financial control;
- (k) preventing damage to property in the environs of the function venue;
- (l) preventing excessive consumption of alcohol;
- (m) maintaining reasonable PA and sound levels;
- (n) restoring the venue and the environs to the state in which they were found.

12. In considering applications, the relevant officer will be guided by the following:

- (a) The application must comply with the rules for times quoted in section 4. The application must stipulate the hours of the party;
- (b) The applicant must, where applicable, have made arrangements with Campus Protection Service, marshals should preferably be from the organisation or the residence concerned, and these marshals must be named;

The numbers of each of these must comply with the following criteria:

| Expected attendance | Less than 200 | 200-500 | Over 500 |
|----------------------------|----------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Campus Protection Service | 2 | 4 | 6 |
| Marshalls | 5 | 10 | 15 |
| Gender Initiative | 2 | 4 | 6 |

- (c) Campus Protection Service should concentrate on the surveillance of the peripheries;
- (d) The following venues require fences to be erected: Jameson Hall; Molly Blackburn Hall, Red and Yellow levels. It is strongly suggested that fences are erected at the following residences: Glendower residence; Forest Hill, Varietas, and University House. This should be left to the discretion of the warden;
- (e) Where admission is open to all students, there should be a guest register. In residences, all entries in the register must be supervised by a Campus Protection Service officer. Individuals who are not UCT students must be identified by a card-bearing UCT student and their particulars must be recorded clearly. UCT students must produce their student cards on admittance, or be accompanied by a card-bearing student, and his or her particulars must be recorded in the register;
- (f) The applicant must stipulate where the fire exits are at the particular venue or make arrangements for evacuation in the event of a fire emergency;
- (g) Evidence of a confirmed booking must accompany the application;
- (h) Student functions may not be advertised off UCT property;
- (i) The applicant must stipulate clearly what the financial arrangements are;
- (j) All precautions must be taken by the applicant to prevent damage to property;
- (k) Drunk and disorderly revellers should be escorted out of the party and due attention should be given to their safe return to their sleeping abode;
- (l) Reasonable sound levels must be maintained and consideration must be accorded to neighbours;
- (m) The venue and the environment should be restored to their original state.

13. If the relevant officer is satisfied that appropriate arrangements have been proposed, he or she will grant permission for the function to be held under specified conditions and will appoint a monitor (who will usually be an appropriately trained senior student) to ensure compliance.

14. The relevant officer may withdraw permission to hold or continue the function if any or all the specified conditions have not been met or are unlikely to be met timeously.

15. All functions at which alcohol is to be sold may commence only after a valid liquor licence has been obtained. While the South African Police Services require the University authorities to indicate their support for the holding of such functions, a student or student organisation wishing to hold a function at which alcohol is to be sold may seek a letter of support from the relevant officer. If the relevant officer supports the holding of the function and the selling of alcohol at the function, the student or student organisation must then make application for a liquor licence to the South African Police Services (Western Cape) and the magistrate's court in Wynberg, with this letter of support. It is the responsibility of the applicant to obtain this liquor licence.

16. The decisions of the warden or the relevant officer shall be subject to appeal to a committee consisting of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor concerned and a student appointed by the SRC with no direct interest in the event in question.

Functions on campus at venues which have liquor licences:

17. Some venues on the campus are licensed premises. The terms of the licence for each such venue are particular. The licence-holder is empowered to act within the limitations of the licence only. Should the licence holder wish to hold a function beyond the terms of the licence, or seek a temporary extension of the licence, the licence-holder must submit an application to the Executive Director: DSA. The above provisions in respect of functions then apply.

Functions off-campus:

18. Any student wishing to organise a function off campus in the name of a student organisation or an organisation associated with the University in any other way must obtain permission to hold this function if alcohol is to be served or sold.

Liability:

19. The organiser(s) of any function shall be jointly and severally liable for any damage caused as a result of the function.
20. The University shall not be liable for any:
 - (a) loss or expense incurred by any person resulting from the denial, withdrawal or modification of permission to host a function on the campus;
 - (b) loss or expense incurred by any person in making arrangements to host a function before permission is granted or denied; or
 - (c) any damage resulting from a function.

Breach:

21. Students are subject to disciplinary procedures. Breaches of rules and Council policy in relation to the serving or selling of alcohol will be referred to the responsible official for possible disciplinary action.

Sexual Harassment

Preamble

The University is committed to providing an institutional environment where all may pursue their studies, careers, duties and activities free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment constitutes serious misconduct, and will result in disciplinary action. The University will not tolerate sexual harassment.

The focus of the Policy on Sexual Harassment is on the prevention and management of sexual harassment in the University; it should be understood in the context: of other University policies and statements, including the policies on race and racism, and on sexual offences; of constitutional protections against discrimination; and of specific laws governing equality and labour practice (Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act 4 of 2000; Basic Conditions of Employment Act 75 of 1997; Labour Relations Act 66 of 1995).

The University is committed to ensuring that contractors providing services on the campus of the University adopt similar policies and make these binding on all their employees and agents; and to ensuring that all future contracts between UCT and third parties for the supply by the third party of services on campus will require this of contractors.

1 DEFINITIONS

- 1.1 ‘Alleged perpetrator’ means a person alleged to have committed an act of sexual harassment;
- 1.2 ‘Case Officer’ means the person assigned to present the University’s case in formal internal disciplinary proceedings, who may also be the person assigned to investigate the case ;
- 1.3 ‘CCMA’ means the Commission for Conciliation, Mediation and Arbitration;
- 1.4 ‘Complainant’ means a person who lodges a complaint under this policy, or a person against whom an act or acts of sexual harassment as defined in the policy has or have allegedly been perpetrated;
- 1.5 ‘Confidentiality’ means ensuring that information is accessible only to those authorised to have access to it;
- 1.6 ‘Employee disciplinary procedure’ means the disciplinary procedure that applies to a category of staff;
- 1.7 ‘Employee’ means an employee of the University or a person who has agreed to be bound by the rules and policies of the University relating to staff;
- 1.8 ‘PASS Staff’ means Professional Administrative Service and Support staff of the University;
- 1.9 ‘Manager’ means any employee of the university with managerial, supervisory or Warden’s responsibilities;
- 1.10 ‘RO’ means the Reporting Office, as may be designated by the Vice-Chancellor from time to time;
- 1.11 ‘Rules on conduct for students’ means the rules on the conduct of students adopted by the Council from time to time;
- 1.12 ‘Same-sex harassment’ means harassment where the alleged perpetrator and the victim are of the same sex;
- 1.13 ‘SAPS’ means South African Police Service;
- 1.14 ‘Serious misconduct’ means conduct as defined in the Employee Disciplinary Procedure and the Rules on Conduct for Students;
- 1.15 ‘Sexual assault’ means conduct as defined in the Sexual Offences Policy;
- 1.16 ‘Sexual harassment’ is unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature that violates the rights of a person. In determining whether conduct constitutes sexual harassment the following factors are to be taken into account:
 - (a) whether the harassment is on the grounds of sex and/or gender (regardless of the sexual orientation of either the complainant or the alleged perpetrator);

- (b) the impact of the sexual conduct on the complainant;
- (c) whether the sexual conduct was unwelcome;
- (d) the nature and extent of the sexual conduct.

Unwelcome sexual conduct includes behaviour that is perceived by the complainant as demeaning, compromising, embarrassing, threatening and/or offensive:

- (aa) the assessment of what is unwelcome should be informed by context, including culture and language;
- (bb) previous consensual participation in sexual conduct does not mean that the conduct continues to be welcome;
- (cc) when a victim has difficulty indicating to the alleged perpetrator that the conduct is unwelcome, the victim may seek the assistance and intervention of another person in order to make it clear that the conduct is unwelcome;
- (dd) some forms of sexual harassment are such that the alleged perpetrator should have known that the behaviour would be unwelcome.

Unwelcome sexual conduct includes physical, verbal and non-verbal conduct. Such conduct may be direct or indirect and may include technological devices, images and weapons. A single incident of unwelcome sexual conduct can constitute sexual harassment.

Unwelcome physical conduct ranges from touching to sexual assault and rape;

Unwelcome verbal conduct includes innuendos, suggestions or hints of a sexual nature, sexual advances, sexual threats, comments with sexual overtones, sex-related jokes or insults, graphic comments about a person's body, inappropriate enquiries about a person's sex life, whistling of a sexual nature and the sending by electronic means or otherwise of sexually explicit text;

Unwelcome non-verbal conduct includes gestures, indecent exposure and the display or sending by electronic or other means sexually explicit pictures or objects.

Sexual harassment may take the form of special victimization, quid pro quo harassment and the creation of a hostile environment.

- (i) Special victimization occurs when a person is victimized or intimidated for failing to submit to sexual advances;
- (ii) quid pro quo harassment occurs when an alleged perpetrator influences or attempts to influence a person's employment circumstances by coercing or attempting to coerce that person to engage in sexual activities;
- (iii) quid pro quo harassment occurs when an alleged perpetrator influences or attempts to influence the admission of a student to the University or to University residences by coercing or attempting to coerce that person to engage in sexual activities. Quid pro quo harassment also occurs when an alleged perpetrator influences or attempts to influence the access of a student to training, organizational or funding opportunities, or interferes in grading or evaluation, by coercing or attempting to coerce a student to engage in sexual activities;
- (iv) creation of a hostile environment occurs where the purpose or effect is to interfere with another's performance at work or in study.

1.17 'SHA' means Sexual Harassment Adviser;

1.18 'Student' means a registered student of the University or a person who has agreed to be bound by the rules and policies of the university relating to students; and

100 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

1.19 ‘University’ means the University of Cape Town.

2 THE ROLE OF MANAGERS

2.1. Every Manager shall take all reasonable steps to create and maintain an environment that is free from sexual harassment. In this regard managers are required to:

- (a) exercise leadership by knowing and understanding the terms of this policy, and by assuming responsibility for implementing the policy;
- (b) attend training and educational sessions on this policy offered by the RO;
- (c) communicate the policy to all employees, students and third parties in their respective areas of responsibility;
- (d) ensure that all new staff, students and third parties have been informed about the policy and given the opportunity to discuss its implications.

2.2 Every Manager shall take appropriate action when instances of sexual harassment occur and act in accordance with the reporting and disciplinary processes laid down in this policy. In this regard managers are required to:

- (a) treat all complaints as confidential and all concerned with dignity and respect;
- (b) refer all complaints to the RO;
- (c) when conduct in breach of this policy is observed but no complaint is lodged, report the matter to the RO;
- (d) when appropriate, take steps in consultation with the RO to prevent sexual harassment from occurring.

3 COMMUNICATION

3.1 The University shall take all reasonable steps to communicate this policy to all employees, students and third parties on a regular basis and to raise awareness about the need to prevent sexual harassment.

3.2 The University shall make this policy available on its Web pages, and provide regular and current information on its implementation via its Web pages.

3.4 The Deans shall:

- (a) communicate regularly by written and oral means the seriousness of the issue and the existence of this policy and its salient features to employees, students and third parties within their Faculties;
- (b) communicate regularly with Heads of Departments (HODs) and all other managers in the Faculty concerning their responsibilities in the implementation of this policy.

3.5 The Executive Director, Student Affairs shall:

- (a) communicate regularly by written and oral means the seriousness of the issue and the existence of this policy and its salient features to employees, students and third parties within the residences of the University;
- (b) communicate by written and oral means the contents of this policy to the Students' Representative Council (SRC).

3.6 The RO shall:

- (a) provide the Communication and Marketing Department with information that will enable the University community to be informed regularly about the implementation of this policy;
- (b) send an e-mail to all employees, students and third parties at least once a year informing them about this policy;
- (c) report annually to the Vice-Chancellor about the effectiveness of communication of this policy.

4 EDUCATION AND TRAINING

- 4.1 Continuing education and training are necessary to ensure that employees, students and third parties are aware of the contents of this policy and are able, as appropriate, to implement it and to prevent sexual harassment.
- 4.2 Within three months of the adoption of this policy, all existing staff of the RO shall be trained appropriately.
- 4.3 Within three months of the adoption of this policy, the RO shall appoint and train SHAs. This training shall be repeated for new SHAs and new members of the staff of the RO within the first three months of each calendar year.
- 4.4 In addition to initial training, all SHAs shall attend update training sessions at least annually.
- 4.5 Within six months of the adoption of this policy the RO shall present workshops on this policy that will be available for the senior leadership of the University, heads of academic and PASS departments, staff in the Human Resources Department, and Campus Protection Services. Staff representative bodies and the SRC shall be entitled to nominate representatives to attend workshops offered by the RO. The RO shall repeat the programme of workshops annually. The RO shall integrate this policy into staff induction and student orientation programmes.

5 THIRD PARTIES

While the University has no jurisdiction over third parties who are neither students nor employees of the University, the University intends that this and related policies will be upheld and respected by all who work at, or visit, the University or who take part in the University's activities at any location. Visitors who are neither registered at the University as students nor employed by the University may be invited to and may agree to abide by the rules and conditions for students and staff. Any individual agreeing to abide by student and staff rules and conditions will be deemed to have consented to be subject to the University's disciplinary jurisdiction. Where such third parties are not subject either to the rules or procedures for staff or students, or the provisions of the Code of Conduct, the RO will keep a record of complaints and reported violations of this and related policies, and will report these to appropriate procurement offices so that the information can be taken into account in considering whether to continue to contract for services.

6 THE ROLE OF THE REPORTING OFFICE

- 6.1 The RO's shall provide a comprehensive sexual harassment response for the University. This will include the provision of supportive and protective measures to complainant, whether or not disciplinary proceedings are instituted.
- 6.2 Supportive measures may include, but are not limited to:
 - (a) crisis counselling;
 - (b) emergency medical services, para-legal advice and other relevant services;
 - (c) measures to mitigate the impact of sexual harassment or the reporting thereof upon the complainant.
- 6.3 Protective measures may include, but are not limited to:
 - (a) no-contact orders, where appropriate;
 - (b) change of University student residence, where appropriate;
 - (c) change of academic classes and academic concessions, where appropriate;
 - (d) special leave (staff) or leave of absence (students), where appropriate.
- 6.4 While the primary aim of this policy is to assist complainants who allege sexual harassment, an alleged perpetrator may at any stage approach the RO for advice on the application and interpretation of this policy. In such instances the RO shall:
 - (a) provide the alleged perpetrator with a copy of this policy and of the

102 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

- University's disciplinary rules;
- (b) advise the alleged perpetrator of her/his right to obtain legal representation and of the availability of counselling;
- (c) advise the alleged perpetrator that the University may choose to follow the University disciplinary rules even if the complainant does not wish to do so;
- (d) explain to the alleged perpetrator the protective measures available to the complainant.

7 SEXUAL HARASSMENT ADVISORS

- 7.1 The RO shall appoint and train SHAs, drawn from employees of the University,
- 7.2 A SHA shall have the following responsibilities:
 - (a) to receive complaints of sexual harassment from the RO;
 - (b) in consultation with the Case Officer, to assist, support, consult and liaise with complainants, alleged perpetrators and those initiating complaints into sexual harassment;
 - (c) to provide reports and records to the RO on all referred cases;
 - (d) to represent the best interests of a complainant, or alleged perpetrator in formal communications with the RO where such representation is required;
 - (e) to liaise with the case officer in relation to responsibilities that may arise from disciplinary hearings;
 - (f) to support the educational work of the RO where practical and reasonable.
- 7.3 The SHAs should, as a group, be diverse in terms of gender, race and background.
- 7.4 While a complainant will be entitled to ask that another SHA be assigned to his or her case every effort should be made to ensure that the same SHA deals with the case throughout.
- 7.5 The RO shall:
 - (a) provide general support and guidance to the SHAs;
 - (b) monitor cases;
 - (c) ensure that the SHAs are appropriately trained.

8 ADVISORY PANEL

- 8.1 With respect to any report of sexual harassment made under this policy ,or in general the RO may appoint an Advisory Panel to assist the RO with information, suggestions and expertise.
- 8.2 An Advisory Panel may consist of the following persons:
 - (a) the SHA representing a complainant or victim;
 - (b) the Case Officer assigned to the complainant or victim;
 - (c) a representative of the Dean of Student Affairs, if the complainant or alleged perpetrator is a student;
 - (d) a representative of the Executive Director Human Resources, if the complainant or alleged perpetrator is a staff member;
 - (e) a person, not necessarily a staff member of the University, with expert knowledge in the field.
- 8.3 The Advisory Panel may not make decisions on behalf of a complainant nor give advice in a manner that might be construed as prescriptive or unduly influencing by the complainant.

9 RESPONSE TO A COMPLAINT

- 9.1 Complaints of sexual harassment must be brought to the attention of the RO as soon as is reasonably possible.

- 9.2 If a complaint is brought to the attention of a manager, the manager shall notify the RO immediately.
- 9.3 Sexual harassment may be brought to the attention of the RO by the complainant or any other person aware of the sexual harassment. However, if the incident is of a serious nature, the complainant is encouraged to inform the RO in person.
- 9.4 Any complaint of sexual harassment will be recorded in writing by the RO and will be assigned to a case officer. The case officer will manage the complaint.
- 9.5 The RO will also assign an appropriate and available SHA to the case
- 9.6 The steps to be taken by the case officer on receipt of a complaint should include, but are not limited to, the following:
- (a) advise the complainant that there are formal and informal procedures which can be followed;
 - (b) explain the formal and informal procedures to the complainant;
 - (c) advise the complainant that he/she may choose which procedure should be followed by the University;
 - (d) advise the complainant that the SHA assisting him or her may not be called as a witness during any formal procedure;
 - (e) reassure the complainant that she or he will not face any adverse consequences in choosing to follow either the formal or informal procedure;
 - (f) advise the complainant that he or she is not bound by the outcome of the informal procedure and will have the right to appeal directly to the VC within seven days of the conclusion of that process;
 - (g) advise the complainant that the matter will be dealt with confidentially;
 - (h) if applicable, advise the complainant that no negative inference on his/her credibility will follow as a result of late reporting;
 - (i) provide the complainant with information about counselling available as well as information on how to access independent counselling services;
 - (j) in appropriate circumstances, advise the complainant of her or his right to refer the matter to the SAPS and obtain further legal advice outside the University.
- 9.7 If a complainant, after consultation with the SHA, does not wish to pursue the matter, and the complaint is judged by the RO to be of a serious nature, the RO must refer the matter to an Advisory Panel. The RO, in consultation with an Advisory Panel, shall consider all relevant information, including but not limited to the following:
- (a) the risk to other persons in the University;
 - (b) the severity of the sexual harassment;
 - (c) the history of the alleged perpetrator with regard to previous cases and complaints of sexual harassment.
- 9.8 If it appears to the RO and the Advisory Panel that there is a significant risk of harm to other persons, they may advise the Case officer to follow a formal procedure, irrespective of the wishes of the complainant. In such an event the complainant must be advised accordingly and the RO, in consultation with the Advisory Panel, must prepare a written recommendation to the Vice-Chancellor. The recommendation shall include (but not be limited to) the following:
- (a) a description of the alleged sexual harassment or assault;
 - (b) the complainant's reasons for his/her unwillingness to pursue the matter further or to be called as a witness;
 - (c) compelling reasons in support of a formal procedure.

10 INFORMAL PROCEDURES

- 10.1 An informal procedure is a process, managed by the RO, in which relationships

104 UNIVERSITY POLICIES

- between complainant and alleged perpetrator(s) are explored with the consent of both, the aim of which is to reach resolution of a complaint in a manner that is satisfactory to all complainant and alleged perpetrator(s).
- 10.2 The complainant has the right to pursue formal proceedings after the conclusion of informal proceedings. The choice to pursue informal proceedings shall not in any way diminish the force of the original complaint.
- 10.3 The alleged perpetrator has the right to refuse participation in informal proceedings, and may exercise this right during any stage of the informal process. No negative inference shall be drawn from refusal to consider, participate or withdraw from the informal process.
- 10.4 An informal procedure may be followed by a formal procedure if the RO in consultation with an Advisory Panel believes that there are compelling reasons for this as specified in paragraph 9.
- 10.5 In an informal procedure only the following information is recorded:
- (a) the fact that the informal procedure took place;
 - (b) the names of the participants;
 - (c) the date, time and location of the alleged incident;
 - (d) the outcome of the informal procedure.
- 10.6 Informal proceedings require the written consent of both the complainant and the alleged perpetrator, and
- (a) the availability and implications of informal proceedings shall be explained to the complainant by the appointed SHA, before such proceedings;
 - (b) with the consent of the complainant preparatory interviews with the alleged perpetrator may be held in the absence of the complainant and with any other person or persons that may provide information to assist with the informal process;
 - (c) the structure, procedure and facilitation of any informal procedure will be agreed upon beforehand by the case officer, complainant alleged perpetrator and SHA.
- 10.7 The informal procedure may include
- (a) an approach to the alleged perpetrator with or without revealing the identity of the complainant (depending on the choice of the complainant) with information that certain forms of conduct constitute sexual harassment;
 - (b) a discussion where the objective is to give the alleged perpetrator an opportunity to apologise. The terms, conditions and acceptance of such an apology will be facilitated by the case officer and SHA;
 - (c) the presentation of the case in confidence to a group of not more than four persons (including the case facilitator), to consider suggestions and to make recommendations that may achieve a resolution based on agreement between the alleged perpetrator and the complainant. The choice of participants in the discussion will be at the discretion of the case officer in consultation with the SHA.
- 10.8 Every endeavour must be made to conclude the informal procedure within fourteen days of the incident being reported to the RO.
- 10.9 Strict confidentiality regarding the process, participants and report will be maintained throughout this process.
- 10.10 No part of the informal procedure may be used as evidence in a subsequent hearing following the outcome of this process.

11 FORMAL PROCEDURES

- 11.1 A complainant may choose to initiate formal proceedings, either with or without first following an informal procedure. The purpose of formal proceedings is to test the complainant's allegations through the disciplinary process.

- 11.2 If a complainant, following an informal procedure that does not result in a mutually acceptable outcome, does not wish to follow a formal procedure, the case officer will establish whether the complainant requires any further advice or support as contemplated in (the section dealing with the RO).
- 11.3 If the complainant wishes to proceed with a formal procedure, he or she shall advise the case officer of this, and prepare and sign a written statement providing full particulars of the alleged sexual harassment.
- 11.4 The formal processes for the presentation of the complainant's case within University Disciplinary Processes for staff and for students will be initiated through the RO.

12 NO-CONTACT ORDERS

- 12.1 A no-contact order is intended to protect a complainant from sexual harassment, or the possibility of sexual harassment, whether or not a formal disciplinary process is instituted or contemplated.
- 12.2 A no-contact order (a) for staff is issued by the Vice-Chancellor or nominee after considering the recommendation of the RO, following the procedures laid down for this; (b) for students, by the Vice-Chancellor or his or her nominee in terms of the provisions of the rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures (DJP). Rule DJP 3.1 is hereby amended to allow such an order where there are grounds for an order to protect a complainant from sexual harassment whether or not there is an allegation of a breach of the student code, and to allow for such a no contact order to be valid for an initial period of up to six months and (c) for an employee of a contracted-in third parties is issued by line management of the contractor following the procedure laid down for this by the third party.
- 12.3 The issuing of a no-contact order does not, in itself, imply guilt on the part of an alleged perpetrator.
- 12.4 A no-contact order (a) for staff is valid for an initial period of not more than six months and may be renewed by the Vice-Chancellor or nominee, after consultation with the RO and after consultation with the complainant, and after hearing the alleged perpetrator, until the Vice-Chancellor or nominee deems it is no longer necessary or any disciplinary hearing has been concluded; (b) for students is for such period or periods as is determined under the DJP rules.
- 12.5 The terms of a no-contact order may vary depending on the circumstances of the case. The terms of a staff no-contact order may be varied by Vice-Chancellor or nominee either after appeal by the staff member or after a recommendation by the RO.
- 12.6 Violation of a no-contact order constitutes serious misconduct and may be subject to disciplinary action.

13.1 Students

Where the formal procedure is to be followed the RO will report the matter to the Vice-Chancellor's nominee in terms of Rule DJP1.1 and the matter will be dealt with in terms of the DJP rules. The RO will provide such assistance to the Vice-Chancellor's nominee and the case officer appointed to present the case to the Tribunal as they may require. The Powers of the Tribunal are hereby extended to permit University Student Disciplinary Tribunal acting in terms of Rule DJP 5 to include in any sanction a no-contact order of such duration as it may decide.

The Senior Proctor will ensure that proctors are trained to handle sexual harassment matters and will not assign a case to a proctor who has not been so trained.

13.2 Staff

Where the formal procedure is to be followed the existing negotiated or approved disciplinary procedures for staff will be used. The procedures for academic staff are under revision, but will be used until revised. Revisions to the negotiated procedures may be proposed in the near future, but until any negotiations on these have been completed the existing procedures will be used. Management representatives must consult the RO before instituting disciplinary action for sexual harassment. The RO shall assist the management representative where this assistance is required. For PASS staff Line Managers shall ensure that the line manager appointed to chair the disciplinary committee has been trained to handle sexual harassment matters.

13.3 Employees or agents of contracted-in Third parties

Where the formal procedure is to be followed the disciplinary procedures agreed between the University and the contracting-in third party will be used by the contracting-in third party. The RO will offer such assistance to the management of the third party concerned as may be required.

Sexual Offences

Preamble

The University is committed to providing an institutional environment where all may pursue their studies, careers, duties and activities in an atmosphere free of any threat of unwelcome sexual attention. Rape and sexual assault constitute serious misconduct and will result in disciplinary action. The University will not tolerate rape or sexual assault.

The University is committed to ensuring that contractors providing services on the campus of the University adopt similar policies and make these binding on all their employees and agents; and to ensuring that all future contracts between UCT and third parties for the supply by the third party of services on campus require this of contractors.

The University recognises:

- the spirit of South African law relating to sexual offences;
- the spirit of South African law relating to sexual offences;
- that women are particularly vulnerable to rape and sexual assault;
- that women are particularly vulnerable to rape and sexual assault;
- the high incidence of rape in South Africa and the higher risk of acquaintance-rape in a university context;
- the connection between the transmission of HIV and rape;
- that the University's role is to ensure a safe learning and working environment for its community, while the criminal justice system aims to protect society generally;
- the reluctance of complainants of sexual assault and rape to lay criminal charges;
- that the University has a positive duty to respond to reports of sexual assault or rape which come from or relate to its members;
- that the University has a positive duty to respond to reports of sexual assault or rape which come from or relate to its members;
- that the University has a positive duty to respond to reports of sexual assault or rape which come from or relate to its members;
- that whether or not a complainant chooses to lay charges with the criminal justice system relating to rape or sexual assault, the University has the right to take action, among other reasons because of the substantive difference between the criminal justice system and the procedures created under this policy.

It is the purpose of this policy to:

- deter rape and sexual assault;
- encourage the reporting of such incidents;
- provide for a comprehensive complainant-centred rape and sexual assault response;
- regulate procedures for addressing violations of this policy; and
- better inform the University community about rape and other forms of sexual assault.

To this end the University is committed to applying systems and structures through which rape or any other form of sexual assault may be reported and dealt with sensitively, to working with the criminal justice system and to following the procedures set out in this policy fairly and consistently.

In this context the University's highest concern is for the emotional and physical well-being of rape and sexual assault complainants and victims.

The focus of this policy is the management of rape and sexual assault; it should be understood and implemented in the context of other relevant University policies and statements, including those related to sexual harassment and racism; and it should be understood that one act may be in conflict with more than one University policy or rule, may constitute more than one disciplinary offence and may be dealt with accordingly.

In accordance with our commitment to deal decisively with rape and sexual assault occurring in the University community, any such act will be met with the strongest available sanctions, following due process which ensures fairness to all involved.

1 DEFINITIONS

- 1.1 ‘CJS’ means the criminal justice system.
- 1.2 “Case officer” means the person assigned to present the University’s case in formal internal disciplinary proceedings, who may also be the person assigned to investigate the case;
- 1.3 ‘Complainant’ means any person alleging a rape or sexual assault, whether he or she is a member of the University or not;
- 1.4 ‘Consent’ means free and informed agreement between the parties to participate in a sexual act. In deciding whether such agreement was present at the time of the alleged violation of this policy the University will be guided by considerations, which may include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - a) Parties must be able to communicate and agree on the type of sexual activities that will be shared. Either party has the right to change her/his mind, at any time, and is responsible for communicating that change.
 - b) It is the responsibility of the person who initiates any type of sexual activity to obtain the other person’s consent.
 - c) Consent to one type of sexual act does not necessarily imply consent to other forms of sexual activities.
 - d) Silence does not imply consent.
 - e) A previous or present sexual or other relationship between the parties does not imply consent.
 - f) Consent is not implicit in a person’s manner of dress.
 - g) Accepting a social invitation is not consent, nor does it imply consent.
 - h) Consent will not be effective when it is obtained, or perceived to be obtained, from a person whose capacity to consent is diminished;
- 1.5 ‘CPS’ means Campus Protection Services;’
- 1.6 ‘No-Contact Order’ means a protective measure issued by the University to prohibit the alleged perpetrator from coming into contact with the complainant;
- 1.7 ‘Alleged Perpetrator’ means a person alleged to have committed a rape or sexual assault;
- 1.8 ‘Sexual assault’ means an unlawful and intentional act of sexual contact with another person without that person’s consent;
- 1.9 ‘Rape’ means an unlawful and intentional act of sexual penetration with another person without that person’s consent, specifically including:
 - i acquaintance, spousal and date rape;
 - ii where the complainant submits or is subjected to an act of sexual penetration as a result of:
 - 1. the use of force or intimidation by the alleged perpetrator against the complainant, another person or the property of these persons;
 - 2. a threat of harm, real or perceived, by the alleged perpetrator against the complainant, another person or the property of these persons;
 - 3. an abuse of power or authority such that the complainant is inhibited from expressing her/his resistance or unwillingness to participate in the act;
 - 4. false pretences or by fraudulent means;
 - 5. the inability of the complainant to appreciate the nature of the act of sexual penetration, including where the complainant is at the time of the commission:
 - i) asleep or unconscious;

- ii) in an altered state of consciousness, including, but not limited to, under the influence of any medicine, drug, alcohol or other substance, to the extent that her/his ability to consent is adversely affected;
 - iii) mentally disabled;
 - iv) a child below the age of 12 years.
- 1.10 'The RO' means the Reporting Office, as may be designated by the Vice-Chancellor from time to time;
- 1.11 'SAPS' means the South African Police Service;
- 1.12 'Sexual penetration' means an act which causes penetration to any extent by the penis or an object used by the alleged perpetrator into the anus, mouth or vagina of the victim;
- 1.13 'SRC' means the Students' Representative Council;
- 1.14 'Staff' means an employee of the University or a person who has agreed to be bound by the rules and policies of the University relating to staff;
- 1.15 'Student' means a registered student of the University or a person who has agreed to be bound by the rules and policies of the university relating to students; and
- 1.16 The University' means the University of Cape Town.

2 JURISDICTION

This policy applies to staff and students and to any act of rape or sexual assault by a staff member or student on or off the campus of the University.

This policy applies to any complainant alleging rape or sexual assault by a staff member or a student, whether the complainant is a staff member or student or not.

While the University has no jurisdiction over third parties (those who are neither students nor employees of the University) the University intends that this and related policies will be upheld and respected by all who work at, or visit, the University or who take part in the University's activities at any other location. Visitors who are neither registered at the University as students nor employed by the University may be invited to and may agree to abide by the rules and conditions for students and staff. Any individual agreeing to abide by student and staff rules and conditions will be deemed to have consented to be subject to the University's disciplinary jurisdiction. Where such third parties are not subject to the rules or procedures for staff or students, or the provisions of the Code of Conduct, the RO will keep a record of complaints and reported violations of this and related policies, and will report these to appropriate procurement office so that the information can be taken into account in considering whether to contract for services.

3 GENERAL PROVISIONS

- 3.1 A student or staff member of the University who commits rape or sexual assault is in violation of this policy.
- 3.2 The University will treat all reports of rape as confidential and all complainants and victims with respect and dignity.
- 3.3 The University will endeavour to ensure the safety, health, dignity and well-being of any complainant.
- 3.4 Complainants are not required to pursue a public prosecution or a University disciplinary process solely on the basis that they have reported an incident of rape to SAPS or the University.
- 3.5 University action upon a complaint will be independent of the initiation or outcome of criminal proceedings.
- 3.6 The University will deal with all cases expeditiously.
- 3.7 The University will record all decisions taken under this policy and will keep comprehensive, up-dated and accurate information on all reported incidents of rape and sexual assault.

- 3.8 The University will ensure that the RO remains accessible to all in need of support services.
- 3.9 This policy prohibits retaliation against individuals for bringing a rape complaint.
- 3.10 A rape or sexual assault may also constitute an act of sexual harassment. In such cases the complaint may be dealt with under both policies. Under no circumstances, however, will a complaint of rape or sexual assault be dealt with solely under the sexual harassment policy.
- 3.11 The University shall conduct appropriate rape response training.
- 3.12 The University shall review this policy regularly and ensure its wide distribution to members of the University community.

4 REPORTING AND FIRST RESPONSE

- 4.1 A complaint of rape or sexual assault made to any member of the University must be brought to the attention of the RO, as soon as is reasonably possible to do so. A Case Officer to whom a complaint is made must consult the RO before proceeding with the complaint.
- 4.2 Such complaint may be made in person, through a third party or anonymously.
- 4.3 Any member of staff must, at the scene of the rape or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible, or when an incident of rape is reported, render such assistance to the victim as may be required in the circumstances, and immediately notify the RO.
- 4.4 When an incident of rape has been reported, the complainant must be informed of the necessity of receiving immediate medical attention, including post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) for HIV, sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy. All reasonable efforts must be made to transport the complainant promptly to the Groote Schuur Hospital or other appropriate medical facility as determined by the RO.
- 4.5 Such immediate medical attention does not obligate the complainant to initiate criminal or disciplinary proceedings.
- 4.6 Delayed reporting by a complainant may not detract from the duty of the University to deal with the complaint in terms of this policy.
- 4.7 The RO will encourage and support the complainant in reporting all incidents of rape to SAPS.

5 FURTHER ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE

- 5.1 Once the RO has been informed of a report of rape or sexual assault, it must establish contact with the complainant and
 - a) assign an appropriate support person to the complainant;
 - b) ensure that s/he has received medical attention as stated in 4.4;
 - c) ensure that s/he has been informed of available crisis counselling;
 - d) ascertain whether s/he has made a complaint to SAPS and if not, encourage and assist her/him to do so.
 - e) provide an appropriate environment for the complainant to make her/his statement if such statement is necessary, and offer assistance in making the statement;
 - f) provide information on the criminal justice process and explain the support role that can be fulfilled by the support person of the RO;
 - g) inform the complainant about the differences between the criminal justice process and the University disciplinary process;
 - h) inform the complainant of her/his right to legal representation in disciplinary proceedings, and where requested, provide the victim with a list of appropriate legal representatives obtained by the RO from the Cape Law

- Society or Cape Bar Council;
 - i) inform the complainant of the possibility of University disciplinary proceedings and assure her/him that the support person or the RO may not be called as a witness during any such proceedings;
 - j) inform the complainant of the supportive and protective measures available to him/her;
 - k) provide a referral for the complainant to receive longer term counselling;
 - l) offer to maintain regular contact with the complainant through a schedule of regular meetings/email correspondence;
 - m) reassure the complainant that s/he will not face job loss (in the case of employees and part-time student employees) or any adverse consequences if she/he chooses to participate in disciplinary proceedings;
 - n) advise the complainant that she/he retains the right to decline to testify or otherwise participate in disciplinary proceedings initiated under this policy;
 - o) advise the complainant that the ultimate decision whether to institute disciplinary proceedings lies with the University, which may choose to follow a formal University procedure even if she/he does not wish to do so.
- 5.2 While the primary aim of this policy is to assist alleged victims of rape or sexual assault, an alleged perpetrator may at any stage approach the RO for advice on the application and interpretation of this policy. In such instances the RO shall:
- a) provide the alleged perpetrator with a copy of this policy and of the University's disciplinary rules;
 - b) advise the alleged perpetrator of her/his right to obtain legal representation and the availability of counselling;
 - c) advise the alleged perpetrator that the University may choose to follow the University disciplinary rules even if the complainant does not wish to do so; and
 - d) explain to the alleged perpetrator the protective measures available to the complainant

6 COMPREHENSIVE RAPE RESPONSE

- 6.1 The University, through the RO, will provide a comprehensive rape response to members of the University community. This response will include access to:
- a) advice and assistance;
 - b) supportive measures, including crisis counselling, emergency medical services, para-legal advice and other relevant services;
 - c) protective measures to mitigate the impact of rape or the reporting thereof upon the complainant.
- 6.2 The University's supportive and protective measures will be available to the complainant regardless of the institution of criminal or disciplinary proceedings.
- 6.3 Protective measures may include, but are not limited to:
- a) No-contact orders:
 - i. which are valid for an initial period of six months; and
 - ii. which may be reviewed and renewed until such a time as;
 - 1. the RO, after consultation with the complainant, no longer deems it necessary; or
 - 2. any disciplinary hearing has concluded;
 - iii. the precise terms of which may vary depending on the individual circumstances of the case.
 - iv. Where violation of a no-contact order constitutes serious misconduct subject to disciplinary action;
 - b) Change of University student residence, where appropriate;
 - c) Change of academic classes and academic relief, where appropriate; and/or
 - d) Special leave (staff) or leave of absence (students), where appropriate.

7 THE REPORTING OFFICE

- 7.1 In order to provide the maximum response, protection and support services, the RO will maintain its neutrality in all cases of rape.
- 7.2 The RO shall:
- a) establish protocol-based relationships with all relevant agencies which may include SAPS, the National Prosecuting Authority, Department of Social Development, Groote Schuur Hospital, and the UCT Law Clinic;
 - b) maintain at the RO updated referral lists and information on support groups and services active in the area, make these available on the UCT website and disseminate them on campus;
 - c) make and maintain a record of every reported case of rape or sexual assault;
 - d) make and maintain a record of all decisions taken under this policy;
 - e) ensure effective communication and dissemination of this policy.
- 7.3 With respect to any rape report made under this policy, the RO may appoint an Advisory Panel that may consist of the following persons:
- a) The RO support person assisting the complainant;
 - b) The Case Officer assigned to the matter;
 - c) A person representing the Executive Director, Student Affairs, if either the complainant or alleged perpetrator is a student;
 - d) A person representing the Executive Director, Human Resources, if either the complainant or alleged perpetrator is a staff member;
 - e) A person, not necessarily a staff member of the University, with expert knowledge in the field,
- 7.4 The RO shall encourage rape and sexual assault complainants to make an official report to the South African Police Service, but respect their right not to do so. Where the victim chooses to make an official report to SAPS, the RO will assist her/him in this respect, by
- where possible, arranging for an investigating officer from the relevant police station to come to the RO to take the victim's statement; or
- a) where possible, arranging for an investigating officer from the relevant police station to come to the RO to take the victim's statement; or
 - b) arranging University transport for the victim and a maximum of two support persons to go to the appropriate police station.
 - c) liaising with the police, prosecution services and victims to ensure that the case is, as far as is practicable, dealt with expeditiously.
 - d) with the consent of the victim, keeping duplicates of all important documents, including the victim's statement and the J88 (medico-legal report).
 - e) providing or referring the complainant to a suitable organisation for court preparation and support.
 - f) monitoring the progress of criminal proceedings and keep the complainant informed thereof.

8 UNIVERSITY DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

8.1 Students

The RO will report the matter to the Vice-Chancellor's nominee in terms of Rule DJP1.1 and the matter will be dealt with in terms of the DJP rules. The RO will provide such assistance to the Vice-Chancellor's nominee and the officer appointed to present the case to the Tribunal as they may require.

The Senior Proctor will ensure that proctors are trained to handle sexual offences matters and will not assign a case to a proctor who has not been so trained.

8.2 Staff

The existing (negotiated or Council-approved) disciplinary procedures for staff will be used. The procedures for staff are under revision, but will be used until revised. The RO must be consulted by the Case Officer. The RO will assist the Case Office (the management representative) where this assistance is required. For PASS staff Line Managers shall ensure that the line managers appointed to chair the disciplinary committee have been trained to handle sexual offences matters. For PICs and Committees of Inquiry, the Vice-Chancellor or nominee will where possible ensure that in constituting the panel the panel contains at least one person who has been trained to handle sexual offences matters.

8.3 Employees or agents of contracted-in Third parties

The disciplinary procedures agreed between the University and the contracting-in third party will be used by the contracting-in third party. The RO will offer such assistance to the management of the third party concerned as may be required.

Special relationships between staff and students

In formulating rules relating to relationships between staff and students, the University is concerned to protect the integrity of the academic process and to provide an environment in which all students may reach their full academic potential.

Special relationships (including, but not limited to romantic relationships, kinship, and relationships with a history of serious interpersonal conflict) between students and staff may undermine, or be perceived to undermine this integrity, and they may compromise fairness or objectivity, or be perceived to do so. (For example, the relationship of a staff member to, or with, a student may influence objectivity in assessment, or be perceived to do so; this will have negative consequences for the parties involved, and for other staff and students).

Members of staff should consider carefully the possible consequences for themselves and for the student before allowing a romantic relationship to develop.

Rules:

1. A member of the academic staff who has a special relationship to, or with, a student in the department of which he or she is a member shall disclose the relationship to the Head of Department; the Head shall keep a confidential written record of this, and report this to the Dean. A Head of Department who has a special relationship to, or with a student shall disclose this to the Dean, who shall keep a confidential written record of this.
2. Any member of staff who has a special relationship to, or with a student, which does or may involve a conflict of interests (i.e. that may compromise fairness and objectivity, or may lead to a perception that fairness and objectivity will be compromised) shall report it to the Dean of the Faculty in which the student is registered. The Dean shall keep a confidential written record of this.
3. The Head and/or the Dean shall take whatever steps are necessary to ensure that the academic process is not compromised, and that bias, or perceptions of bias, in dealing with students, are avoided.
4. Failure to report such a special relationship to, or with a student in terms of these rules constitutes a breach of conduct and any member of staff who contravenes the rules is liable to disciplinary action.
5. A Dean in such a position would disclose this to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor responsible.

Special relationships between staff members and between staff and applicants for UCT posts

Special relationships between members of staff, and members of staff and job applicants, may undermine, or be perceived to undermine employment integrity, and may compromise fairness or objectivity, or be perceived to do so. Special relationships may include, but are not limited to: romantic relationships; husband/wife; kinship; contractual or financial (i.e. where some form of agreement exists between two parties which may, for example, include nomination of a beneficiary or evidence that the relationship is of a long term nature built upon mutual dependency and trust such as a joint bank account, joint ownership of property, or long term cohabitation); and relationships with a history of serious interpersonal conflict.

Rules:

1. A member of staff who has any special relationship to, or with, a member of staff or job applicant in the department or section of which he or she is a member shall disclose the relationship to the Head of Department or Dean. In the case of a Head of Department who has a special relationship with a member of staff or job applicant the relationship must be reported to the relevant Dean, Director, Registrar, Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor or Council.
2. A member of staff who serves on a committee such as a selection committee, ad hominem promotions committee, or Preliminary Investigating Committee) and has any special relationship to, or with, a member of staff or job applicant who is the subject of discussion of the committee, shall disclose the relationship to the Chair of the committee. A Chair of a committee who has any special relationship to, or with, a member of staff or job applicant who is the subject of relationship to, or with, a member of staff or job applicant who is the subject of discussion of the committee shall disclose the information to the relevant senior authority.

3. The relevant authority, indicated in 1 or 2 above shall take whatever explicit steps are necessary to ensure that the integrity of the employment relationship is not compromised, and that bias and perceptions of bias, in dealing with staff and job applicants, are avoided. Such steps may include requiring the staff member to withdraw from the committee, or recuse himself or herself.
4. Failure to report such a special relationship to, or with a member of staff or job applicant in terms of these rules constitutes a breach of conduct and any member of staff who contravenes the rules is liable to disciplinary action.

Student computing microlabs

Rules relating to the use of University computing microlabs and University computer facilities:

- SCM 1.1 Access to microlabs is granted by the Dean or his / her nominee, in terms of the stated usage policy for that microlab.
- SCM 1.2 The University's microlabs exist first for teaching and learning activities which will always enjoy priority over other activities.

General rules:

- SCM 2.1 Neither food nor drink may be brought into a microlab.
- SCM 2.2 Animals, with the exception of guide dogs, are not allowed in the microlabs.
- SCM 2.3 A student may not make a noise, cause a disturbance, use a cellular telephone, hold meetings or demonstrations within a microlab, or behave in such a manner that would interfere with or impact negatively on study and research activities of microlab users. (See RCS7.14)

Student accounts:

- SCM 3.1 A student is responsible for his or her account and its password which must be kept secure and is responsible for any actions that take place from a computer logged in with his or her account.
- SCM 3.2 A student must log out prior to leaving the lab.
- SCM 3.3 A student may not give other people access to his or her account.
- SCM 3.4 No student may make use of any user account other than those they have been issued with by the University.
- SCM 3.5 Student accounts are not transferable.

Use of student microlabs:

- SCM 4.1 A student may not send a broadcast message.
- SCM 4.2 A student may not send unsolicited bulk e-mail. The definition of unsolicited bulk email (also referred to as "Unsolicited Commercial Email (UCB) or "Spam") is to mass-mail un-requested identical or nearly identical email messages. This shall exclude all messages sent for the purposes of legitimate research, teaching and learning activities.
- SCM 4.3 Tampering with the lab facilities is not permitted and specifically:
 - SCM 4.3.1 A student may not install or run any computer virus, worm or program on a microlab computer that may adversely affect the academic process.
 - SCM 4.3.2 A student may not tamper with microlab hardware, CMOS settings, software, the network, data or any UCT server.
 - SCM 4.3.3 A student may not attempt to open computers, access their components, or remove any part of a computer from a microlab.
 - SCM 4.3.4 Tampering with or circumventing access control and security systems are strictly forbidden.
- SCM 4.4 Use of the computer facilities by a student for financial gain, whether directly or indirectly, is prohibited.
- SCM 4.5 Playing of computer games is not permitted.

Penalties:

- SCM 5.1 Should a student contravene these rules, the Lab Administrator or his or her nominee may at his or her discretion apply the penalties listed below, or refer the case to the Vice-Chancellor to be dealt with under the Rules on Disciplinary Jurisdiction and Procedures.
- SCM 5.2 A student may appeal in writing against the decision of a Lab Administrator to the Dean of the Faculty or the Head of the Section responsible for the microlab.
- SCM 5.3 The Dean or his or her nominee may revoke a student's authorisation to use a microlab.

Penalties that a Lab Administrator or Dean may apply for to transgression of microlab rules

Teaching and Learning Charter

Mutual Commitment

Benefiting from the opportunities of education requires a mutual commitment on the part of both student and teacher.

Students should understand that, by accepting the offer of a place at the University, they undertake responsibility for their own learning. This requires that they attend classes, tutorials, practicals and other scheduled activities and prepare assignments to the best of their ability, handing in work on time. Students should be considerate to the needs of others in their behaviour in lectures and tutorials. They should act with honesty and integrity, ensuring that work that they hand in is their own, that all the sources that they use are properly acknowledged, and that they respect and follow the rules and procedures for formal examinations.

Good teachers bring enthusiasm, originality and flair to their work. Good teaching is best fostered in a collegial atmosphere where codes of practice provide a baseline standard for professionalism, rather than serving as a prescriptive and proscriptive list of requirements. While Heads of academic departments are formally responsible to Senate for teaching and learning in their departments, individual members of the academic staff are accountable for their contribution to the university's educational mission.

Teachers should understand that, by accepting employment on the academic staff of the University, they undertake to provide all reasonable assistance to students to enable them to succeed in their studies. This requires that they deliver lectures and other scheduled classes and make every reasonable effort to make alternative arrangements if they are unable to do so. Teachers should be available for student consultations at reasonable and clearly-advertised times, and should hand back student work timeously, and with appropriate comment. Teachers' expectations of students should be clearly set out in course outlines, available before the course starts. Required reading and other preparation should be clearly specified, and teachers should ensure that such materials are available to students in the Library, in text books that are available, and in authorized course readers. Methods of evaluation and assessment that will be used in the course must be defined and described in the course outline and followed in the course. Expectations of students in formal examinations must be set out, and such formal examinations must have a fair and reasonable relationship with the ground covered in the course.

Consequently:

Students should make a formal undertaking, as part of the process of admission to the University, to take responsibility for their own learning, to respect the requirements of the courses for which they register, and to take part in the academic life of the University with integrity and honesty.

Academic staff undertake to:

1. provide clearly written course outlines, setting out what is expected of students for the complete course, that are available well in advance of the beginning of the course, to allow students adequate time to prepare;
2. provide lists of required and recommended reading for courses, in advance of the beginning of the course, and to establish that this material is in the University Library, in local bookshops (by timeous submission of reading lists), or in course readers (with copyright clearance, and within agreed policy for course levies);
3. set out a clear and well designed system of assessment for the course, which defines what is expected of a student, and the relative value of different coursework, test and examination components; set clear and consistent DP requirements for courses, consistently enforced;
4. present lectures and tutorials in a clear manner, explaining technical terms where appropriate;

5. establish a fair and consistent approach to hearing requests for concessions and re-marking of assignments, and for leave of absence from lectures (where attendance is compulsory), tutorials and other class sessions;
6. adhere to an agreed and published timetable for lectures, tutorials and other teaching sessions, that respects the need of students to plan their class attendance and study time;
7. ensure that they, and other teaching staff involved in their courses, are available to meet with students at advertised office hours, and interact with students without discrimination or favoritism;
8. return work submitted for assessment within a reasonable period of time, with adequate and appropriate comments and other forms of evaluation, and ahead of formal examinations, so that students can incorporate feedback in their examination preparation;
9. ensure consistent marking of examination papers and, for large classes, effective moderation of examination marking by the lecturer concerned;
10. Organize a written evaluation for each course, allowing students to express their views freely and, if they wish, anonymously, and build on the outcomes of such evaluations in adapting the course for the future.

Postgraduate students have particular needs, and the relationship between postgraduate students and their supervisors is set out in a parallel policy, which should be read in conjunction with this Teaching and Learning Charter.

Details of this policy and the MoU between a postgraduate and his/her supervisor may be obtained from the postgraduate centre, Otto Beit Building.

The work environment

As a University we strive to provide a safe environment in which all our members are able to reach their full academic or other work potential. We will not tolerate any threat or act that interferes with an individual's performance at work or in study, or that creates an intimidating, hostile or demeaning work or study environment because of an individual's race, gender, beliefs or sexual orientation.

UCT Values

The University is a community of scholars, students and staff. A community implies the shared acceptance by its members of common values. The concept of values implies not only rights but also obligations, for the community itself and for its individual members.

This Statement of Values provides a framework that informs and governs what is considered by the University community to be appropriate and acceptable behaviour. The Statement also serves as the foundation for a range of University policies and guides the management of particular aspects of University life.

As a value-based community, we aspire to an encompassing ethos which:

- Promotes academic excellence and the attainment of the institutional goal of becoming a world-class African University.
- Preserves what is valuable in the history of the institution and of this country, and responds to the challenges posed by past injustices and unfair discrimination.
- Achieves social transformation, empowerment and participative governance.
- Affirms and protects the fundamental human rights enshrined in the Constitution.
- Encourages the institution and all its members to accept responsibility for the welfare of the community and for behaving in accordance with these community values.

Values:

We commit ourselves to:

- Truth, fairness, consistency, and integrity in both academic and other work, and in all personal and institutional relationships.
- Compassion, generosity and concern for the needs and aspirations of others, and in particular for the challenges faced by the less privileged in our society.
- Respect and tolerance for cultural, religious, political, and other differences and acknowledge of the value of diversity in society.
- Respect for individual privacy, dignity, and the right to personal choice.
- Intellectual honesty, vigour in debate, openness to alternative ideas and respect for other views, beliefs and opinions.
- Commitment to high standards, personal fulfillment and the pursuit of excellence.
- The protection and responsible use of the University's assets and resources.

Actions:

In the context of our recent history, we recognize the importance of affirming this ethos and promoting these shared values. Accordingly, we undertake collectively and individually:

- To promote and protect academic freedom.
- To oppose and take steps to prevent racial, gender or other forms of unfair discrimination, harassment, violence or abuse.
- To actively promote social justice and equity.
- To nurture a culture of learning which is supportive of students, scholars and teachers.
- To refrain from speech or conduct that demeans or humiliates others.
- To encourage our members to enjoy life, to laugh to love, to appreciate and take full advantage of the wealth of opportunities available to us in academic endeavour, in making friends, and in social, cultural and sporting activity.
- To advance the principle of open governance and to be fully accountable for our actions, decisions, and the stewardship of the University's resources and mission.
- To nurture and empower our members.
